Senate Committee on Ways & Means

Background:

Rulemaking Procedures Under the Administrative Procedures Act.

A rule or regulation is a written policy or procedure by a state agency that is generally applicable to a group of people, industries, activities, or circumstances. Agencies adopt rules under the procedural requirements established by the Washington Administrative Procedures Act (APA).

The APA's procedural requirements for rulemaking include: solicitation of comments on possible rulemaking prior to filing a notice of proposed rulemaking; preparation of a semi-annual agenda for rules under development; maintenance of a rulemaking docket containing a listing of each pending rulemaking proceeding; having copies of notices available for public inspection; notifying persons who have requested notification of proposed rulemaking; holding a rulemaking hearing; and accepting oral and written public comment.

An agency may not adopt a rule that is substantially different from the rule proposed in the published notice of proposed rule adoption or a supplemental notice in the proceeding. An agency must file with the Code Reviser a certified copy of all rules it adopts.

Emergency Rules Under the APA.

Under certain circumstances, an agency may adopt, amend, or repeal administrative rules without following the specified APA procedures. These emergency rules take effect upon filing with the Code Reviser, unless a later date is specified in the order of adoption. An emergency rule may not remain in effect for longer than 120 days after it is filed.

To adopt emergency rules, an agency must find good cause that:

This analysis was prepared by non-partisan legislative staff for the use of legislative members in their deliberations. This analysis is not a part of the legislation nor does it constitute a statement of legislative intent.

- immediate adoption of a rule is necessary for the preservation of the public health, safety, or general welfare, and observing the time requirements of notice and opportunity to comment upon adoption of a permanent rule would be contrary to the public interest;
- state or federal law, federal rule, or a federal deadline for state receipt of federal funds requires immediate adoption of a rule; or
- observing the time requirements of notice and opportunity to comment upon the adoption of a permanent rule would be contrary to the fiscal needs or requirements of the agency, if the rule is needed to implement budget requirements or reductions for fiscal years 2009-2011.

An agency must incorporate its finding and a concise statement of the reasons for its finding in its order adopting the emergency rule.

Summary:

The authorization to adopt emergency rules to address agency fiscal needs and requirements is extended. Agencies may adopt, amend, or repeal rules on an emergency basis to implement requirements or reductions in appropriations enacted in any budget for fiscal years 2009-2013.
