COMMERCIAL REAL ESTATE

Commercial real estate properties are an important part of the diversified asset portfolio that the Department of Natural Resources (DNR) manages on behalf of state trust land beneficiaries. Almost all DNR-managed commercial real estate benefits the Common School Trust, providing revenue for K-12 school construction projects across the state. Over the past decade, these properties have contributed approximately 9 percent of the total revenue generated for the Common School Trust.

DNR currently manages eight properties with commercial buildings, including retail businesses, commercial office buildings, and commercial warehouses, as well as 30 ground leases where DNR leases the state-owned lands, and the lessees own the improvements (buildings and other infrastructure) on those lands. These commercial properties are located across the state. In fiscal year 2018, the Department's Commercial Real Estate program generated almost $11 million. In addition, lessees pay leasehold tax to the local jurisdiction, providing revenue to municipal governments as well.

Appendix A identifies the Commercial Ground Leases and Appendix B identifies the Commercial Building Leases.

URBAN/TRANSITION LANDS

Some of the above commercial properties were acquired as developed pieces and others developed from the urban and transition properties within DNR's managed lands. The current Urban/Transition lands have been identified based on the goals and policies established in the 1988 Transition Lands Policy Plan (TLPP). The definitions within the TLPP are as follows:

Urban Lands: Land expected to be urban due to designation as "urban" by local land use plans; or authorization for commercial, industrial or residential uses by local government; or where capital improvements and services exist or are scheduled to be available.

Transition Lands: Land currently being managed for natural resource production that has characteristics indicating an opportunity for more efficient management or to obtain a higher economic return by the conversion of the land to another use.

The Commercial Real Estate (CRE) group currently manages 76 undeveloped properties across DNR's six regions. Currently, there are 41 properties identified as urban in nature and 35 properties identified as transition lands based on the TLPP. The CRE group annually reviews existing properties on the urban/transition lands list and works with region staff to identify new properties that should be added to the list. The CRE group works with local jurisdictions and reviews market data to determine which property entitlements will create a higher and better use and increase value for the Common School Trust or other beneficiaries. The length of this process is dictated partially by local jurisdictions and their planning processes and partially by market demand. Once entitlements are finished, the properties are ready for lease, direct sale, auction, or exchange with the ultimate goal of generating revenue for the Common School Trust.

Appendix C identifies both the Urban and Transition lands managed by the Commercial Real Estate program.
