Who may be a qualified provider of assistive technology? The provider of assistive technology must be an entity contracted with DDA to provide assistive technology, or one of the following professionals contracted with DDA and licensed, registered, or certified as:

1. An audiologist;
2. A behavior health professional;
3. A certified music therapist;
4. An occupational therapist;
5. A physical therapist;
6. A rehabilitation counselor;
7. A speech and language pathologist; or
8. A speech therapist.