EFFECT: Provides that the 80 percent reduction in annual net energy consumption that must be achieved for new buildings does not apply to the increased load for electronic vehicle charging. Clarifies that the statewide residential reach code may not require more annual renewable production than a residential building is required to use. Clarifies that the residential reach code must achieve the 70 percent reduction in energy consumption and greenhouse gas emissions for residential buildings in incremental steps by July 1, 2027.
