STYLE AND FORMAT OF THE WASHINGTON STATE REGISTER

1. ARRANGEMENT OF THE REGISTER

Documents are arranged within each issue of the Register according to the order in which they are filed in the code reviser's office during the pertinent filing period. The three part number in the heading distinctively identifies each document, and the last part of the number indicates the filing sequence within an issue's material.

2. PROPOSED, ADOPTED, AND EMERGENCY RULES OF STATE AGENCIES AND INSTITUTIONS OF HIGHER EDUCATION

The three types of rule-making actions taken under the Administrative Procedure Act (chapter 34.05 RCW) may be distinguished by the size and style of type in which they appear.

- (a) Proposed rules are those rules pending permanent adoption by an agency and are set forth in eight point type.
- (b) Adopted rules have been permanently adopted and are set forth in ten point type.
- (c) Emergency rules have been adopted on an emergency basis and are set forth in ten point oblique type.

3. PRINTING STYLE—INDICATION OF NEW OR DELETED MATERIAL

RCW 34.05.395 requires the use of certain marks to indicate amendments to existing agency rules. This style quickly and graphically portrays the current changes to existing rules as follows:

- (a) In amendatory sections—
 - (i) underlined material is new material;
 - (ii) ~~deleted material is ((lined out and bracketed between double parentheses))~~;
- (b) Complete new sections are prefaced by the heading NEW SECTION;
- (c) The repeal of an entire section is shown by listing its WAC section number and caption under the heading REPEALER.

4. EXECUTIVE ORDERS, COURT RULES, NOTICES OF PUBLIC MEETINGS

Material contained in the Register other than rule-making actions taken under the APA does not necessarily conform to the style and format conventions described above. The headings of these other types of material have been edited for uniformity of style; otherwise the items are shown as nearly as possible in the form submitted to the code reviser's office.

5. EFFECTIVE DATE OF RULES

- (a) Permanently adopted agency rules normally take effect thirty days after the rules and the agency order adopting them are filed with the code reviser's office. This effective date may be delayed or advanced and such an effective date will be noted in the promulgation statement preceding the text of the rule.
- (b) Emergency rules take effect upon filing with the code reviser's office unless a later date is provided by the agency. They remain effective for a maximum of one-hundred-twenty days from the date of filing.
- (c) Rules of the state Supreme Court generally contain an effective date clause in the order adopting the rules.

6. EDITORIAL CORRECTIONS

Material inserted by the code reviser's office for purposes of clarification or correction or to show the source or history of a document is enclosed in [brackets].

7. INDEX AND TABLES

A combined subject matter and agency index and a table of WAC sections affected may be found at the end of each issue.

PROPOSED RULES
DEPARTMENT OF
COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT

[Filed December 19, 1990, 4:18 p.m.]

Supplemental Notice to WSR 90-21-161.

Title of Rule: Chapter 365-190 WAC, Minimum guidelines to classify agriculture, forest, mineral resources, and critical areas.

Purpose: To adopt minimum guidelines to assist all counties and cities statewide in classifying agricultural lands, forest lands, mineral resource lands, and critical areas.

Statutory Authority for Adoption: RCW 36.70A.050.

Statute Being Implemented: RCW 36.70A.050.

Summary: SHB 2929, section 5, RCW 36.70A.050, requires the department to adopt minimum guidelines to assist all counties and cities statewide in classifying agricultural lands, forest lands, mineral resource lands, and critical areas.

Name of Agency Personnel Responsible for Drafting: Steve Wells, 9th and Columbia Building, Olympia, Washington, 753-4316; Implementation and Enforcement: Michael McCormick, 9th and Columbia Building, Olympia, Washington, 753-2222.

Name of Proponent: Department of Community Development, governmental.

Agency Comments or Recommendations, if any, as to Statutory Language, Implementation, Enforcement, and Fiscal Matters: The supplemental notice filed with the Office of the Code Reviser in regard to this matter is based on the following circumstances: The agency filed its proposed rules with the Code Reviser on October 24, 1990. The date for formal adoption of the rules was set for November 27, 1990. Prior to that time, the agency conducted meetings, workshops and other sessions around the state. Public comment was received and considered. The original deadline for submission and further public comment was November 5. This deadline was subsequently extended. Many new comments came in during the final period prior to the formal hearing which resulted in changes to the proposed rules. The agency is thus filing a supplemental notice of proposed rulemaking (RCW 34.05.340) at this time to allow for reopening the proceedings for public comment. It is anticipated that there will be a variety of groups participating in submitting comments. If further information is needed, interested persons should contact Steve Wells at the Department of Community Development, 9th and Columbia Building, GH-51, Olympia, Washington 98504, 753-4316.

Rule is not necessitated by federal law, federal or state court decision.

Explanation of Rule, its Purpose, and Anticipated Effects: The rule contains guidelines for classifying agricultural lands, forest lands, mineral resource lands, and critical areas which include wetlands, critical aquifer recharge areas for potable water, fish and wildlife habitat conservation areas, frequently flooded areas and geologically hazardous areas. The purpose of this rule is to provide minimum guidelines that assist all counties and cities in classifying these lands and areas. The anticipated effect should be a consistent classification of these lands and areas that also allows for regional difference that exist in the state.

Proposal Changes the Following Existing Rules: See Agency Comments above.

No small business economic impact statement is required for this proposal by chapter 19.85 RCW.

While a small business economic impact statement may not be required, in the interest of compliance with the intent of chapter 19.85 RCW one has been prepared.

SMALL BUSINESS ECONOMIC IMPACT STATEMENT

Introduction

On April 1, 1990, the Washington state legislature passed ESHB 2929, commonly referred to as the Growth Management Act. In passing the act, the legislature found that unplanned and uncoordinated growth poses a threat to the environment, economic development, and the quality of life of residents of the state. ESHB 2929 promotes cooperation among private and public entities in comprehensive land use planning. As part of the planning process, cities and counties are required to classify and designate undeveloped agricultural, forest, and mineral resource lands, and critical areas (such as wetland, geologically hazardous areas, and fish and wildlife habitat). Once the designation process is complete, cities and counties planning under ESHB 2929 will be required to adopt development policies that will conserve resource lands and prohibit development or land uses that are incompatible with critical areas.

To assist cities and counties in the designation process, the Department of Community Development (pursuant to section 5, chapter 17 of the act) has proposed, and must adopt, minimum guidelines for classifying and designating resource lands and critical areas. The minimum guidelines will be incorporated into the Washington Administrative Code (WAC) under its general policy and rule-making authority established by RCW 38.52.030(2) and 38.52.050(3). The proposed minimum guidelines provide a framework and guidance for cities and counties to use to classify and designate agricultural, forest, and mineral lands, and critical areas.

The purpose of this document is to assess the general economic impact of the proposed rule - establishing minimum guidelines for classifying and designating resource lands and critical areas - on businesses in Washington, as required under the Regulatory Fairness Act.

The Regulatory Fairness Act

The Regulatory Fairness Act (chapter 19.85 RCW), adopted in 1982 and amended in 1985, states that "it is the intent of the legislature that rules affecting the business community shall not place proportionately higher burdens on small businesses." It requires that "rules which have an economic impact on more than 20 percent of all industries or more than 10 percent of the businesses in any one industry be reviewed and altered to minimize their impact upon small businesses." In the legislation, "industry" is defined as any activity at the three-digit SIC (standard industrial classification) level, and "small business" is defined as one employing 50 or fewer employees.

For each rule with such an economic impact, the act also requires that a small business economic impact statement be prepared, which includes a description of the compliance requirements of the rule; a description of the kinds of professional services needed by a small business in order to comply; and, based on existing data, an analysis of the costs of compliance. The small business economic impact statement must evaluate whether the regulation places proportionately higher costs on small firms than on larger ones; if that is the case, the impact statement must propose mitigation (unless such mitigation would be illegal or infeasible).

The Regulatory Fairness Act applies to rules that have an economic impact. Rules that have a minor or negligible impact do not require a small business economic impact statement. A rule that is developed for the purpose of stating policy, procedure, organization, or practice and requires no action on the part of any business, in general, does not require an economic impact statement. The proposed minimum guidelines represent such a rule since actions are required of local government jurisdictions only.

The proposed guidelines, to the extent that they provide a framework to local governments for classifying undeveloped lands, have no immediate economic impact on businesses, do not directly affect industry, and do not cause increased costs to small businesses. A strict interpretation of the guidelines suggests that a small business economic impact statement may not be required. However, the purpose of designating lands is to provide a basis for subsequent development regulations or policies aimed at conserving resource lands and protecting critical areas. These subsequent regulations, because they have the potential to restrict, modify, or prohibit certain land use activities, could have an economic impact on businesses. Further, such economic impacts could affect more than 20 percent of all industries or 10 percent of the businesses in any one industry in Washington. Therefore, in anticipation and recognition of these future economic impacts, which are indirectly related to the proposed minimum guidelines, a small business economic impact statement has been prepared.

While the exact nature and extent of potential land use designations and regulations are not known, it is anticipated that they would affect the financial standing of businesses and individuals that must comply with them. In particular, firms that rely on the availability of vacant land for developing a product or service would most likely be affected by such regulations. Businesses or individuals owning or holding undeveloped land that becomes subject to land use regulations would also be affected. Given the potential range of compliance costs, including developing mitigation plans for specific land uses, obtaining outside professional services or legal counsel, or losing the ability to develop a parcel due to regulatory restrictions, it is likely that the relative impact on small firms will be greater on a per employee (or per $100 dollars of sales) basis than for a large firm.

Characteristics of Potentially Affected Firms

The analysis that follows is based on a subjective view of firms that could potentially be affected by the proposed guidelines and any land use regulations developed as a consequence of them. Because actual policies and regulations regarding specific land use classifications do not currently exist, the number and type of firms, as well as the costs associated with complying with such regulations, can only be discussed in a general manner.

Industries that Could be Affected

Using the most recent data available on industries classified by 3-digit SIC code (Washington Department of Employment Security, 1989), it was determined that potential land use regulations would not likely affect more than 20 percent of all industries, but would likely affect more than 10 percent of businesses and individuals within particular industries including agriculture, forestry, mining, banking and credit institutions, real estate, and private households. Hence, this small business economic impact statement is submitted. The probable three-digit SIC groups in which more than 10 percent of the firms would be affected are presented in Table 1.

The exact number, type, and size of firms, affected by potential land use regulations is unknown since specific policies do not currently exist. However, in 1988, there were approximately 15,472 private firms in Washington that might immediately be affected by potential land use regulations. These firms are grouped into 58 different 3-digit industry classifications and represent a broad range of resource based firms, development/growth-oriented firms, and businesses and individuals who own or hold land as an asset or for future development. Regulations that restrict or condition certain types of development, and that ultimately affect the cost (and value) of a particular parcel of land, will directly affect these groups of firms. It should be noted that there are potentially many other firms, both small and large, that are classified in other 3-digit industries that could be affected by potential land use regulations. For example, firms in retail trade, services, or manufacturing, because they own land or plan future expansions, may be affected by potential land use policies; however, because information on land ownership patterns is unavailable by industry classification, it is impossible to know the number and size of these other firms.

As might be expected, the majority of firms that would be affected by land use regulations (48 percent), are in growth or development-related sectors of the economy. The industries included in these sectors are construction, railroad transportation, pipelines, electric, gas, and sanitary services, and real estate. Firms that hold or own land, either for development or investment purposes, comprise 35 percent of all firms that might be affected. These firms are found in several sectors of the economy including depository and nondepository institutions, insurance carriers, holding and other investment offices, and private households. Resource-based industries comprise 17 percent of potentially affected firms. These industries include agriculture, forestry, fishing, hunting, and trapping, and lumber wood products.

Size of Firms That Could Be Affected

Size characteristics for firms that would likely be affected by potential land use regulations are shown in Table 1. The majority of firms reporting in the relevant SIC industries, nearly 97 percent, are classified as small businesses. Within the class of small businesses, nearly 57 percent are found in 3 industry groups, construction, real estate, and private households. The remaining 3 percent of all businesses are firms with more than 50 employees. Thus, there are proportionately more small firms in the industries that are likely to be affected by land use regulations developed in response to the proposed minimum guidelines than there are large firms. Therefore, it is likely that as local jurisdictions develop policies aimed at conserving or protecting resource lands and critical areas, the costs of complying with those policies will be borne disproportionately by small firms. It should be noted that there are potentially many more households that could be affected by land use regulations and therefore subject to this small business economic impact statement.

The Regulatory Fairness Act requires that the cost of compliance be compared between small firms and the largest 10 percent of firms required to comply with the regulation. The following sections discuss the potential costs facing firms that must comply with potential regulations that result from the process of inventorying and protecting resource lands and critical areas.

Mechanisms for Complying with Minimum Guidelines

The proposed minimum guidelines impose no reporting, recordkeeping, or other direct compliance responsibilities or costs on businesses. Rather, indirect economic costs are likely to arise once critical areas and resource lands are inventoried and delineated by local jurisdictions and subsequently become regulated. In particular, owners of undeveloped land who plan to develop, and whose parcels have been designated for protection under new regulations, may find that development of their parcel is limited or precluded. Existing regulations may already restrict development activity on some lands.

Because many different local jurisdictions will be using their own standards and policies in deciding how to implement protection of delineated critical areas and resource lands, and will make such decisions on a parcel-by-parcel basis, it is not possible to identify or quantify the full range of economic costs and impacts to landowning businesses. Instead, this analysis identifies some likely responses of businesses to the eventual delineation, and consequent protection, of currently undeveloped land.

The magnitude of impacts to businesses is likely to depend on a wide variety of factors. The three most important are: The location and characteristics of the specific land parcel, the site-specific requirements or restrictions (e.g., land use regulations) imposed by the local jurisdiction, and the ease with which a landowner may obtain a designation amendment.

Site-specific characteristics of interest include: Prospective use, size of parcel, percent coverage by delineation, relative value of the resource to be protected, tax status, land value under alternative uses, and adjacent land uses.

Individual jurisdiction's requirements for each parcel of land within a designated area are probably the most significant of the factors affecting landowning businesses. Requirements will vary greatly according to each jurisdiction's existing land use policies and interpretation of the proposed minimum guidelines. However, the regulation is not meant to be punitive. As stated in the proposed guidelines, "Classifying, inventorying and designating districts should not imply a change in a landowner's right to use his or her land under current law." Planning departments are expected to utilize innovative land management techniques in determining if, and to what extent, other uses will be allowed on designated lands. In addition, conflict resolution procedures are duly noted. Clearly, the intent of the proposed guidelines is to protect and conserve resources without imposing unreasonable burdens on the landowner.

From the landowner's point of view, the best case scenario would allow development as planned, with no restrictions. However, if development were subject to additional regulation, the next best alternative might be a relatively low cost mitigation plan (such as providing a buffer along a stream corridor). In contrast, the worst case could involve designation of 100 percent of an undeveloped parcel and a decision by the local jurisdiction not to allow development on any part of it. Such stringent restrictions might force a landowner to give up all development plans and sell the land. In extreme cases, forced sales of land held for development might so undermine or weaken a business as to cause its closure.

Between the illustrative best and worst cases is an entire range of compliance or response scenarios that could be experienced by Washington's businesses. These will be determined, as discussed, by the relationship of the specific site characteristics and the jurisdiction's interpretation of the guidelines and its regulations.

The third factor in determining the magnitude of economic impacts is the ease of obtaining an amendment to the designation. The proposed minimum guidelines specify that "procedures for designation should provide a rational and predictable basis for accommodating change. Designation changes are to be based on consistency with: A change in circumstances pertaining to the comprehensive plan; a change in circumstances beyond the control of the landowner pertaining to the subject property; an error in designation; or inability to manage for natural resource use because of adjacent or nearby incompatible land use activities."

However, each jurisdiction retains the power to review petitions for designation amendments according to its own standards, policies, and concerns. The documentation required to request, support, and obtain designation changes will vary greatly among cities and counties, as will the associated costs.

Having discussed the factors determining the magnitude of impacts on specific businesses, the analysis next identifies some likely responses of businesses to the implementation of the proposed minimum guidelines by local jurisdictions. These are not documentable or quantifiable responses, but are reasonable and logical actions likely to be taken by landowners with business interests in property subject to regulation.

During the required public participation period, the interested landowners or their representatives may attend meetings and workshops, write letters, speak to local officials or planners, or serve on advisory committees. They may maintain contact with the local jurisdiction until the designations are made. In addition, landowners could hire legal or technical representatives.

Once property is designated, owners wishing to develop a particular parcel affected by the designation may seek further clarification of their specific development rights, and further consultation with local government officials will be required.

Landowners may be allowed to develop as planned, develop with modifications, or may become involved in the purchase or transfer of development rights, fee simple purchase, less than fee simple purchase, purchase with lease-back, buffering, land trades, or conservation easements.

Thus, landowners will incur transactions costs (and may suffer loss in value) for selling, leasing, trading, or granting easements to their land, except in cases where their development rights are unaffected. Other costs may be anticipated as well. For example, if mitigation is allowed, a mitigation plan or report may be required. An owner seeking an amendment to a designation will have to conduct or (more probably) pay a consultant for a professional environmental or economic study and support documentation. These costs will vary directly with a parcel's site-specific characteristics and the local jurisdiction's standards for reviewing and interpreting them.

Affected landowners could make use of their own professional staff or retain the services of outside attorneys, environmental planners, landscape architects, engineers, economists, leasing agents, realtors, and developers in order to accomplish the tasks outlined above.

Costs of Compliance to Businesses

Because businesses may respond in a variety of ways and experience a broad range of impacts associated with changed development opportunities, this analysis does not attempt to itemize the cost of each of the potential business responses identified above (attending meetings, arranging for a land trade, establishing a buffer plan, etc.). Rather it compares the relative costs to be borne by large versus small businesses.

As previously stated, the cost of complying with the regulation depends upon site characteristics and the implementation decisions of specific local jurisdictions. Because compliance costs are independent of size, employment, or profits of an affected business, it follows that the regulation imposes a disproportional impact on small businesses. Logical reasoning implies that a large firm and a small firm owning identical properties in the same jurisdiction would incur the same costs to satisfy, for example, a mitigation requirement or transfer of development rights. However, the per employee cost to the firm with 30 workers would be greater than to the firm with 500 workers. It is, therefore, disproportional on a per employee basis.

Proposed Mitigation Measures

When an economic impact analysis shows that a rule places a disproportional burden on small businesses, the requirements of the rule need to be changed to reduce its economic impact unless mitigation is illegal or infeasible.

Two possible mitigation measures to reduce impacts to small businesses were considered. They are exempt small businesses from the proposed minimum guidelines; and establish a separate review process for jurisdictions evaluating property owned by small businesses.

The mitigative measures described above may be illegal or infeasible. Arguably, they could have the effect of amending the proposed minimum guidelines, contrary to legislative intent.

Conclusions

The proposed minimum guidelines for designating resource lands and critical areas and subsequent land use policies and regulations stemming from them could affect more than 10 percent of businesses in several industries at the 3-digit SIC level. The firms primarily affected would be those that are dependent on available unconstrained land for development, growth, or production. In addition, individuals and businesses that hold or own land for investment purposes (as an asset) could also be affected. The largest percentage of firms analyzed in this study are considered small businesses.

Once designation is complete, jurisdictions will be responsible for developing land use regulations and policies designed to conserve resource lands and protect critical areas. Individual jurisdiction's requirements for each parcel of land within a designated area are probably the most significant of the factors affecting landowning businesses. The potential compliance costs of meeting these requirements could range from relatively low (e.g., for developing a mitigation plan) to prohibitive (e.g., legal restrictions that prohibit development). Specific costs would depend on specific site characteristics and the implementation requirements of local jurisdictions.

It is assumed that compliance costs would be independent of the size, employment, or profits of an affected business. It follows from this assumption that the proposed guidelines (and subsequent land use regulations) impose a disproportional impact on small businesses. Logical reasoning implies that a large firm and a small firm owning identical properties in the same jurisdiction would incur the same costs to satisfy a particular land use requirement, for example, a mitigation requirement or transfer of development rights. However, the per employee cost to the firm with 30 workers would be greater than the cost to the firm with 500 workers. It is, therefore, disproportional on a per employee basis.

In conclusion, the cost of complying with the proposed guidelines would place a proportionately higher burden on small firms than on large firms.

Potential mitigation measures were identified but are likely to be illegal or infeasible.

CHAPTER 365-190 WAC
 MINIMUM GUIDELINES TO CLASSIFY
 AGRICULTURE, FOREST, MINERAL LANDS AND CRITICAL AREAS

 PURPOSE/AUTHORITY

NEW SECTION

WAC 365-190-010 AUTHORITY. This chapter is established pursuant to RCW 36.70A.050.

NEW SECTION

WAC 365-190-020 PURPOSE. The intent of this chapter is to establish minimum guidelines to assist all counties and cities statewide in classifying agricultural lands, forest lands, mineral resources lands, and critical areas. These guidelines shall be considered by counties and cities in designating these lands.

Growth management, resource land conservation, and critical areas protection share problems related to governmental costs and efficiency. Sprawl and the unwise development of resource lands or areas susceptible to natural hazards may lead to inefficient use of limited public resources, jeopardize environmental resource functions and values, subject persons and property to unsafe conditions, and affect the perceived quality of life. It is more costly to remedy the loss of resource lands or critical areas than to conserve and protect them from loss or degradation. The inherent economic, social, and cultural values of resource lands and critical areas should be considered in the development of strategies designed to conserve and protect lands.

In recognition of these common concerns, classification and designation of resource lands and critical areas intended to assure the long-term conservation of resource lands and to preclude land uses and developments which are incompatible with critical areas. There are qualitative differences between and among resource lands and critical areas. Not all areas and ecosystems are critical for the same reasons. Some are critical because of the hazard they present to public health and safety, some because of the values they represent to the public welfare. In some cases, the risk posed to the public by use or development of a critical area can be mitigated or reduced by engineering or design; in other cases that risk cannot be effectively reduced except by avoidance of the critical area. Hence, classification and designation of critical areas are intended to lead counties and cities to recognize the differences among these areas, and to develop appropriate regulatory and non-regulatory actions in response.

Counties and cities required or opting to plan under the growth management act of 1990 should consider the definitions and guidelines in this chapter when preparing development regulations which preclude uses and development incompatible with critical areas (see RCW 36.70A.060). Precluding incompatible uses and development does not mean a prohibition of all uses or development. Rather, it means governing changes in land uses, new activities, or development that could adversely affect critical areas. Thus for each critical area, counties and cities planning under the act should define classification schemes and prepare development regulations that govern changes in land uses and new activities by prohibiting clearly inappropriate actions and restricting, allowing, or conditioning other activities as appropriate.

It is the intent of these guidelines that critical areas designations overlay other land uses including designated resource lands. That is, if two or more land use designations apply to a given parcel or a portion of a parcel, both or all designations shall be made. Regarding resource lands, counties and cities should allow existing and ongoing resource management operations, that have long-term commercial significance, to continue. Counties and cities should encourage utilization of best management practices where existing and ongoing resource management operations that have long-term commercial significance include designated critical areas. Future operations or expansion of existing operations should be done in consideration of protecting critical areas.

PART TWO GENERAL REQUIREMENTS

NEW SECTION

WAC 365-190-030 DEFINITIONS. (1) Agricultural land is land primarily devoted to the commercial production of horticultural, viticultural, floricultural, dairy, apiary, vegetable, or animal products or of berries, grain, hay, straw, turf, seed, Christmas trees not subject to the excise tax imposed by RCW 84.33.100 through 84.33.140, or livestock, and that has long-term commercial significance for agricultural production.

(a) Prime farmland soil is land that has the best combination of physical and chemical characteristics for producing food, feed, forage, fiber, and oilseed crops and is available for these uses (the land could be cropland, pastureland, rangeland, forest land, or other land but not urban built-up land or water). It has the soil quality, growing season, and moisture supply needed to economically produce sustained high yields of crops when treated and managed, including water management, according to acceptable farming methods. In general, prime farmlands have an adequate and dependable water supply from precipitation and/or irrigation, a favorable temperature and growing season, acceptable alkalinity or acidity, acceptable salt and sodium content, and few or no rocks. They are permeable to water and air. Prime farmlands are not excessively eroded or saturated with water for long periods of time, and either do not flood frequently during the growing season or are protected from flooding. (See Part 603.05, National Soils Handbook, United States Department of Agriculture Soil Conservation Service.)

(b) Unique farmland soil is land other than prime farmland that is used for the production of specific high value food and fiber crops. It has the special combination of soil quality, location, growing season, and moisture supply needed to economically produce sustained high quality and/or high yields of a specific crop when treated and managed according to acceptable farming methods. (See Part 603.05, National Soils Handbook, United States Department of Agriculture Soil Conservation Service.)

(c) Additional farmland of local importance is land, in addition to prime and unique farmlands, that is of local importance for the production of food, fiber, forage and oilseed crops. Generally, additional farmlands of local importance include those that are nearly prime farmland and that economically produce high yields of crops when treated and managed according to acceptable farming methods. Some may produce as high a yield as prime farmlands if conditions are favorable. (See Part 603.05, National Soils Handbook, United States Department of Agriculture Soil Conservation Service.) Additional farmland of local importance may also include areas of commercial aquaculture and mariculture which include sea vegetable farming, commercial clam and oyster grounds, salmon net pen sites and oyster and mussel raft lease areas provided they function only as aquaculture or mariculture operations.

(2) Areas with a critical recharging effect on aquifers used for potable water are areas where an aquifer that is a source of drinking water is vulnerable to contamination that would affect the certifiable potability of the water.

(3) "City" means any city or town, including a code city.

(4) Critical areas include the following areas and ecosystems:

(a) Wetlands;

(b) Areas with a critical recharging effect on aquifers used for potable water;

(c) Fish and wildlife habitat conservation areas;

(d) Frequently flooded areas; and

(e) Geologically hazardous areas.

(5) Erosion hazard areas are those areas containing soils which, according to the United States Department of Agriculture Soil Conservation Service Soil Classification System, may experience severe to very severe erosion.

(6) Forest land is land primarily useful for growing trees, including Christmas trees subject to the excise tax imposed under RCW 84.33.100 through 84.33.140, for commercial purposes, and that has long-term commercial significance for growing trees commercially.

(7) Frequently flooded areas are lands in the floodplain subject to a one percent or greater chance of flooding in any given year. These areas include, but are not limited to, streams, rivers, lakes, coastal areas, wetlands, and the like.

(8) Geologically hazardous areas are areas that because of their susceptibility to erosion, sliding, earthquake, or other geological events, are not suited to siting commercial, residential, or industrial development consistent with public health or safety concerns.

(9) Habitats of local importance include, a seasonal range or habitat element with which a given species has a primary association, and which, if altered, may reduce the likelihood that the species will maintain and reproduce over the long-term. These might include areas of high relative density or species richness, breeding habitat, winter range, and movement corridors. These might also include habitats that are of limited availability or high vulnerability to alteration, such as cliffs, talus, and wetlands.

(10) Landslide hazard areas are areas potentially subject to risk of mass movement due to a combination of geologic, topographic, and hydrologic factors.

(11) Long-term commercial significance includes the growing capacity, productivity, and soil composition of the land for long-term commercial production, in consideration with the land's proximity to population areas, and the possibility of more intense uses of land.

(12) Minerals include gravel, sand, and valuable metallic substances.

(13) Mine hazard areas are those areas directly underlain by, adjacent to, or affected by mine workings such as adits, tunnels, drifts, or air shafts.

(14) Mineral resource lands means lands primarily devoted to the extraction of minerals or that have known or potential long-term commercial significance for the extraction of minerals.

(15) Public facilities include streets, roads, highways, sidewalks, street and road lighting systems, traffic signals, domestic water systems, storm and sanitary sewer systems, parks and recreational facilities, and schools.

(16) Public services include fire protection and suppression, law enforcement, public health, education, recreation, environmental protection, and other governmental services.

(17) Resource lands means agricultural, forest and mineral resource lands which have long-term commercial significance.

(18) Seismic hazard areas are areas subject to severe risk of damage as a result of earthquake induced ground shaking, slope failure, settlement, or soil liquefaction.

(19) Species of Local Importance are those species that are of local concern due to their population status or their sensitivity to habitat manipulation or that are game species.

(20) Urban growth refers to growth that makes intensive use of land for the location of buildings, structures, and impermeable surfaces to such a degree as to be incompatible with the primary use of such land for the production of food, other agricultural products, or fiber, or the extraction of mineral resources. When allowed to spread over wide areas, urban growth typically requires urban governmental services. "Characterized by urban growth" refers to land having urban growth located on it, or to land located in relationship to an area with urban growth on it as to be appropriate for urban growth.

(21) Volcanic hazard areas shall include areas subject to pyroclastic flows, lava flows, and inundation by debris flows, mudflows, or related flooding resulting from volcanic activity.

(22) Wetland or wetlands means areas that are inundated or saturated by surface water or ground water at a frequency and duration sufficient to support, and that under normal circumstances do support, a prevalence of vegetation typically adapted for life in saturated soil conditions. Wetlands generally include swamps, marshes, bogs, and similar areas. Wetlands do not include those artificial wetlands intentionally created from nonwetland sites, including, but not limited to, irrigation and drainage ditches, grass-lined swales, canals, detention facilities, wastewater treatment facilities, farm ponds, and landscape amenities. However, wetlands may include those artificial wetlands intentionally created from nonwetland areas created to mitigate conversion of wetlands, if permitted by the county or city.

PART THREE GUIDELINES

NEW SECTION

WAC 365-190-040 PROCESS. The classification and designation of resource lands and critical areas is an important step among several in the overall growth management process. Together these steps comprise a vision of the future, and that vision gives direction to the steps in the form of specific goals and objectives. Under the growth management act, the timing of the first steps coincides with development of the larger vision through the comprehensive planning process. People are asked to take the first steps, designation and classification of resource lands and critical areas, before the goals, objectives and implementing policies of the comprehensive plan are finalized. Jurisdictions planning under the growth management act must also adopt interim regulations for the conservation of resource lands and protection of critical areas. In this way, the classification and designation help give shape to the content of the plan, and at the same time resource lands are conserved and critical areas are protected from incompatible development while the plan is in process.

Under the growth management act, preliminary classifications and designations will be completed in 1991. Those planning under the act must also enact interim regulations to protect and conserve these lands by September 1, 1991. By July 1, 1992, counties and cities not planning under the act must bring their regulations into conformance with their comprehensive plans. By July 1, 1993, counties and cities planning under the act must adopt comprehensive plans consistent with the goals of the act. Implementation of the plans will occur by the following year.

(1) Classification is the first step in implementing RCW 36.70A.050. It means defining categories to which resource lands and critical areas will be assigned.

Pursuant to RCW 36.70A.170, resource lands and critical areas will be designated based on the defined classifications. Designation establishes, for planning purposes: the classification scheme; the general distribution, location and extent of the uses of land, where appropriate, for agriculture, forestry, and mineral extraction; and the general distribution, location, and extent of critical areas. Inventories and maps can indicate designations of resource lands. In the circumstances where critical areas (e.g., aquifer recharge areas, wetlands, significant wildlife habitat, etc.) cannot be readily identified, these areas should be designated by performance standards or definitions, so they can be specifically identified during the processing of a permit or development authorization. Designation means, at least, formal adoption of a policy statement, and may include further legislative action. Designating inventoried lands for comprehensive planning and policy definition may be less precise than subsequent regulation of specific parcels for conservation and protection.

Classifying, inventorying, and designating districts does not imply a change in a landowner's right to use his or her land under current law. Land uses are regulated on a parcel basis and innovative land use management techniques should be applied when counties and cities adopt regulations, to conserve and protect designated resource lands and critical areas. The department of community development will provide technical assistance to counties and cities on a wide array of regulatory options and alternative land use management techniques.

These guidelines may result in critical area designations that overlay other critical area or resource land classifications. That is, if two or more critical area designations apply to a given parcel, or portion of a given parcel, both or all designations apply. For counties and cities required or opting to plan under chapter 36.70A RCW, reconciling these multiple designations will be the subject of local development regulations adopted pursuant to RCW 36.70A.060.

(2) Counties and cities shall involve the public in classifying and designating resource lands and critical areas.

(a) Public Participation

(i) Public participation should include at a minimum: landowners; representatives of agriculture, forestry, mining, business, environmental and community groups; tribal governments; representatives of adjacent counties and cities; and state agencies. The public participation program should include early and timely public notice of pending designations and regulations.

(ii) Counties and cities should consider using: technical and citizen advisory committees with broad representation; press releases, news conferences, neighborhood meetings, paid advertising (e.g., newspaper, radio, T.V., transit), newsletters, and other means beyond the required normal legal advertising and public notices. Plain, understandable language should be used. The department of community development will provide technical assistance in preparing public participation plans, including: pamphlet series, workshops, and a list of agencies available to provide help.

(b) Adoption process. Statutory and local processes already in place governing land use decisions are the minimum processes required for designation and regulation pursuant to RCW 36.70A.060 and 36.70A.170. At least these steps should be included in the process:

(i) Accept the requirements of chapter 36.70A RCW, especially definitions of agricultural lands, forest lands, minerals, long-term commercial significance, critical areas, geologically hazardous areas, and wetlands as mandatory minimums.

(ii) Consider minimum guidelines developed by department of community development under RCW 36.70A.050.

(iii) Consider other definitions used by state and federal regulatory agencies.

(iv) Consider definitions used by the county and city and other counties and cities.

(v) Determine recommended definitions and check conformance with minimum definitions of chapter 36.70A RCW.

(vi) Adopt definitions, classifications, and standards.

(vii) Apply definitions to the land by mapping designated resource lands.

(c) Intergovernmental coordination. The growth management act requires coordination among communities and jurisdictions to reconcile conflicts and strive for consistent definitions, standards, and designations within regions. The minimum coordination process required under these guidelines may take one of two forms:

(i) Adjacent cities (or those with overlapping or adjacent planning areas); counties and the cities within them; and adjacent counties would provide each other and all adjacent special purpose districts and special purpose districts within them notice of their intent to classify and designate resource lands and critical areas within their jurisdiction. Counties or cities receiving notice may provide comments and input to the notifying jurisdiction. The notifying jurisdiction specifies a comment period prior to adoption. Within forty-five days of the jurisdiction's date of adoption of classifications or designations, affected jurisdictions are supplied a copy of the proposal. The department of community development may provide mediation services to counties and cities to help resolve disputed classifications or designations.

(ii) Adjacent jurisdictions; all the cities within a county; or all the cities and several counties may choose to cooperatively classify and designate resource lands and critical areas within their jurisdictions. Counties and cities by interlocal agreement would identify the definitions, classification, designation, and process that will be used to classify and designate lands within their areas. State and federal agencies or tribes may participate in the interlocal agreement or be provided a method of commenting on designations and classifications prior to adoption by jurisdictions.

Counties and/or cities may begin with the notification option ((i) of this section) and choose to change to the interlocal agreement method ((ii) of this section) prior to completion of the classification and designations within their jurisdictions. It is intended that state and federal agencies with land ownership or management responsibilities, special purpose districts and Indian tribes with interests within the jurisdictions adopting classification and designation be consulted, and their input considered in the development and adoption of designations and classifications. The department of community development may provide mediation services to help resolve disputes between counties and cities that are using either the notification or interlocal agreement method of coordinating between jurisdictions.

(d) Mapping. Mapping should be done to identify designated resource lands and to identify known critical areas. Counties and cities should clearly articulate that the maps are for information or illustrative purposes only unless the map is an integral component of a regulatory scheme.

Although there is no specific requirement for inventorying or mapping either resource lands or critical areas, chapter 36.70A RCW requires that counties and cities planning under chapter 36.70A RCW adopt development regulations for uses adjacent to resource lands. Logically, the only way to regulate adjacent lands is to know where the protected lands are. Therefore, mapping resource lands is a practical way to make regulation effective.

For critical areas, performance standards are preferred, as any attempt to map wetlands, for example, will be too inexact for regulatory purposes. Standards will be applied upon land use application. Even so, mapping critical areas for information, but not regulatory purposes, is advisable.

(e) Reporting. Chapter 36.70A RCW requires that counties and cities annually report their progress to department of community development. The department of community development will maintain a central file including examples of successful public involvement programs, interjurisdictional coordination, definitions, maps, and other materials. This file will serve as an information source for counties and cities and a planning library for state agencies and citizens.

(f) Evaluation. When counties and cities adopt a comprehensive plan, chapter 36.70A RCW requires that they evaluate their designations and develop regulations to assure they are consistent with and implement the comprehensive plan. When considering changes to the designations or development regulations, counties and cities should seek interjurisdictional coordination and public participation.

(g) Designation amendment process. Land use planning is a dynamic process. Procedures for designation should provide a rational and predictable basis for accommodating change.

Land use designations must provide landowners and public service providers with the information necessary to make decisions. This includes: determining when and where growth will occur, what services are and will be available, how they might be financed, and what type and level of land use is reasonable and/or appropriate. Resource managers need to know where and when conversions of rural land might occur in response to growth pressures, and how those changes will affect resource management.

Designation changes should be based on consistency with one or more of the following criteria:

(i) Change in circumstances pertaining to the comprehensive plan or public policy.

(ii) A change in circumstances beyond the control of the landowner pertaining to the subject property.

(iii) An error in designation.

(iv) New information on resource land or critical area status.

(h) Use of innovative land use management techniques. Resource uses have preferred and primary status in designated resource lands of long-term commercial significance. Counties and cities must determine if and to what extent other uses will be allowed. If other uses are allowed, counties and cities should consider using innovative land management techniques which minimize land use incompatibilities and most effectively maintain current and future resource lands.

Methods to conserve and protect agricultural, forest lands and mineral resource lands of long-term commercial significance should involve the purchase or transfer of development rights, fee simple purchase of the land, less than fee simple purchase, purchase with lease-back, buffering, land trades, conservation easements, or other innovations which maintain current uses and assure the conservation of these resource lands.

Development in and adjacent to agricultural and forest lands of long-term commercial significance shall assure the continued management of these lands for their long-term commercial uses. Counties and cities should consider the adoption of right-to-farm provisions. Covenants or easements that recognize that farming and forest activities will occur should be imposed on new development in or adjacent to agricultural or forest lands. Where buffering is used, it should be on land within the development unless an alternative is mutually agreed on by adjacent landowners.

Counties and cities planning under the act should define a strategy for conserving resource lands and for protecting critical areas, and this strategy should integrate the use of innovative regulatory and non-regulatory techniques.

NEW SECTION

WAC 365-190-050 AGRICULTURAL LANDS. (1) In classifying agricultural lands of long-term significance for the production of food or other agricultural products, counties and cities shall use the land-capability classification system of the United States Department of Agriculture Soil Conservation Service as defined in agriculture handbook no. 210. These eight classes are incorporated by the United States Department of Agriculture into map units described in published soil surveys. These categories incorporate consideration of the growing capacity, productivity, and soil composition of the land. Counties and cities shall also consider the combined effects of proximity to populated areas and the possibility of more intense uses of the land as indicated by:

(a) The availability of public facilities;

(b) Tax status;

(c) The availability of public services;

(d) Relationship or proximity to urban growth areas;

(e) Predominant parcel size;

(f) Land use settlement patterns and their compatibility with agricultural practices;

(g) Intensity of nearby land uses;

(h) History of land development permits issued nearby;

(i) Land values under alternative uses; and

(j) Proximity of markets.

(2) In defining categories of agricultural lands of long-term commercial significance for agricultural production, counties and cities should consider using the classification of prime and unique farmland soils as mapped by the Soil Conservation Service. If a county or city chooses to not use these categories, the rationale for that decision must be included in its next annual report to department of community development.

(3) Counties and cities may further classify additional agricultural lands of local importance. Classifying additional agricultural lands of local importance should include consultation with the board of the local conservation district and the local agriculture stabilization and conservation service committee.

These additional lands may also include intertidal and subtidal lands used for aquicultural and maricultural practices and bogs used to grow cranberries. Where these lands are also designated critical areas, counties and cities planning under the act must weigh the compatibility of adjacent land uses and development with the continuing need to protect the functions and values of critical areas and ecosystems.

NEW SECTION

WAC 365-190-060 FOREST LAND RESOURCES. In classifying forest land, counties and cities shall use the private forest land grades of the department of revenue (WAC 458-40-530). This system incorporates consideration of growing capacity, productivity and soil composition of the land. Forest land of long-term commercial significance will generally have a predominance of the higher private forest land grades. However, the presence of lower private forest land grades within the areas of predominately higher grades need not preclude designation as forest land.

Each county and city shall determine which land grade constitutes forest land of long-term commercial significance, based on local and regional physical, biological, economic, and land use considerations.

Counties and cities shall also consider the effects of proximity to population areas and the possibility of more intense uses of the land as indicated by:

(1) The availability of public services and facilities conducive to the conversion of forest land.

(2) The proximity of forest land to urban and suburban areas and rural settlements: forest lands of long-term commercial significance are located outside the urban and suburban areas and rural settlements.

(3) The size of the parcels: forest lands consist of predominantly large parcels.

(4) The compatibility and intensity of adjacent and nearby land use and settlement patterns with forest lands of long-term commercial significance.

(5) Property tax classification: Property is assessed as open space or forest land pursuant to chapter 84.33 or 84.34 RCW.

(6) Local economic conditions which affect the ability to manage timberlands for long-term commercial production.

(7) History of land development permits issued nearby.

NEW SECTION

WAC 365-190-070 MINERAL RESOURCE LANDS. Counties and cities shall identify and classify aggregate and mineral resource lands from which the extraction of minerals can be anticipated. Other proposed land uses within these areas may require special attention to ensure future supply of aggregate and mineral resource material, while maintaining a balance of land uses.

(1) Classification criteria. Areas shall be classified as mineral resource lands based on geologic, environmental and economic factors, existing land uses, and land ownership. The areas to be studied and their order of study shall be specified by counties and cities.

(a) Counties and cities should classify lands with long-term commercial significance for extracting at least the following minerals: Sand, gravel, and valuable metallic substances. Other minerals may be classified as appropriate.

(b) In classifying these areas, counties and cities should consider maps and information on location and extent of mineral deposits provided by the Washington state department of natural resources and the United States Bureau of Mines. Additionally, the department of natural resources has a detailed minerals classification system counties and cities may choose to use.

(c) Counties and cities should consider classifying known and potential mineral deposits so that access to mineral resources of long-term commercial significance is not knowingly precluded.

(d) In classifying mineral resource lands, counties and cities shall also consider the effects of proximity to population areas and the possibility of more intense uses of the land as indicated by:

(i) General land use patterns in the area;

(ii) Availability of utilities;

(iii) Availability and adequacy of water supply;

(iv) Surrounding parcel sizes and surrounding uses;

(v) Availability of public roads and other public services;

(vi) Division or zoning for urban or small lots;

(vii) Accessibility and/or distance from point of use;

(viii) Physical and topographic characteristics of the mineral resource site;

(ix) Depth of the resource;

(x) Depth of the overburden;

(xi) Physical properties of the resource;

(xii) Life of the resource; and

NEW SECTION

WAC 365-190-080 CRITICAL AREAS. (1) Wetlands. The wetlands of Washington state are fragile ecosystems which serve a number of important beneficial functions. Wetlands assist in the reduction of erosion, siltation, flooding, ground and surface water pollution, and provide wildlife, plant, and fisheries habitats. Wetlands destruction or impairment may result in increased public and private costs or property losses.

In designating wetlands for regulatory purposes, counties and cities shall use the definition of wetlands in RCW 36.70A.030(17). Counties and cities are requested and encouraged to make their actions consistent with the intent and goals of "protection of wetlands," Executive Orders 89-10 and 90-04 as they exist on September 1, 1990. Additionally, counties and cities should consider wetlands protection guidance provided by the department of ecology including the model wetlands protection ordinance.

(a) Counties and cities that do not now rate wetlands shall consider a wetlands rating system to reflect the relative function, value and uniqueness of wetlands in their jurisdictions. In developing wetlands rating systems, counties and cities should consider the following:

(i) The Washington state four-tier wetlands rating system;

(ii) Wetlands function and values;

(iii) Degree of sensitivity to disturbance;

(iv) Rarity; and

(v) Ability to compensate for destruction or degradation.

If a county or city chooses to not use the state four-tier wetlands rating system, the rationale for that decision must be included in its next annual report to department of community development.

(b) Counties and cities may use the national wetlands inventory as an information source for determining the approximate distribution and extent of wetlands. This inventory provides maps of wetland areas according to the definition of wetlands issued by the United States Department of Interior - Fish and Wildlife Service, and its wetland boundaries should be delineated for regulation consistent with the wetlands definition in RCW 36.70A.170(3).

(c) Counties and cities should consider using the methodology in the federal manual for identifying and delineating jurisdictional wetlands, cooperatively produced by the United States Army Corps of Engineers, United States Environmental Protection Agency, United States Department of Agriculture Soil Conservation Service, and United States Fish and Wildlife Service, that was issued in January 1989, and subsequent regulatory guidance letters issued by the United States Corps of Engineers for regulatory delineations.

(2) Aquifer recharge areas. Potable water is an essential life sustaining element. Much of Washington's drinking water comes from groundwater supplies. Once groundwater is contaminated it is difficult, costly, and sometimes impossible to clean up. Preventing contamination is necessary to avoid exorbitant costs, hardships, and potential physical harm to people.

The quality of groundwater in an aquifer is inextricably linked to its recharge area. Few studies have been done on aquifers and their recharge areas in Washington state. In the cases in which aquifers and their recharge areas have been studied, affected counties and cities should use this information as the base for classifying and designating these areas.

Where no specific studies have been done, counties and cities should use existing soil and surficial geologic information to determine where recharge areas are. To determine the threat to groundwater quality, existing land use activities and their potential to lead to contamination should be evaluated.

Counties and cities shall classify recharge areas for aquifers according to the vulnerability of the aquifer. Vulnerability is the combined effect of hydrogeological susceptibility to contamination and the contamination loading potential. High vulnerability is indicated by land uses that contribute contamination that may degrade groundwater, and hydrogeologic conditions that facilitate degradation. Low vulnerability is indicated by land uses that do not contribute contaminants that will degrade ground water, and by hydrogeologic conditions that do not facilitate degradation.

(a) To characterize hydrogeologic susceptibility of the recharge area to contamination, counties and cities should consider the following physical characteristics:

- (i) Depth to groundwater;
- (ii) Aquifer properties such as hydraulic conductivity and gradients;
- (iii) Soil (texture, permeability and contaminant attenuation properties);
- (iv) Characteristics of the Vadose Zone including permeability and attenuation properties; and
- (v) Other relevant factors.

(b) The following should be considered to evaluate the contaminant loading potential:

- (i) General land use;
- (ii) Waste disposal sites;
- (iii) Agriculture activities;
- (iv) Well logs and water quality test results; and
- (v) Other information about the potential for contamination.

(c) Classification strategy for recharge areas should be to maintain the quality of the groundwater, with particular attention to recharge areas of high susceptibility. In recharge areas that are highly vulnerable, studies should be initiated to determine if groundwater contamination has occurred. Classification of these areas should include consideration of the degree to which the aquifer is used as a potable water source, feasibility of protective measures to preclude further degradation, practicability of treatment measures to maintain potability, and availability of alternative potable water sources.

(d) Examples of areas with a critical recharging effect on aquifers used for potable water, may include:

- (i) Sole source aquifer recharge areas designated pursuant to the federal safe drinking water act.
- (ii) Areas established for special protection pursuant to a groundwater management program, chapters 90.44 and 90.54 RCW, and chapter 173-100 WAC.
- (iii) Areas designated for wellhead protection pursuant to the Federal Safe Drinking Water Act.
- (iv) Other areas meeting the definition of "areas with a critical recharging effect on aquifers used for potable water" in these guidelines.

(3) Frequently flooded areas. Floodplains and other areas subject to flooding perform important hydrologic functions and may present a risk to persons and property. Classifications of frequently flooded areas should include, at a minimum, the 100-year floodplain designations of the Federal Emergency Management Agency and the National Flood Insurance Program.

Counties and cities should consider the following when designating and classifying frequently flooded areas:

- (a) Effects of flooding on human health and safety, and to public facilities and services;
- (b) Available documentation including federal, state, and local laws, regulations, and programs, local studies and maps, and federal flood insurance programs.

(c) The future flow floodplain, defined as the channel of the stream and that portion of the adjoining floodplain that is necessary to contain and discharge the base flood flow at build out without any measurable increase in flood heights.

(d) The potential effects of tsunamis, high tides with strong winds, sea level rise resulting from global climate change, and greater surface runoff caused by increasing impervious surfaces.

(4) Geologically hazardous areas.

Geologically hazardous areas include areas susceptible to erosion, sliding, earthquake, or other geological events. They pose a threat to the health and safety of citizens when incompatible commercial, residential or industrial development is sited in areas of significant hazard. Some geological hazards can be reduced or mitigated by engineering, design, or modified construction practices so that risks to health and safety are acceptable. When technology cannot reduce risks to acceptable levels, building in geologically hazardous areas is best avoided.

This distinction should be considered by counties and cities that do not now classify geological hazards as they develop their classification scheme.

(a) Areas that are susceptible to one or more of the following types of hazards shall be classified as a geologically hazardous area:

- (i) erosion hazard;
- (ii) landslide hazard;
- (iii) seismic hazard; or

(iv) areas subject to other geological events such as coal mine hazards and volcanic hazards including: mass wasting, debris flows, rockfalls, and differential settlement.

(b) Counties and cities should classify geologically hazardous area as either:

- (i) known or suspected risk
- (ii) no risk.

(iii) risk unknown – data are not available to determine the presence or absence of a geological hazard.

(c) Erosion hazard areas are at least those areas identified by the United States Department of Agriculture Soil Conservation Service as having a "severe" rill and inter-rill erosion hazard.

(d) Landslide hazard areas shall include areas potentially subject to landslides based on a combination of geologic, topographic and hydrologic factors. They include any areas susceptible because of any combination of bedrock, soil, slope (gradient), slope aspect, structure, hydrology, or other factors. Example of these may include, but are not limited to the following:

(i) areas of historic failures, such as:

(A) those areas delineated by the United States Department of Agriculture Soil Conservation Service as having a "severe" limitation for building site development;

(B) those areas mapped as class u (unstable), uos (unstable old slides), and urs (unstable recent slides) in the department of ecology coastal zone atlas; or

(C) areas designated as quaternary slumps, earthflows, mudflows, lahars, or landslides on maps published as the United States Geological Survey or department of natural resources division of geology and earth resources.

(ii) Areas with all three of the following characteristics:

(A) Slopes greater than fifteen percent; and

(B) Steep hillsides intersecting geologic contacts with a relatively permeable sediment overlying a relatively impermeable sediment or bedrock; and

(C) Springs or groundwater seepage;

(iii) Areas that have shown movement during the holocene epoch (from ten thousand years ago to the present) or which are underlain or covered by mass wastage debris of that epoch;

(iv) Slopes that are parallel or sub-parallel to planes of weakness (such as bedding planes, joint systems, and fault planes) in subsurface materials;

(v) Slopes having gradients greater than 80 percent subject to rockfall during seismic shaking;

(vi) Areas potentially unstable as a result of rapid stream incision, stream bank erosion, and undercutting by wave action;

(vii) Areas that show evidence of, or are at risk from snow avalanches;

(viii) Areas located in a canyon or on an active alluvial fan, presently or potentially subject to inundation by debris flows or catastrophic flooding;

(ix) Any area with a slope of forty percent or greater and with a vertical relief of ten or more feet except areas composed of consolidated rock. A slope is delineated by establishing its toe and top and measured by averaging the inclination over at least ten feet of vertical relief.

(c) Seismic hazard areas shall include areas subject to severe risk of damage as a result of earthquake induced ground shaking, slope failure, settlement, soil liquefaction, or surface faulting. One indicator of potential for future earthquake damage is a record of earthquake damage in the past. Ground shaking is the primary cause of earthquake damage in Washington. The strength of ground shaking is primarily affected by:

- (i) the magnitude of an earthquake;
- (ii) the distance from the source of an earthquake;
- (iii) the type of thickness of geologic materials at the surface; and
- (iv) the type of subsurface geologic structure.

Settlement and soil liquefaction conditions occur in areas underlain by cohesionless soils of low density typically in association with a shallow groundwater table.

(f) Other geological Events:

(i) Volcanic hazard areas shall include areas subject to pyroclastic flows, lava flows, debris avalanche, inundation by debris flows, mudflows, or related flooding resulting from volcanic activity.

(ii) Mine hazard areas are those areas underlain by, adjacent to, or affected by mine workings such as adits, gangways, tunnels, drifts, or air shafts. Factors which should be considered include: proximity to development, depth from ground surface to the mine working, and geologic material.

(5) Fish and wildlife habitat conservation areas. Fish and wildlife habitat conservation means land management for maintaining species in suitable habitats within their natural geographic distribution so that isolated subpopulations are not created. This does not mean maintaining all individuals of all species at all times, but it does mean cooperative and coordinated land use planning is critically important among counties and cities in a region. In some cases, intergovernmental cooperation and coordination may show that it is sufficient to assure that a species will usually be found in certain regions across the state.

(a) Fish and wildlife habitat conservation include:

(i) Areas with which endangered, threatened, and sensitive species have a primary association;

(ii) Habitats and species of local importance;

(iii) Commercial and recreational shellfish areas;

(iv) Kelp and eelgrass beds; herring and smelt spawning areas;

(v) Naturally occurring ponds under twenty acres and their submerged aquatic beds that provide fish or wildlife habitat;

(vi) Waters of the state;

(vii) Lakes, ponds, streams, and rivers planted with game fish by a governmental or tribal entity; or (viii) State natural area preserves and natural resource conservation areas.

(b) Counties and cities may consider the following when classifying and designating these areas:

(i) Creating a system of fish and wildlife habitat with connections between larger habitat blocks and open spaces;

(ii) Level of human activity in such areas including presence of roads and level of recreation type (passive or active recreation may be appropriate for certain areas and habitats);

(iii) Protecting riparian ecosystems;

(iv) Evaluating land uses surrounding ponds and fish and wildlife habitat areas that may negatively impact these areas;

(v) Establishing buffer zones around these areas to separate incompatible uses from habitat areas; and

(vi) Restoration of lost salmonid habitat.

(c) Sources and methods

(i) Counties and cities shall classify seasonal ranges and habitat elements with which federal and state listed endangered, threatened and sensitive species have a primary association and which, if altered, may reduce the likelihood that the species will maintain and reproduce over the long term.

(ii) Counties and cities should determine which habitats and species are of local importance. Habitats and species may be further classified in terms of their relative importance.

Counties and cities may use information prepared by the Washington department of wildlife to classify and designate locally important habitats and species. Priority habitats and priority species are being identified by the department of wildlife for all lands in Washington state. While these priorities are those of the department, they and the data on which they are based may be considered by counties and cities.

(iii) Shellfish areas. All public and private tidelands or bedlands suitable for shellfish harvest shall be classified as critical areas. Counties and cities should consider both commercial and recreational shellfish areas. Counties and cities shall at least consider the Washington department of health classification system to classify commercial and recreational shellfish growing areas. Further consideration should be given to the vulnerability of these areas to contamination. Shellfish protection districts established pursuant to chapter 90.72 RCW shall be included in the classification of critical shellfish areas.

(iv) Kelp and eelgrass beds; herring and smelt spawning areas. Counties and cities shall classify kelp and eelgrass beds, identified by department of natural resources aquatic lands division and the department of ecology. Though not an inclusive inventory, locations of kelp and eelgrass beds are compiled in the puget sound environmental atlas, volumes 1 and 2. Herring and smelt spawning times and locations are outlined in the WAC 232-14-010, hydraulic code guidelines, technical report No. 79, and the puget sound atlas.

(v) Naturally occurring ponds under twenty acres and their submerged aquatic beds that provide fish or wildlife habitat.

Naturally occurring ponds do not include ponds deliberately designed and created from dry sites, such as canals, detention facilities, wastewater treatment facilities, farm ponds, temporary construction ponds (of less than three years duration) and landscape amenities. However, naturally occurring ponds may include those artificial ponds intentionally created from dry areas in order to mitigate conversion of ponds, if permitted by a regulatory authority.

(v) Waters of the state. Waters of the state are defined in Title 222 WAC, the forest practices rules and regulations. Counties and cities should use the classification system established in WAC 222-16-030 to classify waters of the state.

Counties and cities may consider the following factors when classifying waters of the state as fish and wildlife habitats:

(A) Species present which are endangered, threatened, or sensitive, and other species of concern;

(B) Species present which are sensitive to habitat manipulation;

(C) Historic presence of priority species;

(D) Existing surrounding land uses that are incompatible with salmonid habitat;

(E) Presence and size of riparian ecosystems;

(F) Existing water rights; and

(G) The intermittent nature of some of the higher classes of waters of the state.

(vi) Lakes, ponds, streams, and rivers planted with game fish.

This includes game fish planted in these water bodies under the auspices of a federal, state, local, or tribal program or which supports priority fish species as identified by the department of wildlife.

(vii) State natural area preserves and natural resource conservation areas. Natural area preserves and natural resource conservation areas are defined, established and managed by the department of natural resources.

WSR 91-01-130
EMERGENCY RULES
DEPARTMENT OF
COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT

[Order 90-03—Filed December 19, 1990, 4:20 p.m., effective
December 28, 1990]

Date of Adoption: December 19, 1990.

Purpose: To adopt minimum guidelines to assist all counties and cities statewide in classifying agricultural lands, forest lands, mineral resource lands, and critical areas.

Citation of Existing Rules Affected by this Order: Extending chapter 365-190 WAC.

Statutory Authority for Adoption: RCW 36.70A.050.

Pursuant to RCW 34.05.350 the agency for good cause finds that immediate adoption, amendment, or repeal of a rule is necessary for the preservation of the public health, safety, or general welfare, and that observing the time requirements of notice and opportunity to comment upon adoption of a permanent rule would be contrary to the public interest.

Reasons for this Finding: RCW 36.70A.050(5), requires that minimum guidelines to assist all counties and cities statewide in classifying agricultural lands, forest lands, mineral resource lands, and critical areas be adopted by September 1, 1990.

Other Findings Required by Other Provisions of Law as Precondition to Adoption or Effectiveness of Rule: The order filed with the Office of the Code Reviser in regard to the adoption of these emergency rules is based on the following circumstances: The agency first adopted its emergency rules on August 31, 1990. The agency also filed its notice to adopt the rules in permanent form with the Code Reviser on October 24, 1990. The date for formal adoption of the permanent rules was set for November 27, 1990. Prior to that time, the agency conducted meetings, workshops and other sessions around the state. Public comment was received and considered. The original deadline for submission and further public comment was November 5, 1990. This deadline was subsequently extended. Many new comments came in during the final period prior to the formal hearing which resulted in changes to the proposed rules. The agency is thus filing a supplemental notice of proposed rulemaking (RCW 34.05.340) to allow for reopening of the proceedings for public comment. It is anticipated that there will be a variety of groups participating in submitting comments. In the meantime, the original emergency rules will expire. However, since the agency has filed notice of its intent to adopt the proposed rules as permanent rules, and is actively undertaking the appropriate procedures to adopt them, the emergency rules must be extended until the day of formal adoption of the permanent rules. The adoption of the emergency rules for this period of time while proceeding with the adoption of the permanent rules is in accordance with RCW 34.05.350(2). If further information is needed, interested persons should contact Steve Wells, Department of Community Development, 9th and Columbia Building, GH-51, Olympia, Washington 98504.

Effective Date of Rule: December 28, 1990.

CHAPTER 365.190 WAC
MINIMUM GUIDELINES TO CLASSIFY
AGRICULTURE, FOREST, MINERAL LANDS AND CRITICAL AREAS

PART ONE - PURPOSE/AUTHORITY

Reviser's note: The typographical error in the above caption occurred in the copy filed by the agency and appears in the Register pursuant to the requirements of RCW 34.08.040.

NEW SECTION

WAC 365-190-010 AUTHORITY. This chapter is established pursuant to RCW 36.70A.050.

NEW SECTION

WAC 365-190-020 PURPOSE. The intent of this chapter is to establish minimum guidelines to assist all counties and cities statewide in classifying agricultural lands, forest lands, mineral resource lands, and critical areas. These guidelines shall be considered by counties and cities in designating these lands.

PART TWO - GENERAL REQUIREMENTS

NEW SECTION

WAC 365-190-030 DEFINITIONS. (1) Agricultural Land is land primarily devoted to the commercial production of horticultural, floricultural, dairy, apiary, vegetable, or animal products or of berries, grain, hay, straw, turf, seed, Christmas trees not subject to the excise tax imposed by RCW 84.33.100 through 84.33.140, or livestock, and that has long-term commercial significance for agricultural production.

(a) Prime Farmland Soil is land that has the best combination of physical and chemical characteristics for producing food, feed, forage, fiber, and oilseed crops and is available for these uses (the land could be cropland, pastureland, rangeland, forest land, or other land but not urban built-up land or water). It has the soil quality, growing season, and moisture supply needed to economically produce sustained high yields of crops when treated and managed, including water management, according to acceptable farming methods. In general, prime farmlands have an adequate and dependable water supply from precipitation or irrigation, a favorable temperature and growing season, acceptable alkalinity or acidity, acceptable salt and sodium content, and few or no rocks. They are permeable to water and air. Prime farmlands are not excessively eroded or saturated with water for long periods of time, and either do not flood frequently during the growing season or are protected from flooding. (See Part 603.05, National Soils Handbook, United States Department of Agriculture Soil Conservation Service.)

(b) Unique Farmland Soil is land other than prime farmland that is used for the production of specific high value food and fiber crops. It has the special combination of soil quality, location, growing season, and moisture supply needed to economically produce sustained high quality and/or high yields of a specific crop when treated and managed according to acceptable farming methods. (See Part 603.05, National Soils Handbook, United States Department of Agriculture Soil Conservation Service.)

(c) Additional Farmland of Local Importance is land, in addition to prime and unique farmlands, that is of local importance for the production of food, fiber, forage and oilseed crops. Generally, additional farmlands of local importance include those that are nearly prime farmland and that economically produce high yields of crops when treated and managed according to acceptable farming methods. Some may produce as high a yield as prime farmlands if conditions are favorable. (See Part 603.05, National Soils Handbook, United States Department of Agriculture Soil Conservation Service.)

(2) Areas with a critical recharging effect on aquifers used for potable water includes areas where an aquifer which is an essential source of drinking water is vulnerable to contamination that would create a significant hazard to public health.

(3) Coal Mine Hazard Areas are those areas directly underlain by, adjacent to, or affected by abandoned coal mine workings such as adits, tunnels, drifts or air shafts.

(4) Critical Areas include the following areas and ecosystems:

- (a) Wetlands;
- (b) Areas with a critical recharging effect on aquifers used for potable water;
- (c) Fish and wildlife habitat conservation areas;
- (d) Frequently flooded areas; and
- (e) Geologically hazardous areas.

(5) Erosion Hazard Areas are those areas containing soils which, according to the United States Department of Agriculture Soil Conservation Service Soil Classification System, may experience severe to very severe erosion hazard.

(6) Frequently Flooded Areas are lands in the floodplain within a community subject to a one percent or greater chance of flooding in any given year.

(7) Forest Land is land primarily useful for growing trees, including Christmas trees subject to the excise tax imposed under RCW 84.33.100 through 84.33.140, for commercial purposes, and that has long-term commercial significance for growing trees commercially.

(8) Geologically Hazardous Areas are areas that because of their susceptibility to erosion, sliding, earthquake, or other geological events, are not suited to siting commercial, residential, or industrial development consistent with public health or safety concerns.

(9) Landslide Hazard Areas are areas subject to severe risk of landslide based on a combination of geologic, topographic, and hydrologic factors. They include the following:

- (a) Any area characterized by:
 - (i) Slopes greater than 15 percent; and
 - (ii) Impermeable soils (typically silt and clay) frequently interbedded with permeable granular soils (predominately sand and gravel), or impermeable soils overlain with permeable soils; and,
 - (iii) Springs or groundwater seepage; or
- (b) Any area which has shown movement during the Holocene epoch (from 10,000 years ago to present) or which is underlain by mass wastage debris of that epoch; or
- (c) Any area potentially unstable as a result of rapid stream incision, stream bank erosion or undercutting by wave action; or
- (d) Any area which shows evidence of, or is at risk from snow avalanches; or

(e) Any area located on an alluvial fan, presently subject to or potentially subject to inundation by debris flows or deposition of stream-transported sediments; or

(f) Any area with a slope of 40 percent or greater and with a vertical relief of 10 or more feet except areas composed of consolidated rock. A slope is delineated by establishing its toe and top and measured by averaging the inclination over at least ten feet of vertical relief.

(10) Long-term commercial significance includes the growing capacity, productivity, and soil composition of the land for long-term commercial production, in consideration with the land's proximity to population areas, and the possibility of more intense uses of land.

(11) Minerals include gravel, sand, and valuable metallic substances.

(12) Priority Habitats include a seasonal range or habitat element with which a given species has a primary association, and which, if altered, may reduce the likelihood that the species will maintain and reproduce over the long-term. These might include areas of high relative density or species richness, breeding habitat, winter range, and movement corridors. These might also include habitats that are of limited availability or high vulnerability to alteration, such as cliffs, talus, and wetlands.

(13) Priority Species are those species that are of concern due to their population status and their sensitivity to habitat manipulation. Priority species include those which are State-listed endangered, threatened, and sensitive species as well as other species of concern and game species that may not meet management objectives due in part to habitat manipulation or incompatible land uses.

(14) Public Facilities include streets, roads, highways, sidewalks, street and road lighting systems, traffic signals, domestic water systems, storm and sanitary sewer systems, parks and recreational facilities, and schools.

(15) Public Services include fire protection and suppression, law enforcement, public health, education, recreation, environmental protection, and other governmental services.

(16) Seismic Hazard Areas are areas subject to severe risk of earthquake damage as a result of seismic induced settlement or soil liquefaction. These conditions occur in areas underlain by cohesionless soils of low density usually in association with a shallow groundwater table.

(17) Volcanic Hazard Areas shall include areas subject to inundation by mudflows, lahars, or related flooding resulting from volcanic activity. The hazard area shall be delineated based on recurrence of an event equal in magnitude to the prehistoric Electron mudflow.

(18) Urban growth refers to growth that makes intensive use of land for the location of buildings, structures, and impermeable surfaces to such a degree as to be incompatible with the primary use of such land for the production of food, other agricultural products, or fiber, or the extraction of mineral resources. When allowed to spread over wide areas, urban growth typically requires urban governmental services. "Characterized by urban growth" refers to land having urban growth located on it, or to land located in relationship to an area with urban growth on it as to be appropriate for urban growth.

(19) Wetland or wetlands means areas that are inundated or saturated by surface water or ground water at a frequency and duration sufficient to support, and that under normal circumstances do support, a prevalence of vegetation typically adapted for life in saturated soil conditions. Wetlands generally include swamps, marshes, bogs, and similar areas. Wetlands do not include those artificial wetlands intentionally created from nonwetland sites, grass-lined swales, canals, detention facilities, wastewater treatment facilities, farm ponds, and landscape amenities. However, wetlands may include those artificial wetlands intentionally created from nonwetland areas created to mitigate conversion of wetlands, if permitted by the county or city.

PART THREE – GUIDELINES

NEW SECTION

WAC 365-190-040 PROCESS. (1) Classification is the first step in implementing RCW 36.70A.050. It means defining categories to which resource lands and critical areas will be assigned. After counties and cities define categories, their resource lands and critical areas will be inventoried according to those categories.

Pursuant to RCW 36.70A.170, resource lands and critical areas will be designated based on that inventory. Designation means, at least, formal adoption of a policy statement and may include further legislative action. Designating inventoried lands for comprehensive planning and policy definition may be less precise than subsequent regulation of specific parcels for conservation and protection.

Classifying, inventorying, and designating districts should not imply a change in a landowner's right to use his or her land under current law. Land uses are regulated on a parcel and innovative land use management techniques are applied when counties and cities adopt regulations, pursuant to RCW 36.70A.060, to conserve and protect designated resource lands and critical areas. The department of community development will provide technical assistance to counties and cities on a wide array of regulatory options and alternative land use management techniques.

These guidelines may result in critical area designations that overlay other land use classifications. That is, if two or more critical area designations apply to a given parcel, or portion of a given parcel, both or all designations apply. For counties and cities required or opting to plan under RCW 36.70A, reconciling these multiple designations will be the subject of local development regulations adopted pursuant to RCW 36.70A.060.

(2) Counties and cities shall consider the following procedures in classifying and designating natural resource lands and critical areas.

(a) Public Participation

(i) Each county and city should prepare a specific public participation plan to include the designation process and, where required, adoption of development regulations protecting resource lands and critical areas.

(ii) Counties and cities should consider using: technical and citizen advisory committees with broad representation, press releases, news conferences, neighborhood meetings, paid advertising (e.g., newspaper, radio, T.V., transit), newsletters, and other means beyond the required normal legal advertising and public notices. Plain, understandable language should be used. The department of community development will provide technical assistance in preparing public participation plans, including: a pamphlet series, workshops, and a list of agencies available to provide help.

(b) Adoption Process. Statutory and local processes already in place governing land use decisions are the minimum processes required for designation and regulation pursuant to RCW 36.70A.060 and RCW

36.70A.170. Beginning with classification, local decisions should incorporate public participation including using advisory committees with representation from all interested parties, adjacent counties and cities, and the general public. At least these steps should be included in the process:

(i) Accept the RCW 36.70A requirements, especially definitions of agricultural lands, forest lands, minerals, long-term commercial significance, critical areas, geologically hazardous areas, and wetlands as mandatory minimums.

(ii) Consider minimum guidelines developed by department of community development under RCW 36.70A.050.

(iii) Consider other definitions used by state and federal regulatory agencies.

(iv) Consider definitions used by the county and city and other counties and cities.

(v) Determine recommended definitions and check conformance with minimum RCW 36.70A definitions.

(vi) Adopt definition, classification, and standards.

(vii) Apply definitions to land, mapping designated resource lands.

(c) Intergovernmental Coordination. The RCW 36.70A requires coordination among communities and jurisdictions to reconcile conflicts and strive for consistent definitions, standards, and designations within their region. The minimum coordination process required under these guidelines may take one of two forms;

(i) Adjacent cities (or those with overlapping or adjacent planning areas); counties and the cities within them; and adjacent counties would provide each other notice of their intent to classify and designate resource lands and critical areas within their jurisdiction. Counties or cities receiving notice of who they feel are affected may provide comments and input to the notifying jurisdiction. The notifying jurisdiction specifies a comment period for those interested prior to adoption by the notifying jurisdiction. Within 45 days of the jurisdiction's date of adoption of classifications or designations, interested jurisdictions are supplied a copy of the proposal and provided an opportunity to give input to the adopting jurisdiction. Disputed classifications or designations may be resolved through the mediation process offered by the department of community development.

(ii) Adjacent jurisdictions; all the cities within a county; or all the cities and several counties may choose to cooperatively classify and designate resource lands and critical areas within their jurisdictions. Counties and cities by interlocal agreement would identify the definitions, classification, designation, and process that will be used to classify and designate lands within their areas. State and federal agencies or tribes may participate in the interlocal agreement or be provided a method of commenting on designations and classifications prior to adoption by jurisdictions.

Counties and/or cities may begin with the notification option ("i" above) and choose to change to the interlocal agreement method prior to completion of the classification and designations within their jurisdictions. It is intended that state and federal agencies with land ownership or management responsibilities and Indian tribes with interests within the jurisdictions adopting classification and designation be consulted and input considered in the development and adoption of designations and classifications. The mediation process provided through department of community development is available to resolve disputes between local governments using either the notification or interlocal agreement method of coordinating between jurisdictions.

(d) Mapping. Although there is no specific requirement for inventorying or mapping either natural resource lands or critical areas, RCW 36.70A requires that counties and cities planning under RCW 36.70A adopt development regulations regulating uses adjacent to natural resource lands. Logically, the only way to regulate adjacent lands is to know where the protected lands are. Therefore, mapping natural resource lands is a practical way to make regulation effective.

For critical areas, performance standards are preferred, as any attempt to map wetlands, for example, will be too inexact for regulatory purposes. Standards will be applied upon land use application. Even so, mapping critical areas for information but not regulatory purposes, is advisable.

(e) Reporting. RCW 36.70A requires that counties and cities annually report their progress to department of community development. Department of community development will maintain a central file including examples of successful public involvement programs, interjurisdictional coordination, definitions, maps, and other materials. This file will serve as an information source for counties and cities and a planning library for State agencies and citizens.

(f) Evaluation. When counties and cities adopt a comprehensive plan, RCW 36.70A requires that they evaluate their designations and develop regulations to assure they are consistent with and implement the comprehensive plan. When considering changes to the designations or development regulations, counties and cities should seek interjurisdictional coordination and public participation.

(g) Designation Amendment Process. Land use planning is a dynamic process. Procedures for designation should provide a rational and predictable basis for accommodating change.

Land use designations must provide landowners and public service providers with the information necessary to make decisions. This includes: determining when and where growth will occur, what services are and will be available, how they might be financed, and what type and level of land use is reasonable and/or appropriate. Resource managers need to know where and when conversions of rural land might occur in response to growth pressures and how those changes will affect resource management.

Designation changes should be based on consistency with one or more of the following criteria:

(i) Change in circumstances pertaining to the comprehensive plan or public policy.

(ii) A change in circumstances beyond the control of the landowner pertaining to the subject property.

(iii) An error in designation.

(iv) Inability to manage for natural resource use because of adjacent or nearby incompatible land use activities.

(h) Use of Innovative Land Use Management Techniques. Resource uses have preferred and primary status in designated resource lands of long-term commercial significance. Counties and cities must determine if and to what extent other uses will be allowed. If other uses are allowed, counties and cities should consider using innovative land management techniques which minimize land use incompatibilities and most effectively maintain current and future resource lands.

Methods to conserve and protect agricultural and forest lands of long-term commercial significance should involve the purchase or transfer of development rights, fee simple purchase of the land, less than fee simple purchase, purchase with lease-back, buffering, land trades, conservation easements or other innovations which maintain current uses and assure the conservation of these resource lands.

Development in and adjacent to agricultural and forest lands of long-term commercial significance should recognize the landowner's right to farm or manage timber as prior rights in the land. Counties and cities should adopt right-to-farm provisions in zoning ordinances. Covenants or easements that recognize that farming and forest activities will occur should be imposed on land in a development. Where buffering is used it should be on land in the development unless an alternative is mutually agreed on by adjacent landowners.

NEW SECTION

WAC 365-190-050 AGRICULTURAL LANDS.

(1) In classifying agricultural lands of long-term significance for the production of food or other agricultural products, counties and cities shall use the land-capability classification system of the United States Department of Agriculture Soil Conservation Service as defined in Agriculture Handbook No. 210. These categories incorporate consideration of growing capacity, productivity and soil composition of the land. Counties and cities shall also consider the combined effects of proximity to population areas and the possibility of more intense uses of the land as indicated by:

- (a) The availability of public facilities;
- (b) Tax status;
- (c) The availability of public services;
- (d) Relationship or proximity to urban growth areas;
- (e) Predominant parcel size;
- (f) Land use settlement patterns and their compatibility with agricultural practices;
- (g) Intensity of nearby land uses;
- (h) History of land development permits issued nearby;
- (i) Land values under alternative uses; and
- (j) Proximity of markets.

(2) In defining categories of agricultural lands of long-term significance for agricultural production, counties and cities should consider using the classification of prime and unique farmland soils as mapped by the Soil Conservation Service. If a county or city chooses to not use these categories, the rationale for that decision must be included in its next annual report to department of community development.

(3) Counties and cities may further classify additional agricultural lands of local importance. Classifying additional agricultural lands of local importance shall include consultation with the Board of the local Conservation District and the local Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service Committee.

NEW SECTION

WAC 365-190-060 FOREST LAND RESOURCES. (1) In classifying forest land, counties and cities shall use the Private Forest Land Grades of the department of revenue (WAC 458-40-19300). This system incorporates consideration of growing capacity, productivity and soil composition of the land. Forest land of long-term commercial significance will generally have a predominance of the higher Private Forest Land Grades. However, the presence of lower Private Forest Land Grades within the areas of predominately higher grades need not preclude designation as Forest Land.

Each county and city shall determine which Land Grade constitutes forest land of long-term commercial significance based on local and regional physical, biological, economic and land use considerations.

Counties and cities shall also consider the effects of proximity to population areas and the possibility of more intense uses of the land as indicated by:

- (a) The availability of public services and facilities conducive to the conversion of forest land.
- (b) The proximity of forest land to urban and suburban areas and rural settlements: forest lands of long-term commercial significance are located outside the urban and suburban areas and rural settlements.
- (c) The size of the parcels: forest lands consist of predominantly large parcels.
- (d) The compatibility and intensity of adjacent and nearby land use and settlement patterns with forest lands of long-term commercial significance.
- (e) Property tax classification: property is assessed as open space or forest land pursuant to RCW 84.33 or RCW 84.34.
- (f) Whether the land has a higher and better use than for long-term commercial forest land.
- (g) The proximity of the land to markets.
- (h) History of land development permits issued nearby.

NEW SECTION

WAC 365-190-070 MINERAL RESOURCE LANDS. (1) Classification Criteria. Areas shall be classified into Mineral Resource Lands based on geologic, environmental and economic factors, existing land uses and land ownership. The areas to be studied and their order of study shall be specified by counties and cities.

- (a) Counties and cities must classify the following minerals: sand, gravel, and valuable metallic substances.
- (b) In classifying these areas, counties and cities shall use maps and information on location and extent of mineral deposits provided by the Washington State department of natural resources. Additionally, the department of natural resources has a detailed minerals classification system counties and cities may choose to use.

(2) Source of Data. Counties and cities may seek additional information from private land owners to supplement information from the department of natural resources.

NEW SECTION

WAC 365-190-080 CRITICAL AREAS. (1) Wetlands. In designating wetlands, counties and cities shall use the definition of wetlands in RCW 36.70A.030(17). Counties and cities are requested and encouraged to make their actions consistent with the intent and goals of "Protection of Wetlands," Executive Orders 89-10 and 90-04 as they exist on September 1, 1990. Additionally, local governments should consider wetlands protection guidance provided by the department of ecology.

(a) Counties and cities that do not now rate wetlands shall consider a wetlands rating system to reflect the relative function, value and uniqueness of wetlands in their jurisdictions. In developing wetlands rating systems, counties and cities should consider the following:

- (i) The Washington State Four-tier Wetlands Rating System;
- (ii) Wetlands functions and values;
- (iii) Degree of sensitivity to disturbance;
- (iv) Rarity; and
- (v) Ability to compensate for destruction or degradation.

If a county or city chooses to not use the State Four-tier Wetlands Rating System, the rationale for that decision must be included in its next annual report to department of community development.

(c) Counties and cities may use the National Wetlands Inventory as an information source to classify wetlands. This inventory provides maps of wetland areas according to the definition of wetlands issued by the United States Department of Interior - Fish and Wildlife Service, and its wetland boundaries should be reviewed consistent with the wetlands definition in RCW 36.70A.170(3).

(d) Counties and cities should consider the methodology in the Federal Manual for Identifying and Delineating Jurisdictional Wetlands, cooperatively produced by the United States Army Corps of Engineers, United States Environmental Protection Agency, United States Department of Agriculture Soil Conservation Service, and United States Fish and Wildlife Service, that was issued in January 1989.

(2) Aquifer Recharge Areas. In designating areas with a critical recharging effect on aquifers used for potable water, counties and cities should consider the following criteria:

- (a) The availability of adequate information on the location and extent of the aquifer;
- (b) The vulnerability of the aquifer to contamination that would create a significant hazard to public health. In determining vulnerability, the preferred method is a hydrogeologic analysis of a proposed area. In determining vulnerability without such an analysis, the following factors should be considered:

- (i) Depth of groundwater;
 - (ii) Macro and micro permeability of soils;
 - (iii) Types of soils;
 - (iv) Presence of potential sources of contamination; and
 - (v) Other relevant factors for the area in question;
- (c) The extent to which the aquifer is an essential source of drinking water.

(d) Examples of areas with a critical recharging effect on aquifers used for potable water, may include:

(i) Sole source aquifer recharge areas designated pursuant to the Federal Safe Drinking Water Act where there is evidence the aquifer is vulnerable to contamination that would create a significant hazard to public health.

(ii) Areas established for special protection pursuant to a groundwater management program, Chapters 90.44 and 90.54 RCW, and Chapter 173-100 WAC.

(iii) Areas designated for well head protection pursuant to the Federal Safe Drinking Water Act.

(iv) Other areas meeting the definition of "areas with a critical recharging effect on aquifers used for potable water" in these guidelines.

(3) Frequently Flooded Areas. Classifications of frequently flooded areas shall be consistent with the floodplain designations of the Federal Emergency Management Agency and the National Flood Insurance Program.

(a) Counties and cities shall consider the following when designating and classifying frequently flooded areas:

(i) Flooding impact to human health, safety, and welfare, and to public facilities and services;

(ii) Available documentation including federal, state, and local laws, regulations, and programs, local maps and federally subsidized flood insurance programs.

(4) Geologically Hazardous Areas.

(a) Geologically hazardous areas pose a threat to the health, safety, and welfare of citizens when construction or incompatible uses are permitted in areas of significant hazard. Counties and cities that do not now classify geological hazards shall use the following categories to classify Geologically Hazardous Areas:

(i) GH1 Areas where adequate information indicates that no significant geological hazard is present or where it is judged that there is little likelihood for its presence.

(ii) GH2 Areas where adequate information indicates that significant geological hazard is present or where it is judged that there is a high likelihood for its presence.

(iii) GH3 Areas containing a geological hazard the significance of which cannot be evaluated from available data.

(iv) GH4 Areas where available information to evaluate a geological hazard is inadequate.

(b) Counties and cities may use the following when determining the significance of geologically hazardous areas:

(i) Potential economic, health, and safety impacts related to building in geologically hazardous areas;

(ii) Soil type (from a soil profile), slope, vegetative cover, and climate of area; and

(iii) Available documentation describing a history of soil movement, the presence of mass wastage debris, rapid stream incision, streambank erosion, or undercutting by wave action, evidence of risk from snow avalanche, or the presence of an alluvial fan which may be subject to inundation by debris flows or deposition of stream-transported sediments.

(c) Counties and cities may establish a rating system for describing the risk to development on geologically hazardous sites. The department of ecology developed the following levels which counties and cities may use:

(i) Low risk — standard foundation systems and site preparation techniques are expected to result in an acceptable level of risk.

(ii) Intermediate risk — standard foundation systems and site preparation techniques may be acceptable, but only with confirmation by a geotechnical report.

(iii) High risk — standard foundation systems and site preparation techniques are unlikely to be acceptable. A geotechnical report is required for recommendation of special foundation designs and site preparation techniques.

(iv) High erosion hazard shall at least be as defined by the United States Department of Agriculture — Soil Conservation Service including areas having a "severe" erosion hazard and a "rapid" surface runoff. Slopes shall be as defined by the United States Department of Agriculture — Soil Conservation Service including areas having a "severe" limitation due to slope for building site development; and lands designated or mapped as Class 3, 4, or 5 USGS as a Class U (Unstable), Uos (Unstable old slides), or Urs (Unstable recent slides) by the department of ecology Coastal Zone Atlas.

(v) Landslide hazard areas shall include areas subject to severe risk of landslide based on a combination of geologic, topographic and hydrologic factors. They include the following:

(A) Any area characterized by:

(i) Slopes greater than 15 percent; and

(ii) Impermeable soils (typically silt and clay) frequently interbedded with permeable granular soils (predominately sand and gravel), or impermeable soils overlain with permeable soils; and,

(iii) Springs or groundwater seepage; or

(B) Any area which has shown movement during the Holocene epoch (from 10,000 years ago to present) or which is underlain by mass wastage debris of that epoch; or

(C) Any area potentially unstable as a result of rapid stream incision, stream bank erosion or undercutting by wave action; or

(D) Any area which shows evidence of, or is at risk from snow avalanches; or

(E) Any area located on an alluvial fan, presently subject to or potentially subject to inundation by debris flows or deposition of stream-transported sediments; or

(F) Any area with a slope of 40 percent or greater and with a vertical relief of 10 or more feet except areas composed of consolidated rock. A slope is delineated by establishing its toe and top and measured by averaging the inclination over at least ten feet of vertical relief.

(vi) Seismic hazard areas shall include areas subject to severe risk of earthquake damage as a result of seismic induced settlement or soil liquefaction. These conditions occur in areas underlain by cohesion-less soils of low density usually in association with a shallow groundwater table.

(vii) Volcanic hazard areas shall include areas subject to inundation by mudflows, lahars, or related flooding resulting from volcanic activity. The hazard area shall be delineated based on recurrence of an event equal in magnitude to the prehistoric Electron mudflow.

(5) Fish and Wildlife Habitat Conservation Areas. Fish and wildlife habitat conservation means land management for maintaining species in a wild state in suitable habitats within their natural geographic distribution so that isolated subpopulations are not created. This does not mean maintaining all individuals of all species at all times, but it does mean cooperative and coordinated land use planning is critically important among counties and cities in a region. In some cases, intergovernmental cooperation and coordination may show that it is sufficient to assure that a species will usually be found in certain regions across the state.

(a) Fish and wildlife habitat conservation areas include:

- (i) Priority habitats and species;
- (ii) Shellfish tidelands;
- (iii) Kelp and eelgrass beds;
- (iv) Naturally occurring ponds under 20 acres and their submerged aquatic beds that provide fish or wildlife habitat;
- (v) Waters of the State;
- (vi) Lakes, ponds, streams and rivers planted with game fish by a governmental or Tribal entity; or
- (vii) State Natural Area Preserves and Natural Resource Conservation Areas.

(b) Counties and cities may consider the following when classifying and designating these areas:

- (i) Creating a system of fish and wildlife habitat with connections between larger habitat blocks and open spaces;
- (ii) Level of human activity in such areas including presence of roads and level of recreation type (passive or active recreation may be appropriate for certain areas and habitats);
- (iii) Protecting riparian ecosystems;
- (iv) Evaluating land uses surrounding ponds and fish and wildlife habitat areas that may negatively impact these areas;
- (v) Establishing buffer zones around these areas to separate incompatible uses from the habitat areas; and
- (vi) Restoration of lost salmonid habitat.

(c) Sources and Methods

(i) Priority habitats and species. Counties and cities may use information prepared by the Washington department of wildlife to classify and designate priority habitats and priority species. Priority habitats and priority species are being identified by the department of wildlife for all lands in Washington state. The schedule for defining, identifying, mapping and preparing management guidelines for priority habitats and species is:

- (A) Commercial forest lands by September 30, 1990;
- (B) Urban growth areas by September, 1991; and
- (C) Other lands by December, 1992.

(ii) Shellfish Tidelands. Counties and cities shall use the process specified in Chapter 90.72 RCW, Shellfish Protection Districts, to classify shellfish beds. Designations shall be based on contaminated or threatened commercial shellfish beds or correctable or threatened recreation beaches using data from the department of ecology, department of health, and local health departments.

(iii) Kelp and Eelgrass Beds. Counties and cities will classify kelp and eelgrass beds, identified by department of natural resources aquatic lands program and the department of ecology. These identifications are mapped in the Coastal Zone Atlas.

(iv) Naturally Occurring Ponds Under 20 Acres and Their Submerged Aquatic Beds that Provide Fish or Wildlife Habitat.

Naturally occurring ponds do not include ponds deliberately designed and created from dry sites, such as canals, detention facilities, wastewater treatment facilities, farmponds, temporary construction ponds (of less than three years duration) and landscape amenities. However, naturally occurring ponds may include those artificial ponds intentionally created from dry areas in order to mitigate conversion of ponds, if permitted by a regulatory authority.

(v) Waters of the State. Waters of the State are defined in WAC 222, the Forest Practices Rules and Regulations. Counties and cities must use the classification system established in WAC 222.16.030 to classify waters of the state.

Counties and cities may consider the following factors when classifying waters of the state as fish and wildlife habitats:

- (A) Species present which are endangered, threatened, or sensitive, and other species of concern;
 - (B) Species present which are sensitive to habitat manipulation;
 - (C) Historic presence of priority species;
 - (D) Existing surrounding land uses are incompatible with salmonid habitat; and
 - (E) Presence and size of riparian ecosystems.
- (vi) Lakes, Ponds, Streams, and Rivers Planted with Game Fish.

This includes game fish planted in these water bodies under the auspices of a federal, state, local, or Tribal program or which supports priority fish species as identified by the department of wildlife.

(vii) State Natural Area Preserves. Natural area preserves are defined, established and managed by department of natural resources under the State Natural Heritage Program. The annual plan of the Natural Heritage Program sets goals, implementation objectives, and includes a plan for future acquisition of sites.

APPRENTICESHIPS—STATE APPRENTICESHIP COUNCIL—DEPARTMENT OF LABOR AND INDUSTRIES

1. The State Apprenticeship Council has broad authority to approve apprenticeship agreements that are in the best interest of the apprentice and conform to statutory standards. The Council may disapprove apprenticeship agreements that are not in the best interest of the apprentice and do not conform to statutory standards. However, if the Council disapproves an apprenticeship agreement, it should articulate the grounds for disapproval.
2. There are a number of factors to be considered in determining whether federal regulatory standards regarding apprenticeship agreements preempt state standards.

PERMANENT RULES MARITIME COMMISSION

[Filed December 21, 1990, 9:27 a.m., effective January 1, 1991]

Date of Adoption: December 13, 1990.

Purpose: To implement RCW 88.44.100 in order to raise revenues sufficient to provide for around the clock communications, oil spill contingency planning, emergency oil spill drill response and 24-hour emergency containment and clean-up in the waters of the state of Washington.

Statutory Authority for Adoption: RCW 88.44.100.

Pursuant to notice filed as WSR 90-22-103 on November 7, 1990.

Changes Other than Editing from Proposed to Adopted Version: In response to written and oral comments, the definition of "Dry Cargo Barge" was added to WAC 318-04-020. This class of vessel was added in order to address the problem created when a nonself-propelled vessel is carrying limited quantities of oil solely as fuel for barge machinery or mobile equipment carried as cargo, but is not actually carrying oil as cargo or as fuel for propulsion machinery. Minor changes were made in the rate schedule in order to address written and oral comments. On tanker vessels carrying oil as cargo, a class break was made for vessels of over 9,999 gross registered tons, and under, as the environmental risk from a spill was deemed less than from the larger tankers. In addition, tanker vessels not carrying oil as cargo are, by rule change, to be assessed at a rate commensurate with nontanker vessels carrying oil as fuel for propulsion machinery. Finally, an addition was made to assess dry cargo barges carrying limited quantities of oil solely to fuel barge machinery or mobile equipment carried as cargo at a flat rate of $45.00.

Other Findings Required by Other Provisions of Law as Precondition to Adoption or Effectiveness of Rule: Pursuant to RCW 88.44.100, the Washington State Maritime Commission was empowered to levy assessments on all defined vessels as of October 1, 1990. As these assessments were meant to provide a fund for setting up a communication system, doing contingency planning and providing oil spill first response, it is imperative that the assessments be levied as soon as possible for the safety, health and welfare of the people of the state of Washington and the protection of the state's unique marine environment. Therefore, it was found that the above permanent rules should become effective January 1, 1991.

Effective Date of Rule: January 1, 1991.

Rules Coordinator

NEW SECTION

WAC 318-04-010 DECLARATION OF PURPOSE To effectuate the purposes of RCW Chapter 88.44, the Washington State Maritime Commission hereby adopts certain definitions and prescribes the rate and terms of assessments on vessels which transit upon the waters of this state.

NEW SECTION

WAC 318-04-020 DEFINITIONS Unless the context clearly requires otherwise, the definitions in this section apply throughout these rules.

"Tanker Barge" is a vessel as defined by R.C.W. 88.44.010(15) which is not self-propelled and is designed, constructed or adapted primarily to carry, or carries oil, as defined by R.C.W. 88.44.010(6), in bulk as cargo or cargo residue.

"Tanker Vessel" - is a vessel as defined by R.C.W. 88.44.010(15) which is self-propelled and designed, constructed or adapted primarily to carry or carries oil, as defined by R.C.W. 88.44.010(6), in bulk as cargo or cargo residue.

"Dry Cargo Barge" is a vessel as defined by R.C.W. 88.44.010(15) which is not self-propelled, but because it is not designed, constructed or adapted primarily to carry oil, is not a tanker barge. To be subject to assessment, the dry cargo barge must be carrying oil solely to fuel barge machinery or mobile equipment carried as cargo.

"Non-Tanker Vessel" is a vessel as defined by R.C.W. 88.44.010(15) which is neither a tanker barge, a tanker vessel, nor a dry cargo barge.

"Maximum Capacity" is the volume of oil, as defined by R.C.W. 88.44.010(6) that a tanker barge or tanker vessel is capable of carrying when fully loaded as designed, constructed or adapted.

The assessment levied on all vessels, or the owners or operators thereof, which transit upon the portion of the Columbia River that runs between the states of Washington and Oregon, shall be effective on and after January 1, 1992.

NEW SECTION

WAC 318-04-040 WHEN DUE Vessel assessments shall be due and payable to the Washington State Maritime Commission before any vessel discharges, loads or departs from Washington waters, whichever is first.

NEW SECTION

WAC 318-04-050 HOW ASSESSED Vessels arriving in Washington waters will be assessed each time they enter the state's waters. Tanker vessels and tanker barges home ported in Washington and transiting the waters of the state, but not arriving and departing frequently, shall be assessed each time they discharge or take on a cargo of oil in Washington waters, but there shall be no more than one assessment per day (24-hour period commencing at 12:01 a.m.).

NEW SECTION

WAC 318-04-060 EXEMPTIONS Vessels which show satisfactory proof to the Commission or the Department of Ecology prior to April 1, 1991 (or prior to April 1, 1992 in the case of vessels transiting only the waters of the Columbia River that runs between Washington and Oregon) or prior to initial entry into Washington waters, whichever comes first, that they have formerly and individually arranged with an officially recognized cleanup cooperative or with a private cleanup contractor to provide immediate response capabilities in the event of an oil spill or release are exempt from assessment, as are other vessels expressly exempted by R.C.W. 88.44.010(15).

NEW SECTION

WAC 318-04-070 SURCHARGE Vessels otherwise subject to assessment, but which have not presented timely and satisfactory proof of an approved arrangement with a recognized cooperative or private clean-up contractor in compliance with WAC 318-04-060, or arranged to make their assessment payments to the Washington State Maritime Commission by April 1, 1991 (or April 1, 1992 in cases of vessels on the Columbia River) must thereafter pay all back assessments, plus a surcharge of twenty (20%) percent, before being accepted for membership in the Commission and placed on its regular assessment schedule.

NEW SECTION

WAC 318-04-080 COLLECTION OF ACCOUNTS (1) The Commission shall obtain from the Marine Exchange of Puget Sound, the Washington State Pilotage Commission, the Fisheries Commission and/or U.S. Customs a record of all vessels transiting the waters of this state and shall from this record periodically invoice all vessels, their owners, operators or agents shown thereon for assessments levied pursuant to WAC

318-04-030. The date of the invoice shall be known as the billing date.

(2) Assessments not paid within twenty (20) days from the billing date shall be delinquent. If the delinquent assessments are not paid within thirty-five (35) days from the billing date, a notice of delinquency shall be sent to the vessel, its owner, operator or agent stating that if the delinquent assessments are not paid within forty-five (45) days from the billing date, the vessel, its owner, operator or agent involved will thereafter be denied further credit and be put on a cash basis until the delinquent assessments are paid.

If at any time an account thereafter is again unpaid in the same year for more than thirty-five (35) days from the billings date, the commission may, without further notice, immediately place the vessel, its owner, operator or agent on a cash basis for the remainder of the year, or such period as the commission may at its option specify.

EMERGENCY RULES
DEPARTMENT OF FISHERIES

[Order 90-137—Filed December 21, 1990, 4:24 p.m., effective December 22, 1990, 12:01 a.m.]

Date of Adoption: December 21, 1990.

Purpose: Personal use rules.

Citation of Existing Rules Affected by this Order:
Repealing WAC 220-56-35000J.

Statutory Authority for Adoption: RCW 75.08.080.

Pursuant to RCW 34.05.350 the agency for good cause finds that immediate adoption, amendment, or repeal of a rule is necessary for the preservation of the public health, safety, or general welfare, and that observing the time requirements of notice and opportunity to comment upon adoption of a permanent rule would be contrary to the public interest.

Reasons for this Finding: Personal use harvest in 1990 at Sequim Bay exceeded expected harvest levels of hardshell clams by 3500 pounds. It is necessary to close this beach to protect existing stocks from additional overharvest.

NEW SECTION

WAC 220-56-35000K HARDSHELL CLAMS—SEASONS AND OYSTERS Notwithstanding the provisions of WAC 220-56-350, effective 12:01 AM, December 22, 1990, through April 15, 1991, it is unlawful to take or possess hardshell clams from the state owned tidelands adjoining the Sequim Bay State Park which lie south of the park boat launch ramp. State owned tidelands north of the boat ramp remain open to personal use hardshell clam harvest.

REPEALER

The following section of the Washington Administrative Code is repealed 12:01 AM December 22, 1990:

WAC 220-56-35000J HARDSHELL CLAMS—SEASONS AND OYSTERS (90-136)

WILDLIFE COMMISSION
[Order 481—Filed December 24, 1990, 1:27 p.m.]

Date of Adoption: December 24, 1990.

Purpose: Early closure of Canada goose season in Clark, Cowlitz, Pacific, and Wahkiakum counties to protect dusky Canada goose breeding population.

Statutory Authority for Adoption: RCW 77.12.040.

Pursuant to RCW 34.05.350 the agency for good cause finds that immediate adoption, amendment, or repeal of a rule is necessary for the preservation of the public health, safety, or general welfare, and that observing the time requirements of notice and opportunity to comment upon adoption of a permanent rule would be contrary to the public interest.

Reasons for this Finding: The 1990-91 southwest Washington Canada goose season was adopted by the Wildlife Commission on August 4, 1990, to be open eight days during the period November 24, 1990, through January 12, 1991. The season was limited to selected weekend days due to continued low population levels of dusky Canada geese in 1990. At the time the season was adopted, the agency stated its intent to recommend closure of the season when the established harvest quota of 45 dusky Canada geese was exceeded. The quota was exceeded on December 23, 1990. The harvest of Canada geese must be restricted to ensure protection of remaining dusky Canada goose breeding stock for future production. During the 1990-91 season an average of ten dusky Canada geese were killed per weekend of open season.

Effective Date of Rule: Immediately.

PERSONNEL BOARD
[Filed December 24, 1990, 2:09 p.m.]

Original Notice.

Title of Rule: Amending WAC 356-18-112 Shared leave, 356-30-260 Probationary period—Provisions—Status of employee, and 356-30-305 Trial service period—Provision.

Purpose: These rules described the state leave sharing program. They also describe the reasons for extending trial service and probationary periods.

Statutory Authority for Adoption: RCW 41.06.040.
Statute Being Implemented: RCW 41.06.150.

Summary: This proposed change will revise eligibility requirements for participation in the shared leave program. It will also list shared leave as a condition to extend trial service and probationary periods and how to treat a nonpermanent employee receiving shared leave.

Reasons Supporting Proposal: The proponent feels the current rule is in conflict with the RCW by requiring the recipient to be a permanent state employee. Also, there are currently other forms of paid leave that extend the trial service and probationary periods.

Name of Agency Personnel Responsible for Drafting: Bonni Parker, Department of Social and Health Services, OB-13, 753-5184; Implementation and Enforcement: Department of Personnel.

Name of Proponent: Department of Social and Health Services, governmental.

Rule is not necessitated by federal law, federal or state court decision.

Explanation of Rule, its Purpose, and Anticipated Effects: The current rule requires the recipient of the shared leave program to be a permanent state employee. This proposal will revise the current eligibility requirements and also list shared leave as a condition to extend a probationary or trial service period.

Proposal does not change existing rules.

This proposal will delete the requirement of being a "permanent" state employee to be a recipient of the state shared leave program and add shared leave as a condition for extending a probationary or trial service period.

No small business economic impact statement is required for this proposal by chapter 19.85 RCW.

Hearing Location: Department of Personnel, 521 Capitol Way South, Olympia, WA, on February 14, 1991, at 10:00 a.m.

Submit Written Comments to: George Weirich, Department of Personnel, P.O. Box 1789, Mailstop FE-11, Olympia, WA 98507, by February 12, 1991.

AMENDATORY SECTION (Amending Order 326, filed 7/25/89, effective 8/25/89)

WAC 356-18-112 SHARED LEAVE. (1) The purpose of the state leave sharing program is to permit state employees to donate vacation leave to a fellow ((permanent)) state employee who is suffering from or has a relative or household member suffering from an extraordinary or severe illness, injury, impairment, or physical or mental condition which has caused or is likely to cause the employee to take leave without pay or terminate his or her employment. For purposes of the Washington state leave sharing program, the following definitions apply:

(a) "Employee" means any employee who is entitled to accrue sick leave or vacation leave and for whom accurate leave records are maintained.

((a)) (b) "Employee's relative" normally shall be limited to the employee's spouse, child, step child, grandchild, grandparent, or parent.

((b)) (c) "Household members" is defined as persons who reside in the same home who have reciprocal duties to and do provide financial support for one another. This term shall include foster children and legal wards even if they do not live in the household. The term does not include persons sharing the same general house, when the living style is primarily that of a dormitory or commune.

~~((f))~~ (d) "Severe" or "extraordinary" condition is defined as serious or extreme and/or life threatening.

(2) An employee may be eligible to receive shared leave under the following conditions:

(a) The employee's agency head determines that the employee meets the criteria described in this section.

(b) The employee is not eligible for time loss compensation under chapter 51.32 RCW. If the time loss claim is approved at a later time, all leave received shall be returned to the donors, and the employee will return any and all overpayments to the agency.

(c) The employee has abided by agency policies regarding the use of sick leave.

(d) Donated vacation leave is transferable between employees in different state agencies with the agreement of both agency heads.

(3) An employee may donate vacation leave to another employee only under the following conditions:

(a)(i) The receiving employee has exhausted, or will exhaust, his or her vacation leave, and sick leave due to an illness, injury, impairment, or physical or mental condition, which is of an extraordinary or severe nature, and involves the employee, the employee's relative or household member; and

(ii) The condition has caused, or is likely to cause, the employee to go on leave without pay or terminate state employment; and

(iii) The agency head permits the leave to be shared with an eligible employee.

(b) The donating employee may donate any amount of vacation leave provided the donation does not cause the employee's vacation leave balance to fall below eighty hours.

(c) Employees may not donate excess vacation leave that the donor would not be able to take due to an approaching anniversary date.

(4) The agency head shall determine the amount of donated leave an employee may receive and may only authorize an employee to use up to a maximum of two hundred sixty one days of shared leave during total state employment, except that a non-permanent employee may not use shared leave beyond the earlier date of: ((:))

(a) the termination date specified in the non-permanent employee's appointment letter, or

(b) nine months or 1560 non-overtime hours from date of appointment to the non-permanent position.

(5) The agency head shall require the employee to submit, prior to approval or disapproval, a medical certificate from a licensed physician or health care practitioner verifying the severe or extraordinary nature and expected duration of the condition.

(6) Any donated leave may only be used by the recipient for the purposes specified in this section.

(7) The receiving employee shall be paid his or her regular rate of pay; therefore, one hour of shared leave may cover more or less than one hour of the recipient's salary. The calculation of the recipient's leave value shall be in accordance with office of financial management policies, regulations, and procedures. The dollar value of the leave is converted from the donor to the recipient. The leave received will be coded as shared leave and be maintained separately from all other leave balances.

(8) All forms of paid leave available for use by the recipient must be used prior to using shared leave.

(9) Any shared leave not used by the recipient during each incident/occurrence as determined by the agency director shall be returned to the donor(s). The shared leave remaining will be divided among the donors on a prorated basis based on the original donated value and returned at its original donor value and reinstated to each donor's vacation leave balance.

(10) All donated leave must be given voluntarily. No employee shall be coerced, threatened, intimidated, or financially induced into donating vacation leave for purposes of this program.

(11) Agencies shall maintain records which contain sufficient information to provide for legislative review.

Reviser's note: RCW 34.05.395 requires the use of underlining and deletion marks to indicate amendments to existing rules. The rule published above varies from its predecessor in certain respects not indicated by the use of these markings.

AMENDATORY SECTION (Amending Order 295, filed 2/19/88, effective 4/1/88)

WAC 356-30-260 PROBATIONARY PERIOD—PROVISIONS—STATUS OF EMPLOYEE. (1) Employees who receive appointments to permanent positions from the open competitive register and the reemployment register shall serve a probationary period of six to twelve months as determined by the personnel board. The personnel board shall designate a probationary period of six months for all positions in a class unless they determine that job requirements of the class require a longer period (up to twelve months) to provide adequate training and/or evaluation. The personnel board shall apply the following criteria for approving probationary periods of longer than six months:

(a) The work of the majority of the positions in the class is of such a nature that performance of the full range of duties cannot be properly evaluated within six months after an appointment.

OR

(b) Work of the class is cyclical in nature and the workload cycle cannot be completed within six months after an appointment.

OR

(c) Work is of such a nature that extended formalized training is required prior to the full assumption of duties.

All positions in a class shall have the same probationary period.

(2) All persons at time of appointment shall be notified in writing by the agency of the length of their probationary period. When the probationary period for a class is increased beyond six months, the increased probationary period shall apply only to persons appointed after the effective date of the change.

(3) The probationary period will provide the appointing authority with the opportunity to observe a new employee's work, to train and aid the new employee in adjustment to the position, and to terminate any employee whose work performance fails to meet the required standards.

(4) Employees who, during their probationary period, go on leave without pay shall have their probationary period extended by the number of calendar days they are on leave without pay including any intervening nonworking days.

(5) Employees shall have their probationary period extended by the number of calendar days in excess of 30 in which the employee is not at work including any intervening nonwork days if:

(a) Work is missed due to sick leave, vacation leave, military training leave, shared leave or miscellaneous leave; or

(b) Work is missed by employees of the departments of social and health services, corrections or veterans affairs due to an assault that occurred on the job and who are receiving compensation in an amount equal to full pay, as provided in chapters 72.01 and 72.09 RCW; or

(c) Work is missed due to any combination of leave identified in (5)(a) and (b) of this section which when added together exceeds 30 calendar days.

(6) Work missed during the probationary period due to holidays shall be counted as part of the required probationary period.

(7) Permanent appointment of a probationary employee shall be automatic unless the person is dismissed under provision of WAC 356-30-270.

(8) Veterans and their widows who have not remarried and are in probationary status will be granted seniority preference only within ranks of probationary employees and will not be granted preference within the ranks of the permanent employees until they acquire permanent status.

AMENDATORY SECTION (Amending Order 295, filed 2/19/88, effective 4/1/88)

WAC 356-30-305 TRIAL SERVICE PERIOD—PROVISION.

(1) Employees appointed from a voluntary demotion register to a class not previously held, a promotional register, or from the inter-system employment register shall serve a trial service period of six months. The trial service period will provide the appointing authority with the opportunity to observe the employee's work and to train and aid the employee in adjustment to the position, and to revert such an employee whose work performance fails to meet required standards. Reversions shall be under the provisions of WAC 356-30-320.

(2) Employees who during their trial service period go on leave without pay shall have their trial service period extended by the number of calendar days they are on leave without pay, including any intervening nonworking days.

(3) Employees shall have their trial service period extended by the number of calendar days in excess of 30 in which the employee is not at work, including any intervening nonwork days, if:

(a) Work is missed due to sick leave, vacation leave, military training leave, shared leave or miscellaneous leave; or

(b) Work is missed by employees of the departments of social and health services, corrections or veterans affairs due to an assault that occurred on the job and who are receiving compensation in an amount equal to full pay, as provided in chapters 72.01 and 72.09 RCW; or

(c) Work is missed due to any combination of leave identified in (3)(a) and (b) of this section which when added together exceed 30 calendar days.

(4) Work missed during the trial service period due to holidays shall be counted as part of the required trial service period.

(5) When an employee is appointed to a higher class while serving in a trial service period, the trial service period for the lower class and the new trial service period for the higher class shall overlap provided that the higher and lower classes are in the same or a closely related field. The employee shall complete the terms of the original trial service period and be given permanent status in the lower class. Such employees will also be granted the rights normally accruing to trial service for the remainder of the trial service period in the higher class.

PROPOSED RULES

PERSONNEL BOARD

[Filed December 24, 1990, 2:10 p.m.]

Original Notice.

Title of Rule: Amending WAC 356-15-130 Special pay ranges.

Purpose: This rule permits special pay ranges to equal or approximate prevailing rate practices found in private industry or other governmental units.

Statutory Authority for Adoption: RCW 41.06.040.

Statute Being Implemented: RCW 41.06.150.

Summary: This proposal will establish a separate salary rate for correctional officers, for caring for law enforcement dogs while not on duty.

Reasons Supporting Proposal: A letter ruling by the Department of Labor interprets the Fair Labor Standards Act to require payment as work time, the time police dog handlers are required to spend caring for the agency's dog at home.

Name of Agency Personnel Responsible for Drafting: Gail Salisbury, 521 Capitol Way South, 753-5383; Implementation and Enforcement: Department of Personnel.

Name of Proponent: Department of Corrections, governmental.

Agency Comments or Recommendations, if any, as to Statutory Language, Implementation, Enforcement, and Fiscal Matters: The Department of Personnel supports this change. Considering that the state may be legally obligated to pay this as work time, the adoption of a lower rate of pay for that "off duty" activity will result in a cost savings.

Rule is necessary because of federal law, Department of Labor ruling.

Explanation of Rule, its Purpose, and Anticipated Effects: The Department of Corrections has 10 positions assigned as dog handlers. It provides a kennel at the home of the dog handler. Time required to care for the dog at home will be paid at a lower rate than the regular assignment as a correctional officer or correctional sergeant.

Proposal Changes the Following Existing Rules: The proposal will add a special pay range, "D" for the after-hour care of assigned law enforcement dogs and their quarters at the home of the correctional officer. The range is a single rate equal to 1/2 of the hourly rate for step A of range 29 (approximately $4.00). As ranges are proportionately increased, this amount will similarly increase. Since the hours used for home dog care are in addition to the 40-hour schedule of correctional officer duties, they will be paid at overtime rates in nearly all cases.

No small business economic impact statement is required for this proposal by chapter 19.85 RCW.

Hearing Location: Department of Personnel, 521 Capitol Way South, Olympia, WA, on February 14, 1991, at 10:00 a.m.

Submit Written Comments to: Gail Salisbury, Department of Personnel, P.O. Box 1789, Mailstop FE-11, Olympia, WA 98507, by February 12, 1991.

AMENDATORY SECTION (Amending Order 361, filed 11/14/90, effective 12/15/90)

WAC 356-15-130 SPECIAL PAY RANGES. These ranges are used to equal or approximate prevailing rate practices found in private industry or other governmental units. An affected class is identified either by a letter designation following the basic salary range number or by a letter designation preceding a number. In the latter case, a special salary schedule will be used for such classes.

(1) "E" range: This range is used for classes having a prevailing pay range which is shorter than Washington's standard ranges. An "E" range is a standard range with the first four steps removed. Thus, the first step of such a range is the same as Step E of the standard range having the same range number. Periodic increases through the steps of this range are made at the same time intervals as through standard ranges, i.e., a two-step increase after six months at Step E and two annually thereafter up to the maximum step of the range.

(2) "L" range: This special range is used only for the class of liquor store clerk (0628). The "L" range was designed to more closely parallel the prevailing pay structure for retail clerks in private industry. Periodic increases through the steps of the "L" range are made at the same time intervals as through a standard range. Normal progression is Steps A, D, G and K, which represents ten percent per periodic increase.

(3) "T" range: Used only for the classes of institution teachers. These ranges are constructed by identifying Step K of the correspondingly numbered regular state ranges as "Step 10" of the "T" range; the lower nine steps of the "T" range are each two regular-range steps (approximately 5%) apart. Advancement through these ranges is at the rate of one step per year.

(4) "V" range: Used only for the classes of teachers of the deaf or blind and principals, school for the deaf or blind. "V" ranges are the same as the current ranges of Vancouver, Washington School District #37 for certificated employees of similar background and experience. Advancement through the range is at the rate of one step per year.

(5) "I" range: This range is always ten ranges higher than the range approved for lottery district sales representative or lottery telemarketing representative 1 and 2 and it may be applied only to those classifications. Use of this range is limited to sales incentive programs which: (a) May not exceed ten weeks for any program; (b) may not exceed four programs in any consecutive twelve months; (c) require achievement of specific goals which are set for each program by the lottery, such goals to be in excess of normal performance standards for the class.

The lottery is authorized to compensate individual employees on the "I" range for not more than three months as a result of any one sales incentive program, with the number of months stipulated in the incentive program announcement. Within these limits, movement of any employee to and from the "I" range will be at the discretion of the lottery, and shall be from and to the same step, subject to change by the employee's periodic increment date.

(6) "N" range: This range is used for classes requiring licensure as a registered nurse and having a prevailing pay range which is longer than Washington's standard ranges. An "N" range is a standard range, steps A through K, with five added steps, L through P. Periodic increases through step K of these ranges are made at the same intervals as through standard ranges. Thereafter, an employee receives a one-step increase each year up to the maximum step of the range.

(7) "J" range: This range consists of the single rate of twenty dollars per hour. Use is limited to lottery employees who volunteer and are selected for lottery drawing duty as one of the following: (a) The lottery drawing official (LDO); (b) the lottery security official (LSO); or (c) the headquarters drawing official (HDO), as described under lottery procedures.

Employees performing these functions during their normal working shift will not be eligible for "J" range compensation. Employees performing these functions outside of their shift will be compensated by the "J" rate on an hourly basis with a two-hour minimum per drawing period.

(8) "D" RANGE: This range is a single level hourly rate equivalent to one-half of step A of range 29. It is payable to correctional personnel who have dog handler assignments, and only while they are off duty, but are still required to care for the dog in their charge (usually at home). Work time to be paid at D range includes, but is not limited to time required for daily feeding, exercising, grooming, and emergency health care of the dog, and care and cleaning of the kennel.

Reviser's note: RCW 34.05.395 requires the use of underlining and deletion marks to indicate amendments to existing rules. The rule published above varies from its predecessor in certain respects not indicated by the use of these markings.

AMENDATORY SECTION (Amending Order 348, filed 5/30/90, effective 6/30/90)

WAC 356-26-060 CERTIFICATION—GENERAL METHODS. Upon receipt of a request for certification, the director of personnel shall normally certify to the appointing authority a list of names equal in number to four more than there are vacancies to be filled from the ranked registers except:

(1) One name will constitute a complete certification when referrals are made from the agency reduction in force register, the service-wide reduction in force register, or the dual agency reversion register. When an appointing authority requests a selective certification for specialized qualifications, the eligible candidate must meet the selective criteria in order to be referred to the position, provided:

(a) The criteria were approved when the position was established, reallocated, or last filled; or

(b) The specialized qualifications were previously required for a classification that was later merged with other classifications that did not require them; or

(c) It has been determined that the position involves new duties that would warrant future selective certification. Such selective criteria shall not be applied for certification purposes until six months after the department of personnel approves the selective criteria for the position.

(d) In the case of (a), (b), or (c) of this subsection, the director of personnel or designee must determine that the specialized qualifications are still required for successful job performance and cannot be learned within a reasonable length of time.

(2) Where all names are certified exclusively from an open competitive register, the director of personnel may certify in ranked order up to all of the names from the open competitive register: PROVIDED, That the appointing authority shall select from those eligibles available from the highest ranking names which constitute five names per vacancy to be filled.

(3) The names of candidates from the same register who have the same score as the lowest score to be certified will also be certified.

(4) An unranked register may be used to complete a certification. In such cases, all names appearing on that register shall be certified. Subsequent unranked registers shall not be used until the certification is again incomplete.

~~(5) ((The director of personnel, upon request and after consultation with the employing agency and employee representatives, may declare positions, groups of positions or classes of positions as in-training positions. The in-training designation is normally at the second level of a series. Such positions may be filled from the register for the entry level class in the series. The employee shall automatically advance to the higher level after completion of one year of service in the entry level class. When the classification specifications require completion of a formal training plan to advance, such positions may be filled from a register of any lower level class in the series, the employee shall automatically advance to the next higher level in the series after completion of the training period designated in the specification.~~

(6)) When the vacancy to be filled is identified as part of an agency's affirmative action goals as established by their approved affirmative action plan, the director of personnel may, except where there are employees on the reduction in force register, refer up to three additional names per vacancy of individuals who are on existing registers and who are members of the protected groups. More than three additional names per vacancy will be certified if there are protected group candidates with the same score as the lowest score to be certified. This action may be taken when necessary to comply with the best standards of personnel administration as contemplated by chapter 41.06 RCW.

Prior to the utilization of this subsection, the agency shall determine if there are protected group members on the existing registers. If there are fewer than three protected group members on the register, the agency shall:

(a) Appoint one of the eligibles from the register; or

(b) Request assistance from the department of personnel in completing the certification. The department of personnel and the agency will then initiate targeted recruitment.

~~((7))~~ (6) When one or more of the following conditions exist, the director of personnel or designee may certify a sufficient number of names to assure that the requesting agency has not less than five names available for consideration:

(a) The position is in an isolated or undesirable location.

(b) The position has undesirable working conditions.

(c) The agency needs to fill several positions in the class.

(d) One or more agencies have had difficulty filling positions in the class.

(e) The director of personnel or designee determines that such certification is necessary to provide the requesting agency with efficient service.

If such certification contains five or more available promotional candidates, agencies shall appoint from the promotional candidates.

~~((8))~~ (7) Permanent employees certified from a ranked register for consideration of appointment shall be notified by the agency at the time of the referral. Upon appointment the agency shall advise those employees certified but not appointed of the action taken.

AMENDATORY SECTION (Amending Order 230, filed 9/18/85)

WAC 356-34-010 DISCIPLINARY ACTIONS—CAUSES FOR DEMOTION—SUSPENSION—REDUCTION IN SALARY—DISMISSAL. (1) Appointing authorities may demote, suspend, reduce in salary, or dismiss a permanent employee under their jurisdiction for any of the following causes:

- (a) Neglect of duty.
- (b) Inefficiency.
- (c) Incompetence.
- (d) Insubordination.
- (e) Indolence.
- (f) Conviction of a crime involving moral turpitude.
- (g) Malfeasance.
- (h) Gross misconduct.
- (i) Willful violation of the published employing agency or department of personnel rules or regulations.

(2) Appointing authorities shall dismiss any employee under their jurisdiction whose performance is so inadequate as to warrant dismissal.

(3) Appointing authorities shall remove from supervisory positions those supervisors who, in violation of subsection (2) of this section, have tolerated the continued employment of employees under their supervision whose performance has warranted termination from state employment.

(4) In addition to the causes listed in (1)(a)–(i) above, appointing authorities may dismiss or demote employees in in-training positions under the following circumstances:

(a) Appointing authorities may dismiss a permanent employee who fails to complete in-training program requirements necessary for advancement in an in-training series and who was hired directly into the in-training series without having held permanent status in another job class.

(b) Appointing authorities may demote a permanent employee who fails to complete in-training program requirements necessary for advancement in an in-training series and who promoted or transferred into the in-training series. If no vacant positions outside the in-training series are available, the employee will be placed on the reversion register for the class in which he/she held permanent status prior to promoting or transferring into the in-training series.

NEW SECTION

WAC 356-30-135 IN-TRAINING APPOINTMENTS. (1) The director of personnel or designee, upon request from an agency after the agency has consulted with the exclusive representative, may designate specific positions, groups of positions, or entire classes of positions, as in-training positions. The request shall include a description and length of the training program. The training program shall include one or more of the following components:

- (a) On-the-job training (knowledge and skill developed through experience);
- (b) Classroom or field instruction;

(c) Courses conducted by an educational institution, vocational school or professional training organization;

(d) Written, oral and/or practical examination(s).

(2) Positions designated as in-training may be at any level within a class series or related series provided that positions whose primary responsibility involves supervision will not normally be designated as in-training.

(3) In-training positions may be filled at any level within the designated class series or related series in accordance with the rules governing appointments to permanent positions.

(4) The employee will automatically advance to the higher level after satisfactory completion of the training program requirements for the lower level.

(5) Agency training programs shall confine in-training time at each training class level to a period of not less than six months and not more than twenty-four months. The class level occupied by a trainee shall determine the level of the position to be used to pay and evaluate the trainee.

(6) Employees will serve a probationary period or trial service period at each level within the in-training series. When employees are in their probationary or trial service period and are advanced to the next highest level in the in-training class series, they shall complete the terms of the original probationary or trial service period.

(7) Employees who fail to progress through each level of the in-training series will be subject to the following actions:

(a) Employees in Probationary Status: Employees who enter positions, without first attaining permanent status, may be dismissed during their probationary period if they fail to meet the required standards of the in-training position.

(b) Employees in Trial Service Status: Permanent employees who are promoted into in-training positions and who are unsuccessful in completing their trial service period shall, at the discretion of the agency, either be returned to their former class and position or have reversion rights to their former class and status held prior to promotion into the in-training series. This does not preclude the employee's eligibility for transfer or voluntary demotion.

(c) Employees with Permanent Status in an In-Training Position: Employees who have completed their probationary or trial service period but are unsuccessful in attaining subsequent advancement through the in-training series may be removed from the in-training series under the provisions of WAC 356-34-010. This does not preclude the employee's eligibility for transfer or voluntary demotion.

(8) Time spent in non-permanent appointments in an in-training position prior to a permanent appointment into the position shall not normally be credited as part of the in-training period. After permanent appointment to an in-training position, time spent in a non-permanent appointment to a higher level within the in-training series shall be credited as part of the training period for the lower level but the time shall not be credited toward completion of the training period for the higher level. Exceptions will be considered during the review of the request.

(9) Time spent in a position prior to an in-training designation shall not normally be credited as part of the training period. Exceptions will be considered during the review of the request.

(10) Transfer of an employee from one in-training position to another in-training position at the same level within the series shall not extend the training period.

PROPOSED RULES
PERSONNEL BOARD

[Filed December 24, 1990, 2:16 p.m.]

Continuance of WSR 90-22-075.

Title of Rule: WAC 356-15-080 Standby compensation.

Purpose: This rule determines the rates and requirements to earn standby pay.

Statutory Authority for Adoption: RCW 41.06.040.

Statute Being Implemented: RCW 41.06.150.

Summary: On a survey of states the average standby rate is 25% of the base hourly pay. This proposal is to increase the rate to $1.75/hr. to be equivalent to that paid by Colorado and represents approximately 19% of the base hourly pay.

Reasons Supporting Proposal: Paying standby at this rate would bring the pay levels within 75-80% of the prevailing rate or not less than 20-25% behind prevailing rate. Such a move would be consistent with recent Personnel Board action to bring base pay levels to not less than 20% behind prevailing rates.

(ii) The issuance, revocation or suspension of individual licenses under RCW 70.98.080 shall be exempt. However, the following licenses shall not be exempt: Licenses to operate low level waste burial facilities or licenses to operate or expand beyond design capacity mineral processing facilities, or their tailings areas, whose products, or byproducts, have concentrations of naturally occurring radioactive materials in excess of exempt concentrations as specified in WAC 246-232-010.

(b) Timing of SEPA requirements for regulations for radioactive material.

(i) A final EIS or determination of nonsignificance, whichever is determined appropriate by the lead agency's responsible official, shall be completed for proposed regulations relating to radioactive material prior to the hearing preceding final adoption of such regulations.

(ii) The responsible official shall mail to the department of ecology headquarters office in Olympia for listing in the "SEPA register" (see WAC 197-11-508) a copy of any determination of nonsignificance, a copy of the draft EIS, and a copy of the final EIS. Copies of the draft EIS shall also be mailed to those agencies identified in WAC 197-11-455, and of the final EIS to those agencies identified in WAC 197-11-460. The responsible official shall also give public notice in the form and manner specified in RCW 43.21C.080 of the determination of nonsignificance or final EIS.

(c) Timing of SEPA requirements for licenses for uranium or thorium mills or radioactive waste burial facilities.

WSR 91-02-052PROPOSED RULES*DEPARTMENT OF ECOLOGY

[Order 90-65—Filed December 27, 1990, 2:11 p.m.]

Original Notice.

Title of Rule: Chapter 173-312 WAC, Coordinated prevention grants.

Purpose: Establishes the eligibility criteria and administrative structure for a program of grants to local governments for solid and hazardous waste management.

Other Identifying Information: This chapter was previously titled "Local solid waste enforcement grant regulation." It was amended in 1990, deleting all text and saving the chapter for future use.

Statutory Authority for Adoption: RCW 43.21A.080.

Statute Being Implemented: Chapter 70.105D RCW.

Summary: This rule establishes the eligibility criteria and administrative structure for a consolidated program of grants to local governments to minimize and prevent future contamination caused by the disposal of solid and hazardous waste.

Reasons Supporting Proposal: This grant program will provide a more coordinated and efficient approach for financial assistance to local governments in their efforts to manage solid and hazardous waste, as required by chapters 70.95, 70.105, and 70.105D RCW.

Name of Agency Personnel Responsible for Drafting: Julia Woods, Lacey, Washington, 438-7265; Implementation and Enforcement: Dan Swenson, Lacey, Washington, 438-7474.

Name of Proponent: Department of Ecology, governmental.

Rule is not necessitated by federal law, federal or state court decision.

Explanation of Rule, its Purpose, and Anticipated Effects: This rule establishes eligibility criteria and administrative structure for grants to local governments for local hazardous waste plans and programs and solid waste plans and programs, pursuant to the Model Toxics Control Act, chapter 70.105D RCW. The administrative structure may be extended to other waste management grant programs using other funding sources. This rule is also intended to consolidate several separate grant programs, to promote regional solutions and intergovernmental cooperation, to encourage local responsibility for solid and hazardous waste management, and to improve grant administration. This rule will result in greater coordination of waste management efforts, and greater reliance on local hazardous and solid waste management plans.

Proposal Changes the Following Existing Rules: All existing sections of chapter 173-312 WAC are reserved. This rule will use that existing blank chapter.

No small business economic impact statement is required for this proposal by chapter 19.85 RCW.

The purpose of chapter 173-312 WAC is to establish eligibility criteria and funding requirements for a unified program of Department of Ecology grants to local governments for waste management projects that prevent future contamination caused by the disposal of solid and hazardous waste.

The Regulatory Fairness Act, chapter 19.85 RCW, requires that rules which have an impact on more than 20 percent of all industry or 10 percent of the businesses in any one industry be reviewed and altered to minimize their impact on small businesses. Small businesses are defined as businesses which have less than 50 employees.

The rule proposed has been reviewed. This rule will govern grants for solid and hazardous waste management planning, and projects to implement these plans. These activities will assist local governments in meeting the provisions of chapters 70.95 and 70.105 RCW. It is not expected that such plans and projects, with the exception of compliance and enforcement projects, could have a negative impact on any business entity. They may have beneficial impacts for some businesses. The potential negative impact of compliance and enforcement activities on small businesses is not a function of the grant funding available to local jurisdictions, but of the regulations developed to implement chapters 70.95 and 70.105 RCW and businesses compliance with the applicable regulations. The overall impact of the rule is either positive or negligible.

Hearing Location: February 5, 1991, Spokane Health Center Auditorium, West 1011 College Avenue, Spokane, at 7-10 p.m.; and on February 12, 1991, Sea-Tac Airport Small Auditorium, Sea-Tac Airport, at 7-10 p.m.

~~((LOCAL SOLID WASTE ENFORCEMENT GRANT REGULATION))~~ COORDINATED PREVENTION GRANTS

AMENDATORY SECTION (Amending Order 90-17, filed 9/4/90, effective 10/5/90)

WAC 173-312-010 ~~((RESERVED))~~ PURPOSE AND AUTHORITY. (1) The purpose of this chapter is to set forth requirements for the conduct of a financial assistance program to provide grants to local governments for local hazardous waste plans and programs and solid waste plans and programs, pursuant to the Model Toxics Control Act, RCW 70.105D.070(3). The plans and programs referenced in RCW 70.105D.070(3) are designed to prevent or minimize environmental contamination. Therefore, the grants are designated "coordinated prevention grants" under this chapter.

(2) A further purpose of this chapter is to establish a structure for the administration of coordinated prevention grants funded from the local toxics control account authorized by RCW 82.21.030. The administrative structure may be extended to other waste management grant programs using other funding sources including the 1972 waste disposal facilities bonds authorized by chapter 43.83A RCW, the 1980 hazardous waste disposal facilities bonds authorized by chapter 70.95 RCW, the litter control account authorized by chapter 70.93 RCW, the vehicle tire recycling account authorized by chapter 70.95 RCW, the solid waste management account authorized by chapter 70.95 RCW, the hazardous waste assistance account authorized by chapter 70.95E RCW, and other waste management funding sources that may be established in the future by the legislature.

(3) The purposes of the coordinated prevention grants program are to:

(a) Consolidate all grant programs funded from the local toxics control account, and such other programs in subsection (2) of this section as may be selected, into a single program, except for remedial action, public participation, and citizen proponent negotiations grants.

(b) Promote regional solutions and intergovernmental cooperation.

(c) Prevent or minimize environmental contamination by providing financial assistance to local governments to help them comply with state solid and hazardous waste laws and regulations.

(d) Provide funding assistance for local solid and hazardous waste planning and for implementation of those plans.

(e) Encourage local responsibility for solid and hazardous waste management.

(f) Improve efficiency, consistency, reliability, and accountability of grant administration.

Note: Copies of all cited statutes, rules, and guidelines are available at the Department of Ecology, Mailstop: PV-11, Olympia, Washington 98504.

AMENDATORY SECTION (Amending Order 90-17, filed 9/4/90, effective 10/5/90)

WAC 173-312-040 ~~((RESERVED))~~ APPLICANT ELIGIBILITY. (1) Counties that are required by chapter 70.95 RCW to adopt or update local solid waste plans, are eligible to apply for coordinated prevention grants to help pay for such plans. This eligibility extends to cities that have submitted an independent city plan, a joint city plan, or joint city-county plan to the department by the effective date of this rule and to any city subsequently requesting funding for the preparation of an independent plan, if such city provides for disposal sites wholly within its jurisdiction.

(2) Counties whose solid waste plans are adopted and approved by the department as required by chapter 70.95 RCW are eligible to apply for coordinated prevention grants to help pay for the implementation of projects in the most recently approved and adopted plan. This eligibility extends to cities that are eligible for funding to do local solid waste plans or updates as provided by subsection (1) of this section.

If such adopted plans designate lead implementing agencies to implement the plans, such agencies are also eligible to apply for coordinated prevention grants.

Solid waste plans must be submitted to the department no later than July 1, 1991, for class one areas; July 1, 1992, for class two areas; and July 1, 1994, for class three areas; unless an extension is granted by the department. Local governments which do not comply will not be eligible for coordinated prevention grant funding for solid waste project implementation.

(4) Local governments with department-approved local hazardous waste plans as required by chapter 70.105 RCW are eligible to apply for coordinated prevention grants to help pay for the implementation of projects in the plan. If such plans designate lead implementing agencies to implement the plans, such agencies are also eligible to apply for coordinated prevention grants.

(5) Eligible cities and lead implementing agencies may submit their requests in a unified application as described in WAC 173-312-060 (3)(a), or may submit separate applications in a package application as provided in WAC 173-312-060 (3)(b).

(2) Coordinated prevention grant applications must:

(a) Include a commitment by the applicant(s) to use local funds to match grant funds according to the requirements of WAC 173-312-090.

(b) Be for eligible projects as defined in WAC 173-312-050.

(3) To obtain coordinated prevention grant funding, a county shall submit either a unified application or a package application, as defined herein:

(a) A unified grant application means that local governments within the county have reached agreement regarding the requested projects and funding allocations for both solid and local hazardous waste plans and projects. The submittal will consist of a single county application with specific projects identified to be executed by the county and other local governments. Unified applications will receive financial incentives for administration coordination set forth in WAC 173-312-090. A unified application includes in addition to the requirements of subsection (2) of this section:

A package application must be submitted by the county and may consist of individual applications from the health department, other lead implementation agencies, grant eligible cities within the county, and requests from other cities.

NEW SECTION

WAC 173-312-070 APPLICATION EVALUATION. (1) In evaluating coordinated prevention grant applications, the department may require that funding of certain projects take precedence over other projects. The department will refer to the following priority order in evaluating projects:

(a) Required hazardous waste planning under chapter 70.105 RCW and required solid waste planning under chapter 70.95 RCW.

(b) Programs and projects to implement adopted local hazardous waste plans, including waste reduction and recycling.

(c) Solid waste enforcement programs.

(d) Programs and projects to implement adopted local solid waste plans, including waste reduction and recycling, and publicly owned municipal solid waste landfill closure meeting the requirements of WAC 173-312-050 (1)(c)(ii).

(2) The department will evaluate each application according to the extent to which it:

(a) Conforms to the adopted local hazardous waste and solid waste plan.

(b) Advances regional solutions and intergovernmental cooperation.

(c) Supports the state's goal to achieve a fifty percent recycling rate by 1995.

(d) Confers broad benefit on residents of the county, whether they reside in incorporated areas or unincorporated areas.

(e) Meets the needs of local government for projects that prevent environmental contamination from solid and hazardous waste.

(f) Uses the state's resources efficiently.

(3) The department may fund all or portions of a coordinated prevention grant application.

(4) The department may award grants to any local government in order to execute all or portions of a coordinated prevention grant program.

NEW SECTION

WAC 173-312-080 ALLOCATION OF GRANT FUNDING.

(1) The department shall consider the following factors in calculating base funding levels, supplemental grant levels, and maximum grant amounts for recipients:

(a) Projected and actual revenue to the local toxics control account, and other funding sources cited in WAC 173-312-010(2), as determined by the department.

(b) The number of people served by a local government.

(2) Grants that may be awarded to eligible cities pursuant to WAC 173-312-040 may not exceed a city's proportionate share, based on population, of a county's basic coordinated prevention grant allocation.

(3) Projected revenues to the local toxics control account that are available each biennium for coordinated prevention grant purposes shall be divided into two portions. After administrative costs have been deducted, allocations will be calculated as follows:

(a) The base funding level shall be calculated for each county by means of a formula which shall consist of two elements:

(i) A fixed amount for each county, regardless of size; and

(ii) A per capita amount based on county population size as determined by the United States census data or by the official estimates of the state office of financial management.

(b) The smaller portion, as well as unused funds in (a) of this subsection, shall become supplemental funds and shall be used for the following purposes:

(i) Financial incentives to local governments for administrative centralization and efficiency;

(ii) Remedial action grants issued pursuant to chapter 173-322 WAC, if the need exceeds administrative allocations;

(iii) Landfill closure projects meeting the requirements of WAC 173-312-050 (1)(c)(ii);

(iv) Reserve funds for grants to deal with unanticipated or immediate threats to human health and the environment; and

(v) Supplemental grants, to be awarded based on the criteria set forth in WAC 173-312-070(2).

(4) Applicants must meet the requirements of this chapter to the satisfaction of the department in order to secure grant awards.

NEW SECTION

WAC 173-312-090 STATE ASSISTANCE SHARE AND LOCAL MATCH. (1) Costs eligible under WAC 173-312-050 will be considered for grant funding of up to sixty percent. At least forty percent of eligible costs must be provided as local match. Counties which submit unified applications as defined in WAC 173-312-060 (3)(a) either will be considered for grant funding of up to sixty-five percent, provided that at least thirty-five percent of eligible costs is provided as local match, or will be eligible for a grant amount level ten percent greater than the base funding level.

(2) Counties, and grant-eligible jurisdictions within such counties, which are determined to be economically disadvantaged will be eligible for an increased state share and a reduced local match. For projects proposed by such jurisdictions, costs eligible under WAC 173-312-050 will be considered for grant funding of up to seventy-five percent. At least twenty-five percent of eligible costs must be provided as local match.

Economically disadvantaged counties which submit unified grant applications as defined in WAC 173-312-060 (3)(a) either will be considered for grant funding of up to eighty percent, provided that at least twenty percent of eligible costs is provided as local match, or will be eligible for a grant amount ten percent greater than the base funding level.

(3) A county is considered economically disadvantaged if it meets both of the following criteria:

(a) Per capita income, as measured by the latest official estimate of the state office of financial management, is in the lower twenty counties in the state; and

(b) Economic distress exists as defined by chapter 43.165 RCW.

(4) The department will include a list of economically disadvantaged counties as defined in this section in the guidelines for coordinated prevention grants.

(5) Local match may not include in-kind contributions as defined in WAC 173-312-020.

NEW SECTION

WAC 173-312-100 GRANT ADMINISTRATION. (1) The department shall prepare guidelines to facilitate compliance with this rule.

(2) The coordinated prevention grants shall operate on a biennial funding cycle. Such cycle will consist of:

(a) A base grant phase, during which eligible applicant governments apply for maximum grant amounts determined by the formula set forth in WAC 173-312-080 (3)(a); and

(b) A supplemental grant phase, during which grant recipients request grant amendments including supplemental funding requests for additional funds to assist ongoing or new projects. The supplemental grant phase will be contingent on the availability of funds to the local toxics control account.

(3) The department will obligate coordinated prevention grant funds to a recipient for a maximum period of two years. If the recipient has not accomplished the scope of work in the time period set forth in the agreement, the recipient must use a portion of its next biennial base funding level to complete the project(s).

EXECUTIVE ORDER

OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR

[EO 90-07]

ALLOCATION OF FEDERAL LOW-INCOME HOUSING TAX CREDIT

The Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (the "Code"), as amended, provides for the allocation by states of low-income housing tax credits for the purpose of facilitating the development of rental housing for low-income individuals and families. The Code and regulations interpreting the Code require that a state agency allocating low-income housing tax credits on behalf of a state be specifically authorized by gubernatorial act or state statute to make housing credit allocations and to carry out the related provisions of Section 42(h) of the Code. The Washington State Housing Finance Commission, in accordance with and pursuant to RCW 43.180 et. seq., and Executive Orders 87-10 and 90-01, has made allocations of the low-income housing tax credit and use of the provisions of the Code for the benefit of the citizens of the State of Washington. Executive Orders 87-10 and 90-01 authorized the Washington State Housing Finance Commission to make the allocation of low-income housing tax credits for calendar years 1987, 1988, 1989, and 1990. The low-income tax credits for 1991 are now available.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Booth Gardner, Governor of the State of Washington, by virtue of the power vested in me, do hereby order that:

1. The Washington State Housing Finance Commission (the "Commission") is hereby specifically authorized to make all low-income housing tax credit allocations under Section 42 of the Code on behalf of the State of Washington and to carry out the provisions of Section 42(h) of the Code for low-income credits made available by the federal government for calendar year 1991.
2. The Commission shall be authorized to allocate all of the State of Washington's low-income housing tax credit ceiling under Section 42 of the Code, subject to the following limitations and conditions:

- a. The Commission shall allocate low-income housing tax credits subject to its general policies and Tax Credit Allocation Plan governing allocation of the low-income housing tax credit.
 - b. The commission shall allocate low-income housing tax credits in accordance with the provisions of the Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1990.
 - c. The Commission shall report to the Governor and the Legislature on or before February 15, 1992, on the use of the low-income housing tax credits and include the following information as it relates to the availability and use of such tax credits in the State of Washington: low-income housing tax credits used; the general geographic pattern of use; the use of sub-allocations; the percentage of dollar value of credit allocated to specific users; the use by type of financing; and the relationship between the use of low-income housing tax credits and state low-income housing needs and priorities.
3. The Department of Community Development shall complete an evaluation of the administration of the low-income housing tax credit program, including the appropriate location, and recommend to the Governor the location for the administration of the low-income housing tax credit program for 1992 and the following years. The evaluation will be completed by February 1, 1991. If a change in the allocating agency is required, the Commission will be provided with ninety (90) days advance notice, and commitments for low-income housing credits made by the Commission will be honored.
 4. Effective January 1, 1991, this Executive Order supersedes Executive Order 90-01 dated January 4, 1990, designating the Commission to administer the low-income housing tax credits under the federal law.

IN WITNESS WHERE-OF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the State of Washington to be affixed at Olympia this 24th day of December, A.D., nineteen hundred and ninety.

AMENDATORY SECTION (Amending Order ET 83-17, filed 3/15/83)WAC 458-20-118 SALE OR RENTAL OF REAL ESTATE, LICENSE TO USE REAL ESTATE.

(1) Amounts derived from the sale and rental of real estate are exempt from taxation under the business and occupation tax. However, there is no exemption of amounts derived from engaging in any business wherein a mere license to use or enjoy real property is granted. Amounts derived from the granting of a license to use real property are taxable under the service b&o tax classification unless otherwise taxed under another classification by specific statute, e.g., sale of lodging taxed under retailing. (See RCW 82.04.050 and 82.04.290). Further, no exemption is allowed for amounts received as commissions for the sale or rental of real estate (RCW 82.04.390) nor for interest received by persons engaged in the business of selling real estate on time or installment contracts. For purposes of distinguishing the lease or rental of real estate from the granting of a license to use real estate (~~((taxable under various other classifications of the business and occupation tax)))~~) the department of revenue will be guided by the following principles.

(2) LEASE OR RENTAL OF REAL ESTATE. A lease or rental of real property conveys an estate or interest in a certain designated area of real property with an exclusive right in the lessee of continuous possession against the world, including the owner, and grants to the lessee the absolute right of control and occupancy during the term of the lease or rental agreement. An agreement will not be construed as a lease of real estate unless a relationship of "landlord and tenant" is created thereby. It is presumed that the sale of lodging by a hotel, motel, tourist court, etc., for a continuous period of thirty days or more is a rental of real estate. It is further presumed that all rentals of mini-storage facilities, apartments and leased departments constitute rentals of real estate. The rental of a boat moorage slip or an airplane hangar/tie down site is presumed to be a rental of real estate only if a specific space, slip, or site is assigned and the rental is for a period of thirty days or longer.

(3) LICENSE TO USE REAL ESTATE. A license grants merely a right to use the real property of another but does not confer exclusive control or dominion over the same. Usually, where the grant conveys only a license to use, the owner controls such things as lighting, heating, cleaning, repairing, and opening and closing the premises.

(a) Persons who are involved in more than one kind of business activity are required to segregate their income and report under the appropriate tax classification based on the nature of the specific activity (see RCW 82.04.440).

(b) It will be presumed that a taxable license to use or enjoy real property is granted in the rental of the following:

((+)) (i) Hotel rooms (for periods of less than 30 continuous days; see WAC 458-20-166).

((2)) (ii) Motels, tourist courts and trailer parks (for periods of less than 30 continuous days; see WAC 458-20-166).

((3)) (iii) Cold storage lockers (see WAC 458-20-133).

((5)) (v) Storage space (see WAC 458-20-182).

((6)) (vi) Space within park or fair grounds to a concessionaire.

(vii) Hairdressers, barbers, or manicurists who lease space within another business (see WAC 458-20-200 Leased Departments).

(ix) Space on a building for the attachment of advertising signs, including for periods in excess of 30 continuous days.

(c) RCW 82.04.050 (2)(f) specifically defines all services of a hotel, motel, or similar businesses as being retail sales. Thus, the rentals of meeting rooms, display rooms, or ball rooms are retail sales when rented out by such businesses. Persons who are not in the business of selling lodging are taxable under the service b&o tax classification on income from the rental of meeting rooms.

the latter's account: PROVIDED, HOWEVER, That each lessee must apply for and obtain from the department of revenue a certificate of registration, as provided under WAC 458-20-101. The lessee will remain liable for its tax liability if the lessor fails to make the proper return or fails to pay taxes due.

~~((When the business of such leased department is included in the return made by the lessor, a statement shall be submitted to the department showing the name of the lessee of each such department, a description of the department operated, and a statement that the lessor will make returns for each of the departments so included and assume liability for the tax accruing against the lessees of such departments, but the lessee shall not be relieved from his liability for taxes in case the lessor fails to make the proper return or fails to pay taxes due. A statement of any change occurring in the ownership or status of such leased departments must be submitted to the department, showing the date of such change and all facts relative thereto.))~~

(2) BUSINESS AND OCCUPATION TAX AND RETAIL SALES TAX. Any taxpayer making returns for any leased department shall report the total tax liability thereof under both the business and occupation tax and the retail sales tax, including therein all cash and charge sales. The leased department in such case is not entitled to the taxable minimum provided in WAC 458-20-104.

(a) Where the lessor receives a flat monthly rental or a percentage of sales as rental for a leased department, such income is presumed to be from the rental of real estate and is not taxable. In a determination of whether an occupancy is a rental of real estate, all the facts and circumstances, including the actual relationship of the parties, are to be considered (See: WAC 458-20-118). Written agreements, while not required, are preferred and are given considerable weight in deciding the nature of the occupancy. While the fact that the written agreement may identify the occupancy as a "lease" is not controlling, agreements which contain the following provisions support the presumption that the occupancy is a rental of real estate:

- i. The occupant is granted exclusive possession and control of the space.
- ii. The occupancy is for a time certain which is more than 30 days, i.e. month to month, yearly, etc.
- iii. The parties are required to notify each other in the event of termination of the occupancy.

~~((Where, however, the rental received by the lessor includes amounts for credit and accounting services, the entire amount received is taxable under the classification service and other activities unless the lessor segregates and bills separately the charge for rental and the charge for credit and accounting services.~~

~~Revised April 14, 1960.))~~

(b) If the lessor provides any clerical, credit, accounting, janitorial, or other services to the lessee, the lessor must report the income from these services under the service B&O tax classification. The amounts for providing these services must be segregated from the amounts received from the rental of real estate. In the absence of a reasonable segregation, it will be presumed that the entire income is for providing these services.

(3) Examples. The following examples identify a number of facts and then state a conclusion as to whether the situation is a rental of real estate. These examples should be used only as a general guide. The tax status of each occupancy must be determined after a review of the agreement and all of the facts and circumstances.

(a) A retailer enters into a written occupancy agreement for rental of space within a mall for a one year term. The agreement can be terminated upon 30 days written notice of either party, subject to some penalty provisions for early termination. The agreement provides that the retailer can decorate the store and arrange the inventory in any manner desired by the retailer so long as the facility does not create a safety hazard to the mall or other tenants and is consistent with the overall decor of the mall. The mall owner may enter the premises of the retailer during nonbusiness hours only with the consent of the retailer except for emergencies where physical property is at risk. The retailer's area is separated from other lessees by walls with the exception of the front area which is open to the mall common area and is used as the entrance by potential customers and the retailer. The retailer does have a movable partition that can be locked and is used to close off the entrance from the mall common area. The agreement calls for the retailer to be open for business at all times during the hours stipulated by the mall.

This is a rental of real estate with the rental term being for a fixed period. The agreement and the facts and circumstances have established a rental of real estate. The retailer has exclusive possession and control over a specific area as indicated by the control the retailer has over the premises, even to the exclusion of the mall owner. The restriction which requires the retailer to maintain the same business hours as other lessees does not make this a license to use real estate. The lessor can exclude from the B&O tax that portion of the income which is from the rental of the real estate. The lessor must identify and pay a B&O tax on the portion of the income which is from providing services such as security, janitorial, or accounting.

(b) A Hairdresser enters into an oral occupancy agreement with the operator of a hair salon for the use of a work station. The hairdresser has use of a specific work station during specific hours of every day. A particular work station may be used by more than one hairdresser during a particular month or even during a given day. This work station can not be closed off from other areas within the shop. The hairdresser must obtain advance permission from the owner to make any changes to the work area. This hairdresser also shares a sink, telephone, and other facilities with others in the shop.

This occupancy is not a rental of real estate. The hairdresser does not have EXCLUSIVE possession and control over the premises to the exclusion of others as is indicated by the requirement that the hairdresser must obtain approval for any changes in the work area. This is further indicated by hairdressers use of a specific work station only during specific hours of every day with multiple users of the same work station. The work station could not be closed off from other areas of the shop, but this in itself is not determinative of whether this is a rental of real estate or a license to use. The presence of walls or the lack of walls is not controlling. The fact that the agreement uses the term "lease" is also not controlling. This is a "license to use" taxable under the service B&O tax classification.

(c) Department store agrees to sell household paint for a paint supplier. The paint supplier checks on the inventory on a monthly basis and provides additional paint as needed. The department store handles stocking of shelves and all aspects of the sale. The department store makes a charge to the paint supplier based on the space required to maintain the inventory. By agreement of the parties, the department store agrees to report the retailing and retail sales tax on paint sales.

This is not a leased department or a rental of real estate. The income is merely tied to the amount of space being used. However, the income is a commission from the sale of merchandise for the paint supplier and held on consignment. The retailing tax is the liability of the paint supplier and is paid by the department store only by agreement. The commission is taxable under the service B&O tax classification. See WAC 458-20-159.

EMERGENCY RULES

DEPARTMENT OF FISHERIES

[Order 90-138—Filed December 28, 1990, 2:50 p.m., effective January 1, 1991, 12:01 a.m.]

Date of Adoption: December 28, 1990.

Purpose: Personal use rules.

Citation of Existing Rules Affected by this Order: Amending WAC 220-56-350.

Statutory Authority for Adoption: RCW 75.08.080.

Pursuant to RCW 34.05.350 the agency for good cause finds that immediate adoption, amendment, or repeal of a rule is necessary for the preservation of the public health, safety, or general welfare, and that observing the time requirements of notice and opportunity to comment upon adoption of a permanent rule would be contrary to the public interest.

Reasons for this Finding: The majority of the clams on this beach (98%) are below harvestable size and need protection. A closure would protect these younger clams and allow the stock to rebuild.

Effective Date of Rule: 12:01 a.m., January 1, 1991.

DEPARTMENT OF

SOCIAL AND HEALTH SERVICES

(Public Assistance)

[Filed December 31, 1990, 11:09 a.m.]

Original Notice.

Title of Rule: WAC 388-53-010 Purpose; and 388-53-050 Eligibility for grants.

Purpose: To update eligibility standards for the individual and family grant (IFG) program.

Statutory Authority for Adoption: RCW 38.52.030.

Statute Being Implemented: RCW 38.52.030.

Summary: WAC 388-53-010, references the new disaster relief law that became effective November 3, 1988, and interim federal regulation (44 CFR 206.131) that became effective March 21, 1989. Indicates new IFG grant limit set annually by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA). States the respective responsibilities of the Department of Social and Health Services (DSHS) - e.g., eligibility standards - and the Department of Community Development (DCD) e.g., administration - in the IFG program; and WAC 388-53-050, allows IFG to be granted in advance of receipt of other benefits applied for, if applicant agrees to repay all duplicate assistance. Adds exception to IFG application deadline for small business administration loan applications filing late with SBA for good cause. Changes minimum flood insurance requirements from $5,000 to an amount equal to the IFG grant. Permits state IFG administration to develop cost standards for covered services and property, when not set by FEMA, subject to approval by DSHS.

Reasons Supporting Proposal: This rule is necessary to incorporate federal changes to P.L. 93-288 and 44 CFR now in effect regarding eligibility of disaster victims for IFG.

Name of Agency Personnel Responsible for Drafting, Implementation and Enforcement: Kay Hanvey, Income Assistance, 753-7393.

Name of Proponent: Department of Social and Health Services, governmental.

~~((DISASTER AND RELIEF PROGRAM))~~ INDIVIDUAL AND FAMILY GRANT PROGRAM—DISASTER RELIEF

AMENDATORY SECTION (Amending Order 2498, filed 6/1/87)

WAC 388-53-010 PURPOSE. The purpose of these rules is to set forth the conditions ~~((and time limits and to enumerate the items and services which make disaster assistance available to individuals and families))~~ of eligibility for the individual and family grant (IFG) program under P.L. 93-288, following a presidential declaration of a major disaster in the state. ~~((P.L. 93-288 (the Disaster Relief Act of 1974) and 44 CFR 205.54 provide for grants up to five thousand dollars in the individual and family grant (IFG) program))~~ For disasters declared on or after November 23, 1988, the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief, Emergency Assistance Act of 1988, and 44 CFR 206.131 provide for IFG grants up to the standard set annually by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA). Chapter 38.52 RCW places responsibility for determining eligibility standards with the department of social and health services. Responsibility for administration of disaster assistance rests with the division of emergency management in the department of Community Development (DCD). Program administration rules and procedures are contained in chapter 118-33 WAC and in the DCD administrative plan for the IFG program.

AMENDATORY SECTION (Amending Order 2498, filed 6/1/87)

WAC 388-53-050 ELIGIBILITY FOR GRANTS. (1) General. In order to qualify for a grant under this section, an individual or family representative shall:

(a) Make application to all applicable ~~((available))~~ governmental disaster programs for assistance ~~((to meet))~~;

(i) Meeting a necessary expense or serious need, and be determined not qualified for such assistance~~((:));~~ or ~~((demonstrate that))~~

(ii) Demonstrating the assistance received does not satisfy the total necessary expense or serious need~~((:));~~

(b) Not have previously received or refused assistance from other means for the specific necessary expense or serious need, or portion thereof, for which application is made. If other benefits applied for have not been received by the IFG application date, IFG may be granted providing the applicant agrees to repay the IFG administrator all duplicate assistance received.

(c) ~~((Certify))~~ Agree to refund to the state that part of the grant for which assistance from other means is received~~((:));~~ or ~~((which))~~ is not spent as identified in the grant award document.

(d) ~~((Be informed by the department that individuals or families who incur a necessary expense or serious need in the major disaster area may be eligible for assistance under this section without regard to their alienage, residency in the major disaster area or within the state in which the major disaster has been declared.~~

~~((e))~~ Live in an area in which a grant may be authorized.

The Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973, P.L. 93-234, as amended, imposes certain restrictions on approval of federal financial assistance for acquisition and construction purposes. ~~((Subpart K of Part 205 implements P.L. 93-234 for FEMA assistance generally.))~~ 44 CFR ~~((205.54))~~ 206.131 (d)(i), (iii) refines those requirements for the individual and family grant program. ~~((To the extent that IFG regulations are inconsistent with Subpart K, the IFG regulations apply.))~~

~~((ff))~~ (e) Make application within sixty days following the date on which the major disaster was declared:

(i) Except ~~((that))~~ applications filed after the sixty-day filing period, but within ninety days following the date on which the major disaster was declared shall be reviewed by the assistant director of the division of emergency management to determine whether the late filing was the result of extenuating circumstances or conditions beyond the ~~((control of the))~~ individual's or family's control. If it is determined good cause existed for late filing, the application shall be accepted. ~~((such))~~ the determination ~~((cannot be))~~ is not made, the application shall be rejected.

(ii) ~~Except the state may accept applications after ninety days from persons for whom the Small Business Administration (SBA) has processed an application submitted late because of "substantial causes essentially beyond the control of the applicant." The SBA must have declined to approve an adequate loan for reasons that would normally make the applicant eligible for IFG and referred the application to the state IFG administrator. The state must complete all administrative activity for the IFG grant within a two hundred seventy-day period after the disaster declaration.~~

(iii) Application shall be taken on forms provided by the Federal Emergency Management Agency at times and places ~~((made available by))~~ the state coordinating officer and the Federal Coordinating Officer make available. An application on the FEMA Disaster Assistance Registration Application form allows the individual or family to apply to all applicable governmental programs available simultaneously.

Proposal Changes the Following Existing Rules: See above.

Small Business Economic Impact Statement: This revision reflects an increase in the maximum vendor rate payments for funeral/interments impacting nearly all of the mortuaries and a high percentage of the crematoriums, columbariums, and cemeteries in the state of Washington. The increase will result in a slight decrease in the disparity between state payments and minimum market charges identified by a survey taken in the summer of 1990 and the amounts paid under the present standards.

AMENDATORY SECTION (Amending WSR 90-14-033, filed 6/29/90, effective 7/30/90)

WAC 458-40-670 TIMBER EXCISE TAX—STUMPAGE VALUE ADJUSTMENTS. Harvest value adjustments relating to the various logging and harvest conditions shall be allowed against the stumpage values as set forth in WAC 458-40-660 for the designated stumpage value areas with the following limitations:

- (1) No harvest adjustment shall be allowed against special forest products.
- (2) Stumpage value rates for conifer and hardwoods shall be adjusted to a value no lower than one dollar per MBF.
- (3) Timber harvesters planning to remove timber from areas having damaged timber may apply to the department for adjustment in stumpage values. Such applications should contain a map with the legal descriptions of the area, a description of the damage sustained by the timber, and a list of estimated costs to be incurred. Such applications shall be sent to the department before the harvest commences. Upon receipt of such application, the department will determine the amount of adjustment allowed, and notify the harvester. Such amount may be taken as a credit against tax liabilities or, if harvest is terminated, a refund may be authorized. In the event the extent of such timber damage or additional costs are not known at the time the application is filed, the harvester may supplement the application not later than ninety days following completion of the harvest unit.

The following harvest adjustment tables are hereby adopted for use during the period of ((July)) January 1 through ((December 31, 1990)) June 30, 1991:

EMERGENCY RULES
DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE
 [Filed December 31, 1990, 11:22 a.m.]

Date of Adoption: December 31, 1990.

Purpose: To establish the stumpage values for reporting and payment of the timber excise tax.

Citation of Existing Rules Affected by this Order: Amending WAC 458-40-660 and 458-40-670.

Statutory Authority for Adoption: RCW 84.33.096.

Other Authority: RCW 84.32.300 [82.32.300].

Changes Other than Editing from Proposed to Adopted Version: Where appropriate, the term "department" has been changed to "contractor" to indicate those activities being done by the Employment Security Department (ESD). These definitions clarify the proposed WAC; WAC 388-47-030 is modified to emphasize that the participant's interests and choices are important elements in the assessment process; WAC 388-47-050 is modified to clarify that the employability plan will be developed within a reasonable time period from the date the participant volunteers for JOBS employment and training services. The section is also modified to clarify that the employability plan is to include all necessary supportive services needed to reach self sufficiency; WAC 388-47-070 is modified to clarify that target groups include custodial parents under twenty-four years of age. This change is consistent with the definition of target groups in 45 CFR, section 250.1; WAC 388-47-107 is modified to change the reference to persons in JOBS from enrollees to participants. This section is also modified to clarify that there are no incentive payments in the JOBS program; WAC 388-47-115 (3) and (6)(b) are modified to clarify that the department's involvement in tribal jobs program is limited to child care. This section is also modified to clarify that, consistent with state law, workers compensation through the department of labor and industries for a CWEP participant may be provided at lower rates than those charged for regular employees; WAC 388-47-130 is modified to clarify that any additional job search does not cause the participant to exceed the sixteen weeks of job search allowable in a twelve month period. This change is being made for compliance with 45 CFR, section 250.60(e); WAC 388-47-140 is modified to clarify that no work assignment under work supplementation shall be made when the assignment is to fill an established, unfilled position vacancy at the work site. (3) Definitions.

"Confidential information." As used in this rule, confidential information consists of and is limited to information filed with or provided to the commission or its staff which is protected from inspection or copying under chapter 42.17 RCW or RCW 80.04.095. In the absence of a challenge, information designated as confidential under this rule will be presumed to meet this definition. In the event of a challenge, the burden of proving that the statutory definition applies is on the party asserting confidentiality.

"Provider." Any person who submits information to the commission or commission staff under a claim of confidentiality pursuant to this rule.

"Requester." Any person who submits a data request (~~((in a contested case))~~) in an adjudicative proceeding or a request for public documents under the State Public Disclosure Law.

(4) How to seek protection under this rule.

A provider may claim the protection of this rule only by strict compliance with the following requirements:

(a) The claim of confidentiality must be submitted in writing on a form provided by the secretary or in a letter providing equivalent supporting information. The provider must identify any person (other than the provider itself) which might be directly affected by disclosure of the confidential information.

(b) The confidential information must be clearly marked "confidential." Marking must include the first page of a multi-page document and each specific page which contains allegedly confidential information.

(c) The confidential information must be sealed in an envelope or similar wrapping which is clearly marked "confidential."

(d) If the confidential information is submitted under the provisions of a protective order, said order must be cited in the form or letter claiming confidentiality. The "confidential" mark should indicate "Confidential per Protective Order in WUTC Docket No. _____."

(5) Requests for "confidential information."

Information designated confidential will be released upon a request properly filed under the following requirements.

(a) The requester shall submit a written request to the secretary on a form provided by the commission or in a letter containing equivalent supporting information. The request must, at a minimum, identify the requester by name, address, any organization represented, and whether the information sought is to be used for a commercial purpose.

(b) The request must be sufficiently specific to allow the secretary to readily identify the documents or other material which contains the information requested. Upon receipt of a request for confidential information, the secretary will notify the requester of any deficiency which has been identified in the request. It will be the responsibility of the requester to correct the request and re-submit same pursuant to this rule. No action will be taken pending resubmission.

(c) The requester shall commit to prepayment of copying fees designated by the secretary.

(6) Informal resolution.

When the secretary finds that the request may be satisfied without disclosing confidential information, the secretary will attempt to facilitate an informal resolution.

(7) Release of information.

Any information alleged to be exempt from inspection and copying pursuant to RCW 80.04.095, shall be released only upon notice to the provider and any person identified by the provider as one who might be directly affected by release of the information so as to allow invocation of the statutory procedures for securing a court order protecting the records as confidential. Such notice shall be given not more than two days following location of the materials requested, and determination that they contain information claimed to be confidential. Notice will be given in writing, either by first class mail or by transmission of a copy of the request by electronic facsimile. Notice by mail shall be deemed complete in accordance with WAC 480-09-120(2), and facsimile shall be deemed complete when transmission is complete. A copy of the notice will be forwarded concurrently to the requester.

If the provider consents to the release of the information, in writing or facsimile, or does not restrain disclosure by way of court order within ten days following notice, the information shall thereupon be deemed public, shall be so designated in the files of the commission, and shall promptly be released to the requester. The foregoing shall not apply if the request is withdrawn or modified so as to exclude confidential material, or if the requester agrees in writing to the satisfaction of the provider to be bound by a pre-existing and effective protective order.

(8) Judicial intervention.

The commission need not assist any person in seeking or resisting judicial intervention, but reserves the right to participate in any such proceeding as its interest may appear.

(a) Except as provided in WAC 480-80-070 for tariff filings, receipt in the commission's telefax machine, or similar device, does not constitute filing.

(b) Unless in a particular case the commission specifies a different number of copies, every pleading submitted to the commission shall be filed with three copies for transportation matters and nineteen copies for all other matters.

(c) Filing a document with the commission does not constitute service upon the office of the attorney general or any other party. Likewise, service on the office of the attorney general does not constitute a filing with the commission.

(d) The filing of a pleading with the commission is not complete unless service has been made upon all parties to a proceeding, evidenced by a valid certificate of service or its equivalent as provided in this rule.

(2) Service.

(a) Except as otherwise provided, when any party has appeared by an attorney or other authorized representative in a proceeding before the commission, service of documents required to be served shall be made upon ((such attorney or)) the representative ((will be deemed)). AMENDATORY SECTION (Amending Order R-310, Docket No. U-89-2966-R, filed 10/12/89, effective 11/12/89)

WAC 480-09-440 CONTINUANCES—EXTENSIONS OF TIME. (1) General. Postponements, continuances and extensions of time, called "continuances" in this section, may be requested by any party, upon notice to all other parties, and may be granted upon a showing of good and sufficient cause. Continuances may be directed by the commission or the presiding officer without the request of any party when doing so is in the public interest or furthers administrative needs of the commission. The date which is sought to be continued is called the "deadline" in this section.

(2) Procedure. Requests for continuances may be made orally on the record during a hearing. Whenever possible, requests shall be made by letter. Requests may be decided orally in hearing, or by letter, by the presiding officer or the commission. Requests may be granted; granted, with modification; or denied.

(3) Timing. Oral requests must be made at least five days prior to the deadline sought to be continued. Written requests must be filed with the commission, and served upon other parties so as to be received, no less than five days prior to the deadline which is sought to be continued. Responses must be filed no less than four days after service of the request, or two days prior to the deadline which is sought to be continued; whichever is earlier. Response shall be made orally when a related hearing is held prior to the stated response deadline. Requests which are made prior to the deadline, but which are not made within the time specified in this subsection, must specify the nature of the circumstances which prevented making a timely request.

(4) Content. A request for continuance must contain the following information:

(a) The name of the requesting party and its role in the proceeding (e.g., applicant, respondent, intervenor, etc.);

(b) Whether the requestor or any other party has previously requested a continuance in the proceeding and whether any continuance has been granted;

(c) Whether the requestor has discussed the request with other parties and whether, upon discussion, all other parties agree;

(d) The proposed new deadline;

(e) The reason for the request and for requesting the proposed new deadline;

(f) What efforts have been made to avoid a continuance and to minimize the length of the delay sought;

(g) If the continuance is to allow time to acquire a transcript, the date the transcript was ordered, when delivery is expected, and the length of the transcript or the length of the hearing;

(h) If the request relates to an application for transportation operating authority, whether the applicant is presently providing all or part of the requested service, and whether an application for temporary authority has been filed and the status of the application; and

(i) Any other factor which may bear upon whether allowing the continuance is consistent with the public interest.

(5) Date certain—Dismissal. Continuances should be granted to a date certain. A party seeking an indefinite continuance must demonstrate why a date certain is not feasible. Each ninety days after the initial request is granted, the party making the request must (a) file a statement with the commission describing the status of the proceeding and why it is still infeasible to establish a date certain, or must (b) request a date certain. Failure to file the statement required in this subsection is grounds for dismissal without further notice. The commission may at any time rescind the continuance and set the proceeding for hearing.

(6) Agreed requests. A request for continuance as to which all parties agree is an "agreed request." Agreed requests for continuances other than hearings may be made orally until the deadline, provided a confirming letter is served and sent for filing on the same day. A first agreed request, timely made, will be granted unless it is inconsistent with the public interest or commission administrative needs.

AMENDATORY SECTION (Amending Order R-310, Docket No. U-89-2966-R, filed 10/12/89, effective 11/12/89)

WAC 480-09-500 BRIEF ADJUDICATIVE PROCEEDINGS.

(1) Pursuant to RCW 34.05.482, the commission will use brief adjudicative proceedings where not violative of law and where protection of the public interest does not require the commission to give notice and an opportunity to participate to persons other than the parties. Those circumstances may include:

(a) Review of denials or partial denials of applications that are not protested;

(b) Contested applications for temporary authority; ~~(and)~~

(c) Proceedings which could lead to suspension, cancellation, or revision of authority for failure to maintain tariffs, pay fees, or file required documents; and

(d) Formal complaints in which notice and an opportunity to participate in the proceeding need not be given to persons other than the parties.

(2) Application may be made for a brief adjudicative proceeding by filing a letter of request and certificate of service with the secretary of the commission or by the filing of a protest in the case of temporary applications. The commission shall designate either a review judge, the director of its transportation division, or the director of its utilities division as a presiding officer in specified brief adjudicative proceedings. Each applicant for a brief adjudicative proceeding shall submit a written explanation of its view of the matter along with its application. Other parties may file a written response within ten days after service of the application for a brief adjudicative proceeding. In the discretion of the presiding officer, oral comments offered by parties may be considered.

(a) If a party to a brief adjudicative proceeding desires an opportunity to make an oral statement, the request should be made in the application or in the response to the application.

(b) A request to make an oral statement may be granted if the presiding officer believes such a statement would benefit him or her in reaching a decision. The presiding officer shall notify the parties within a reasonable time of the decision to grant or deny the request to hear oral comments, and, if the request is granted, shall notify the parties of the time and place for hearing comments.

(3) If the party is present at the time any unfavorable action is taken, the presiding officer shall make a brief statement of the reasons for the decision. The action on the application shall be expressed in a written order which shall be served upon all parties within ten days after entry of the order or the decision.

(4) The brief written statement is an initial order. If no review is taken of the initial order, it shall be the final order.

(5) Service of the initial order shall be made pursuant to WAC 480-09-120.

(6) The commission shall conduct a review of an initial order resulting from a brief adjudicative proceeding upon the written or oral request of a party if the commission receives the request within twenty-one days after service of the initial order. If no request is timely filed, the commission may adopt, modify, or reject the initial order.

(7) A request for review of an initial order shall contain an explanation of the party's view of the matter, with a statement of reasons why the initial order is incorrect, and a certificate of service. Responses to a request for review of an initial order shall be filed with the commission and served upon the other parties within ten days after service of the request for review.

(8) The order on review must be in writing, must include a brief statement of the reasons for the decision, and must be entered within thirty days after the date of the initial order or of the request for review, whichever is later. The order shall include a description of any further available administrative review or, if none is available, a notice that judicial review may be available.

(9) A request for administrative review is deemed to have been denied if the agency does not make a disposition of the matter within thirty days after the request is filed.

(10) The record in a brief adjudicative proceeding shall consist of any documents regarding the matter that were considered or prepared by the presiding officer for the brief adjudicative proceeding or by the reviewing officer for any review.

(1) Pursuant to RCW ((~~34-05-482~~) 34.05.479, the commission shall use emergency adjudicative proceedings ((~~for the suspension or cancellation of~~)) to suspend or cancel authority, to require that a dangerous condition be terminated or corrected, or to require immediate action in situations involving an immediate danger to the public health, safety, or welfare requiring immediate action by the commission. Such situations shall include:

(a) Failure to possess insurance;

(b) Safety violations when the violation involves an immediate danger to the public health, safety, or welfare; (~~and~~)

(c) Inadequate service by a gas, water, or electric company when the inadequacy involves an immediate danger to the public health, safety, or welfare; ~~and~~

(d) Violations of law, rule, or order related to public safety, when the violation involves an immediate danger to the public health, safety, or welfare.

(2) (~~The commission may designate a review judge, the director of the commission's utilities division, or the director of the commission's transportation division as presiding officer in specified emergency adjudicative proceedings.~~) The matter shall be heard and the order shall be entered by the commission. If a majority of the commissioners is not available, a commission review judge shall hear matters.

(3) The commission's decision shall be based upon the written submissions of the parties and upon oral comments by the parties if the presiding officer has allowed oral comments. The order shall include a brief statement of findings of fact, conclusions of law, and justification for the determination of an immediate danger to the public health, safety, or welfare. The order shall be effective when entered. Service of the order shall be made pursuant to WAC 480-09-120.

(1) A motion for consolidation or for the severance of consolidated matters shall be addressed to the commission. The commission may rule on the motion or may refer the motion to the office of administrative hearings for resolution.

(2) The commission may on its own motion consolidate matters for hearing, or sever consolidated matters, when it believes that the action is appropriate.

AMENDATORY SECTION (Amending Order R-310, Docket No. U-89-2966-R, filed 10/12/89, effective 11/12/89)

WAC 480-09-736 HEARING GUIDELINES. These guidelines are of a general nature and are provided to assist the presiding officer in regulating the course of the proceeding. The presiding officer has discretion to suspend or modify the guidelines or to use measures not specified herein when appropriate in the circumstances of the case.

(1) Starting times will be strictly observed. The proceeding will go forward in the absence of counsel who are late.

(2) Motions will be stated and argued at the start of the day, unless they arise from matters emerging during the hearing that are not reasonably foreseeable. This rule does not apply to motions with respect to the admissibility of evidence which may require foundation. In such cases, the presiding officer should be notified that a motion will be presented during the hearing.

(3) All counsel are expected to address comments, objections, and statements to the presiding officer rather than to other counsel. Questions will be addressed to the witnesses rather than to counsel.

(4) There will be no off-the-record discussions at the request of counsel unless counsel asks leave to go off the record and states the purpose for the request.

(5) Extended colloquies regarding procedural issues may be conducted off the record. Each attorney will be given the opportunity to state for the record a summary of his or her view on behalf of his or her client when the record resumes.

(6) When predistribution of evidence is required, one copy should be addressed specifically to the presiding administrative law judge. One copy should be addressed to the commission's accounting adviser, in care of the secretary of the commission. Each party is responsible for having two revised, corrected copies of its exhibits ready for marking and inclusion in the official case file at the hearing itself. One set of copies should also be brought to the hearing for the court reporter. To advise the parties of corrections, an errata sheet may be used to indicate the corrections to copies that have been predistributed. Corrections and revisions should be made to all copies distributed at hearing before the copies are distributed. The presiding officer will advise the parties regarding the number of extra copies to be filed with the commission.

(7) Prefiled testimony may be accompanied by exhibits. Parties should not preassign numbers to their own prefiled testimony and exhibits. Instead the following system should be used, including the witness's initials, and marked serially. For John Q. Witness's prefiled testimony and accompanying exhibits:

Ex (JQW-Testimony)	Ex (JQW-2)
Ex (JQW-1)	Ex (JQW-3)

Counsel unfamiliar with this method of identification should contact the presiding officer for further guidance. The official numbers for the case will be assigned by the administrative law judge at the hearing session.

(8) Each witness should present a short summary of his or her remarks on the opening page or two of prepared testimony. Counsel will be expected to ask as a foundation question the subjects that will be covered by the witness. This foundation question should request only a statement of the subjects to be covered by the witness, e.g., rate of return, and not a summary of the witness's positions on those subjects. Twenty copies of the summary shall be filed with the secretary of the commission unless the presiding officer advises that a different number is required.

(9) All prepared testimony, exhibits, and pleadings shall be 8-1/2 by 11 inches in size or folded to that size and punched for insertion into three-ring binders. Line numbers shall be set out on all prepared testimony to facilitate transcript or exhibit references. Large charts may be used at the hearing so long as a letter-size reduction is provided or so long as the chart is foldable to 8-1/2" by 11" for inclusion in the official record.

(10) Any revised pages for predistributed or previously admitted testimony or exhibits shall be prominently labeled "REVISED" and bear the date of the revision. The revised portions should be indicated for cross-reference to the original submissions. This practice should be followed even as to minor changes that involve only one page of an exhibit.

(11) Cross-examination will be limited to two rounds except upon a showing that good cause exists. Witnesses should not be asked to perform calculations or extract detailed data on the stand. Such questions should be provided to the witness in advance or asked "subject to check." When a witness answers "subject to check," the witness must perform the "check" as soon as possible. A response given "subject to check" will be deemed accurate unless disputed by the witness within ten days of distribution of the transcript or prior to the closing of the record, whichever occurs first.

(12) At the beginning of a hearing session for the purpose of taking testimony from members of the public, public counsel may inform the public of the major contested issues.

(13) All case-related correspondence should be addressed to the secretary of the commission, under existing commission rules. The parties are cautioned that correspondence addressed directly to an individual may not be logged in, may not be inserted in the case file, and may not constitute a part of the official record for appeal or for other purposes. In addition, one copy should be addressed to the presiding administrative law judge at the Office of Administrative Hearings, ((+212 Jefferson Street, Suite 200, Mailstop PG-21)) Third Floor, 2420 Bristol Court SW, Building E, Mailstop FS-34, Olympia, Washington 98504.

(14) Petitions or motions intended for argument or resolution at previously-scheduled hearing sessions should be received by the commission and all parties at least three business days prior to argument. Oral response will be allowed on the record. (This guideline does not require personal service. Petitions or motions, if mailed, should be served so as to effect actual receipt three business days before argument.)

(15) When the commission is requested to take some action prior to the next hearing session, the petitioner or movant shall effect service upon all other parties. Responses are due in the office of the secretary of the commission no later than the close of the fifth business day following service, except as provided in WAC 480-09-425(3).

(16) The presiding officer shall confer with the parties at the conclusion of the hearing about post-hearing process. The presiding officer will determine whether oral argument, briefs, or both will be required, taking into consideration the parties' desires ((of the parties)). If briefs are required, ((they)) the presiding officer shall determine a format to be used by all parties. Briefs shall not exceed sixty pages, including appendices and attachments but excluding the cover and index pages, without permission from the presiding officer. Briefs shall comply with WAC 480-09-770(1).

(17) Each party will bear its own costs for transcripts including charges for expedited service when requested.

(18) For planning purposes, counsel should be prepared to provide time estimates for cross-examination of witnesses.

(19) Documents provided by or on behalf of members of the public at a public hearing will ordinarily be placed with the hearing file or may be offered as an illustrative exhibit. Letters received by the secretary of the commission and by public counsel from members of the public may be offered into evidence as illustrative of the opinions of the correspondents. Documents which are exceptional in their detail or their probative nature may be offered into evidence separately, provided that a sponsoring witness is available for cross-examination. Only exhibits and testimony offered and received are part of the record and subject to consideration by the commission in its decision.

PROPOSED RULES
DEPARTMENT OF ECOLOGY

[Order 90-63—Filed January 2, 1991, 4:36 p.m.]

Original Notice.

Title of Rule: Chapter 173-491 WAC, Emission standards and controls for sources emitting gasoline vapors.

Purpose: Reduce the emissions of gasoline vapors that contribute to the formation of ozone and present a direct health risk.

Statutory Authority for Adoption: RCW 70.94.331.

Statute Being Implemented: Chapter 70.94 RCW.

Summary: Establishes gasoline vapor control requirements for gasoline loading terminals, bulk gasoline plants, gasoline transport tanks, and gasoline dispensing facilities.

Reasons Supporting Proposal: Public health risk from exposure to gasoline vapors and gasoline vapors contribute to ozone formation.

Name of Agency Personnel Responsible for Drafting: Dan Johnson, Lacey, (206) 493-2685; Implementation and Enforcement: Joe Williams, Lacey, (206) 459-6255.

Name of Proponent: Department of Ecology, Air Quality Program, governmental.

Rule is not necessitated by federal law, federal or state court decision.

Explanation of Rule, its Purpose, and Anticipated Effects: The purpose of this rule is to establish reasonably attainable standards for the control of gasoline vapors that will achieve a substantial reduction in these emissions in a timely manner. Vapor control will be required by: Gasoline loading terminals, (statewide) if the gasoline delivered exceeds 7.2 million gallons per year; bulk gasoline plants, (western Washington) if delivering to gasoline dispensing facilities with Stage I vapor control; gasoline dispensing facilities, Stage I (statewide) if the gasoline dispensed exceeds 360,000 gallons per year or the total gasoline storage capacity exceeds 10,000 gallons. Stage II (western Washington) if the gasoline dispensed exceeds 600,000 gallons per year and at new or upgraded facilities when the gasoline storage capacity exceeds 10,000 gallons capacity; and gasoline transport tanks, (statewide) if loading at or delivering to a vapor controlled facility. Compliance will be required before 1994 except dispensing facilities must comply earlier when upgraded but no later than the following schedule for Stage I: Greater than 1,200,000 gallons per year throughput 50% of those owned by a business with ten or more before 1993. All others before 1994. Less than 1,200,000 gallons per year throughput before 1999. Annual registration fees: Gasoline loading terminals, $500; bulk gasoline plants, $200; and gasoline dispensing facilities, $100.

Proposal does not change existing rules.

Small Business Economic Impact Statement

Emission standards and controls for sources emitting gasoline vapors, chapter 173-491 WAC is designed to reduce toxic air pollution arising from gasoline vapors.

Gasoline vapors contain toxic pollutants such as toluene, xylene, and the carcinogen benzene. This regulation is intended to reduce the emission of gasoline vapors from the refueling of automobiles at service stations and transfer of gasoline to and from storage tanks at service stations, bulk plants, and bulk terminals. Storage tanks, transfer hoses/connectors, and dispensing nozzles will need to be fitted with vapor control systems.

The emission standards and controls for sources emitting gasoline vapors rule (GVC Rule) would require vapor control equipment installation, testing, and inspection as well as annual registration by all service stations and gasoline storage/transfer facilities in Washington. The proposed equipment modifications must be made by 1994 for most facilities, with exception of small service stations which would have until 1999 to comply with a portion of the regulation.

This report is a small business economic impact statement designed to satisfy the Regulatory Fairness Act (RFA), chapter 19.85 RCW, which requires that rules promulgated by state agencies under the Administrative Procedure Act be examined in terms of their impact on small business. The purpose of the RFA is to ensure that proposed rules do not place a disproportionately high burden on small business. The RFA requires that all rules which have an economic impact on more than 10 percent of the businesses in any one industry and on more than 20 percent of all industries in the state be reviewed and, if necessary, altered to minimize the impact on small business. The RFA specifies the necessary elements for inclusion in a small business economic impact statement (SBEIS). The SBEIS must include a brief description of the compliance requirements of the rule, a description of the professional services needed by small business to comply with the rule, an analysis of the compliance cost (including administrative costs) for small business, and a comparison of the compliance cost for small and large businesses. A basis of comparison must be determined and is limited to the following measures: Cost per employee, cost per hour of labor, cost per $100 of sales, or any combination of these three.

The industries affected by the proposed GVC regulation fall within the following four-digit standard industrial classification (SIC) codes:

Facility	SIC Code	SIC Code Description
Service Stations	5541	Gasoline Service Stations
Bulk Plants	5171	Petroleum Bulk Stations and Terminals, Wholesale Distribution of Petroleum Products including Gasoline
Bulk Transfer Terminals	5172	Petroleum Product Wholesalers, excluding Truck Jobbers

SIC assignments were necessary to determine the employment of facilities in each of the three affected industrial sectors so that large and small businesses could be identified as required when completing the SBEIS portion of the analysis. The SIC assignments were not necessary to calculate total state-wide compliance costs.

Total Regulatory Compliance Cost Results

The estimated industry compliance costs for the new GVC regulation are presented in Table 1. As is shown in this table, the largest burden of the total regulatory compliance costs is borne by service stations. In the "No Exemption" case presented in Table 1, service stations bear 83 percent of the total cost burden. This is primarily due to high installation cost of the control technology and the subsequently high operation and maintenance costs. A second reason for this high cost is the number of service stations relative to bulk plants and bulk terminals. There are 2,533 service stations in the state, whereas there are only 118 bulk plants and 7 bulk terminals. While not all of these facilities need both Stage I and Stage II modifications, the disproportionately large number of service stations does significantly increase this group's compliance costs on an aggregate basis.

Table 1 also displays the various exemption categories Apogee was asked to consider in estimating the potential effects of the GVC Rule. If the "No Exemptions" case is taken for the three different type of facilities, the total annual compliance cost of the GVC Rule for the entire state is $26,664,489. This estimate is arrived at by adding the following Table 1 values: Service Stations—Stage I ($1,582,860); Service Stations—Stage II ($20,512,072); Bulk Plants ($3,455,833); and both categories of Bulk Terminals ($232,483 + $881,191). Many other possible total annual compliance costs can be calculated from Table 1 by simply taking the appropriate exemption categories under service stations and bulk plants, and then adding these cost estimates to the two component cost categories for bulk terminals.

Note that correct interpretation of Table 1 requires selection of one scenario from each of the four exemption scenarios listed beneath the "Services Stations" and "Bulk Plants" headings. However, the costs for bulk terminals are additive, not mutually exclusive, since Apogee subdivided the compliance costs for this type of facility into three groups.

It is noteworthy that for both type of facilities which incur operation and maintenance costs (Services Stations—Stage II and Bulk Terminals), these O&M costs are substantial. In both cases, the annual O&M costs are approximately equal to the annualized cost of the control technology. It should be recognized, however, that the nonannualized control technology costs are large and therefore, the O&M costs are of appropriate magnitude. For example, Service Station O&M costs for the "No Exemptions—Stage II" case total $9,845,002 is actually 16 percent higher than the annual control technology cost for the same category ($8,519,296). However, the total "up front" control technology cost for this category is $52,347,389 (see Table 6 in the report).

It should also be noted that a critical assumption in the calculation of the annual total regulatory cost for the control technology is the interest rate and time horizon used for amortizing costs. The GVC committee agreed upon a discount rate of 10 percent and a time period of 10 years during which the service stations are assumed to pay off the cost of this control technology.

Also note that 6 nozzles per independent station and 10 nozzles per major station was assumed when estimating costs.

Small Business Economic Impact Analysis Results

Table 2 present the results of an analysis designed to estimate the cost of compliance for small and large businesses on a cost per employee basis. Cost estimates were developed and compared for both capital investment and annual (O&M) costs. The methodology used to estimate the cost of compliance for small and large businesses is contained in Figure 3 of the accompanying report.

Table 2 presents the information required to analyze the differential impact of the proposed regulation on small versus large businesses in Washington. This table presents burden ratios: Ratios which show the proportional cost burden incurred by small business relative to large business. These ratios compare the GVC compliance cost per employee for small facilities to the cost per employee for large facilities. Thus, a ratio greater than 1.0 means that small facilities are facing a greater total compliance cost burden than large facilities, as measured by cost per employee. A ratio less than 1.0 implies that large facilities are bearing the heavier cost burden. For the purpose of analysis and given the availability of data, small businesses were defined as independently owned facilities, and large businesses were defined as facilities owned by major petroleum companies.

As is evident from Table 2, small business does not bear a disproportionately large burden of the costs associated with most portions of this proposed regulation. While the total compliance cost for service stations was seen to be significantly higher than the other two facility classifications in Table 1, the similar number of employees for large and small service stations mitigates the impact on small business. Only in the case of bulk plants and very large bulk terminals is there a disproportionate burden on small business.

It should be noted that using only one measure of compliance burden, i.e. cost per employee, may lead to erroneous conclusions or conclusions which are difficult to interpret in the following situations:

In some sectors, the ratios for capital and annual O&M costs might present conflicting pictures. Specifically, the annual O&M costs per employee for large businesses might be lower than for small businesses, while the capital costs per employee might be higher for the large businesses than for the small ones. Interpreting these two facts to determine the overall relative burden on small and large businesses may be difficult, if not impossible to determine.

The Regulatory Fairness Act stipulates a very limited number of measures which can be used to assess the differential impact of the regulations on small business. Available data necessitated the use of the measure of "cost per employee." However, there are other perspectives which could be taken, such as the ratio of compliance costs to total capital investment or to profitability, which might yield different results. The limitations inherent in the use of one measure must be kept in mind while reviewing the results of this analysis.

Access to capital is a perennial problem for small firms. Even if the ratio of capital costs per employee for small firms is smaller than for large firms, the absolute capital requirements might still be too large for the small firms in the sector.

The recent conflict in the Persian Gulf has provided a climate of instability in the petroleum industry and will likely lead to redirection of capital expenditures when compared to the situation prior to the conflict. This situation will likely affect small and large businesses in different ways and may alter capital investment or staffing decisions.

* Costs annualized over 10 years at 10% per year.

 Service Stations - Stage I: Assumes an average of 3.5 storage tanks per station.

^ Service Stations - Stage II: Costs are estimated for state-wide compliance, however, the most recent version of the proposed GVC Rule only requires Stage II for Western Washington Counties. Also note that 6 nozzles per independent station and 10 nozzles per major station was assumed when estimating costs.

Date limitations notwithstanding, there is likely a disproportionately large burden certain small businesses from the GVC regulation. Comparing the ratios of the total compliance cost per employee between small and large plants in an affected industry (Table 2), gives an indication of the potential differential impact of the regulation on small business. As Table 2 illustrates, bulk terminals with more than 30 million gallons of throughput per year and bulk plants are the only types of small businesses disproportionately affected by the proposed GVC rule.

In the case of bulk plants, Table 2 indicates that small business bears a regulatory cost per employee of approximately four times that of large business (factor of 3.88). This result is partially due to the necessary assumption of the type of establishment comprising a large versus small business. The burden factor of 13.03 for bulk terminals is likely to be overestimated by the poor employment data available for this type of facility. Data availability problems and associated definitional problems of how to distinguish small and large business in the data, implies that these two categories' of burden ratios should be interpreted with caution.

Mitigation measures to counteract the disproportionate burden on small business have been included in the GVC regulation. The most recent version of the regulation contains the following mitigation measures: Delayed Stage II compliance date of 1999 for service stations with less than 1.2 million gallons per year throughput; graduated registration fee structure; selective portions of the regulation only applicable western Washington counties; required compliance of only relatively large bulk terminals (terminals with annual throughput greater than 7.2 million gallons per year); required Stage I compliance for only relative large service stations (stations with greater than 360,000 gallons of annual throughput per year or 10,000 gallons total gasoline capacity); required Stage II compliance for only relatively large service stations (stations with greater than 600,000 gallons of annual throughput per year and new/upgraded facilities greater than 10,000 gallons capacity); and delayed Stage II compliance date of 1994 for smaller companies (companies with fewer than ten service stations, each station having greater than 1.2 million gallons through put per year).

If additional mitigation measures are sought, they might include: Establishing differing compliance or reporting requirements for the impacted small business, establishing performance rather than design standards, exempting affected small businesses from the proposed regulation, or delaying the date by which the affected small businesses need to comply with the regulation. Some of the pros and cons of these additional mitigation measures may be found below:

Mitigation Measure	Pros	Cons
Establish Different Compliance or Reporting Requirements	Low cost to implement:	More costly to administer; May not significantly ease cost burden
Establish Performance Requirements, not Design Standards	Better suited to obtaining desired goal; Offers flexibility to facilities	Much more costly to monitor; Difficult to set appropriate performance requirements
Exempt Disproportionately Affected Portion of Industry	Easy to implement and low cost	May exempt low cost facilities
Offer a Case-by-Case Exemption Review Process	Best chance of equitable outcome for all parties	Appearance of inconsistent application of reg.; Very costly
Delay Compliance Date for Affected Portion of Industry	Easy to implement. Low cost, Target control tech. cost component	Possible further delay of compliance date

(b) Provisions for specific processes.

(i) The owner or operator of a gasoline loading terminal or bulk gasoline plant shall only allow the transfer of gasoline between the facility and a transport tank if a current leak test certification for the transport tank is on file with the facility or a valid inspection sticker is displayed on the vehicle. Certification is required annually.

(ii) The owner or operator of a transport tank shall not make any connection to the tank for the purpose of loading or unloading gasoline, except in the case of an emergency, unless the gasoline transport tank has successfully completed the annual certification testing requirements in (c) of this subsection, and such certification is confirmed either by:

(A) Have on file with each gasoline loading or unloading facility at which gasoline is transferred a current leak test certification for the transport tank; or

(B) Display a sticker near the department of transportation certification plate required by 49 CFR 178.340-10b which:

(iv) The department may, at any time, monitor a gasoline transport tank and vapor collection system during loading or unloading operations by the procedure in (c) of this subsection to confirm continuing compliance with this section.

(c) Testing and monitoring.

(i) The owner or operator of a gasoline transport tank or vapor collection system shall, at his own expense, demonstrate compliance with (a) and (b) of this subsection, respectively. All tests shall be made by, or under the direction of, a person qualified to perform the tests and approved by the department.

AMENDATORY SECTION (Amending Order 90-17, filed 3/8/90, effective 4/8/90)

WAC 220-49-063 SPAWN ON KELP PERMITS—APPLICATIONS. (1) Any herring fisher holding a herring validation under RCW 75.30.140 may participate in an auction for spawn on kelp permits. Proof of current validation must be presented before entering the auction. No more than one permit will be awarded to each validation holder.

(2) The department shall offer spawn on kelp permits under the following conditions:

(a) The department shall establish a minimum acceptable bid for ~~(a)~~ each permit.

(b) Permits shall be offered by open and sealed bidding at auction. The permit will be awarded to the bidder with the highest bid.

(c) Each permit shall be auctioned separately. Sealed bids will be opened immediately after the open bidding and the permit will be awarded to the bidder with the highest bid. The successful bidder for a permit must submit a certified check equal to the minimum acceptable bid prior to or at the conclusion of the ((auction)) bidding as a down payment on the winning bid price. If the winning bidder fails to submit a check the permit will be awarded to the next highest bidder submitting such check.

(d) Bidding by proxy is allowed, provided the proxy holder has a power of attorney for the herring validation holder represented.

(e) The successful bidder for a permit is required to sign and return to the department a copy of the spawn on kelp permit within 10 days after the award of a permit together with the balance of the bid amount. Failure to return the permit and bid balance will invalidate the award of the permit and result in forfeiture of the deposit. In such case the permit shall be offered to the other bidders in descending order of their bid amount.

(f) If the permit ((is not)) fails to be sold ((in this manner)) as described in (c) or (e) of this subsection, the permit may be offered to any person possessing a herring validation who offers the largest amount within a specified time period.

~~((t))~~ (g) The department may revoke the permit for noncompliance with the terms of the permit. In ~~((such))~~ case of permit revocation, the bid amount shall be retained by the department.

Citation of Existing Rules Affected by this Order: Amending WAC 308-91-030, 308-91-090, and 308-91-150.

Statutory Authority for Adoption: RCW 46.01.110 and 46.87.010(2).

Pursuant to RCW 34.05.350 the agency for good cause finds that immediate adoption, amendment, or repeal of a rule is necessary for the preservation of the public health, safety, or general welfare, and that observing the time requirements of notice and opportunity to comment upon adoption of a permanent rule would be contrary to the public interest.

Reasons for this Finding: The public welfare requires that the rules be rewritten prior to the 1991 proportional vehicle registration year, as such rules will affect the licensing of rental passenger cars for 1991.

Effective Date of Rule: Immediately.

AMENDATORY SECTION (Amending WSR 90-16-072, filed 7/30/90, effective 9/1/90)

WAC 308-91-090 LEASED AND RENTED VEHICLES. (1) The registration of leased or rental vehicles will be conducted under either the provisions of chapter 46.16 RCW or under the provisions, currently identified as article XI—registration of rental vehicles, of the international registration plan (IRP) as now written or hereafter amended. Rental or leased vehicles under this section include: Trucks, tractors, and truck-tractors; trucks of one-way fleets (less than 26,000 pounds gross weight); trailers and semitrailers (exceeding 6,000 pounds gross weight), utility trailers (not exceeding 6,000 pounds gross weight), and passenger cars ((includes recreational vehicles)) (for the purpose of these rules, motorhomes and travel trailers are treated the same as passenger cars). In addition to the certificate of registration (cab card) or a photocopy thereof, a copy of the rental/lease agreement must be carried in the rental/leased vehicle or if it is a nonpowered vehicle, the vehicle providing the motive power for the combination. Refer to WAC 308-91-030 for the definition of terms used in this section.

(2) ~~(Single trip lease. The requirements for single trip leasing are as follows:~~

~~(a) The lessor's motor vehicles must be prorated in this state or operated under authority of vehicle trip permits.~~

~~(b) The duration of the lease agreement is for a single trip and cannot exceed thirty days.~~

~~(c) A completed copy of the single trip lease agreement must be carried in the lessor's vehicle throughout the duration of the lease.~~

~~(d) All mileage accumulated throughout the duration of the single trip lease agreement will be recorded by the lessor and become a part of the lessor's mileage experience year. The mileage records, trip reports and single trip lease agreement must be maintained by the lessor for a period of four years following the mileage experience year or period upon which the application is based.~~

~~(3)) Owners of rental vehicles engaged in the business of renting passenger cars in this state may register such vehicles each calendar year under the provisions of the IRP by making application to the department on or before December 1st of the year immediately preceding the desired year of registration. Applications will be submitted on forms furnished by the department.~~

~~(a) To determine the percentage of total fleet vehicles that shall be registered in this state, divide the gross revenue received in the preceding year for use of such rental vehicles arising from passenger car rental transactions occurring in this state by the gross revenue received in the preceding year for the use of such rental vehicles arising from passenger car rental transactions occurring in all jurisdictions in which such vehicles were operated (the rental transaction location is deemed to be where the vehicle first comes into possession of the user). The resulting percentage shall be applied to the total number of passenger cars in the fleet and that figure shall be the minimum number of rental passenger cars that shall be fully licensed in the state of Washington during the registration (calendar) year. The vehicles to be fully licensed in this state shall consist of a mix of vehicles by age and value which is representative of all vehicles in the fleet. To facilitate the mix of values, three value classes have been established based upon the latest purchase price of the vehicles. Class I will include all vehicles with a latest purchase price of less than ten thousand dollars; Class II will include vehicles with a latest purchase price of ten to twenty thousand dollars inclusive; Class III will include all vehicles with a latest purchase price above twenty thousand dollars.~~

~~(b) A license inventory report will be filed with the department each year for which proportional registration of the rental fleet has been granted. This report will be due on or before March 1st of the year immediately following the registration year being reported. This report will list all rental cars registered in Washington during the previous registration year and will, as a minimum, contain the following information:~~

- ~~(i) Model year;~~
- ~~(ii) Make;~~
- ~~(iii) Model;~~
- ~~(iv) Equipment or unit number;~~
- ~~(v) Washington license plate number;~~
- ~~(vi) Vehicle identification number (VIN);~~
- ~~(vii) Latest purchase cost;~~

(viii) Latest purchase date.

The report will be separated into three parts to reflect the three value classes outlined in (a) of this subsection.

(3) Owners of rental vehicles engaged in the business of renting passenger cars in this state who do not make application under the provisions of subsection (2) of this section or comply with the requirements of subsection (2) of this section must register all such vehicles under the provisions of chapter 46.16 RCW.

(4) In the absence of an agreement or arrangement to the contrary, rental or leased vehicles are not eligible for vehicle license reciprocity in the state of Washington except for the classes of vehicles and circumstances indicated below:

(a) Passenger cars and motorhomes currently and properly registered in another jurisdiction will be granted vehicle license reciprocity in this state if:

(i) The vehicle was rented by the vehicle operator from a location outside of the state of Washington; or

(ii) The vehicle was dropped off in Washington by the previous renter and is being rented for a one-way trip out of Washington.

(b) Trailers and semitrailers with a gross vehicle weight in excess of 6,000 pounds, trucks, truck tractors, tractors, and road tractors that are currently and properly registered in other jurisdictions will be granted vehicle license reciprocity in this state if:

(i) The vehicle is rented from a location within another jurisdiction; and

(ii) The vehicle registration certificate (cab card) or a photo copy thereof and a copy of the rental agreement is carried in the rental vehicle or in the vehicle providing the motive power for a combination of vehicles.

(5) Normally the lessee of a vehicle is responsible for its licensing under proportional registration subject to the following exceptions:

(a) Household goods carriers, wherein the agent is the lessor and the company is the lessee, may file and register as dual applicants. Under this procedure, the lessor's fleet is prorated in its name and cab cards are issued in the name of both the lessor and lessee. The application is based on the lessor's vehicles and the mileage accumulated by the lessor under its name and that of the lessee. The application should be filed in the name of the lessee and the lessor. For equipment owned and operated by owner-operators, other than service representatives, and used exclusively to transport cargo for the household goods carrier, the vehicle shall be registered by the carrier in the base jurisdiction of the carrier, but in both the owner-operator's name and that of the carrier as lessee, with the apportionment of fees according to the records of the carrier.

(b) ~~(The lessor of a single trip lease agreement is responsible for licensing and recordkeeping.~~

((3)) Owners of rental vehicles engaged in the business of renting passenger cars in this state may register such vehicles each calendar year under the provisions of the IRP by making application to the department on or before December 1st of the year immediately preceding the desired year of registration. Applications will be submitted on forms furnished by the department.

(a) To determine the percentage of total fleet vehicles that shall be registered in this state, divide the gross revenue received in the preceding year for use of such rental vehicles arising from passenger car rental transactions occurring in this state by the gross revenue received in the preceding year for the use of such rental vehicles arising from passenger car rental transactions occurring in all jurisdictions in which such vehicles were operated (the rental transaction location is deemed to be where the vehicle first comes into possession of the user). The resulting percentage shall be applied to the total number of passenger cars in the fleet and that figure shall be the minimum number of rental passenger cars that shall be fully licensed in the state of Washington during the registration (calendar) year. The vehicles to be fully licensed in this state shall consist of a mix of vehicles by age and value which is representative of all vehicles in the fleet. To facilitate the mix of values, three value classes have been established based upon the latest purchase price of the vehicles. Class I will include all vehicles with a latest purchase price of less than ten thousand dollars; Class II will include vehicles with a latest purchase price of ten to twenty thousand dollars inclusive; Class III will include all vehicles with a latest purchase price above twenty thousand dollars.

(b) A license inventory report will be filed with the department each year for which proportional registration of the rental fleet has been granted. This report will be due on or before March 1st of the year immediately following the registration year being reported. This report will list all rental cars registered in Washington during the previous registration year and will, as a minimum, contain the following information:

- (i) Model year;
- (ii) Make;
- (iii) Model;
- (iv) Equipment or unit number;
- (v) Washington license plate number;
- (vi) Vehicle identification number (VIN);
- (vii) Latest purchase cost;
- (viii) Latest purchase date.

The report will be separated into three parts to reflect the three value classes outlined in (a) of this subsection.

(3) Owners of rental vehicles engaged in the business of renting passenger cars in this state who do not make application under the provisions of subsection (2) of this section or comply with the requirements of subsection (2) of this section must register all such vehicles under the provisions of chapter 46.16 RCW.

(4) In the absence of an agreement or arrangement to the contrary, rental or leased vehicles are not eligible for vehicle license reciprocity in the state of Washington except for the classes of vehicles and circumstances indicated below:

(a) Passenger cars and motorhomes currently and properly registered in another jurisdiction will be granted vehicle license reciprocity in this state if:

- (i) The vehicle was rented by the vehicle operator from a location outside of the state of Washington; or
- (ii) The vehicle was dropped off in Washington by the previous renter and is being rented for a one-way trip out of Washington.

(b) Trailers and semitrailers with a gross vehicle weight in excess of 6,000 pounds, trucks, truck tractors, tractors, and road tractors that are currently and properly registered in other jurisdictions will be granted vehicle license reciprocity in this state if:

- (i) The vehicle is rented from a location within another jurisdiction; and
- (ii) The vehicle registration certificate (cab card) or a photo copy thereof and a copy of the rental agreement is carried in the rental vehicle or in the vehicle providing the motive power for a combination of vehicles.

(5) Normally the lessee of a vehicle is responsible for its licensing under proportional registration subject to the following exceptions:

(a) Household goods carriers, wherein the agent is the lessor and the company is the lessee, may file and register as dual applicants. Under this procedure, the lessor's fleet is prorated in its name and cab cards are issued in the name of both the lessor and lessee. The application is based on the lessor's vehicles and the mileage accumulated by the lessor under its name and that of the lessee. The application should be filed in the name of the lessee and the lessor. For equipment owned and operated by owner-operators, other than service representatives, and used exclusively to transport cargo for the household goods carrier, the vehicle shall be registered by the carrier in the base jurisdiction of the carrier, but in both the owner-operator's name and that of the carrier as lessee, with the apportionment of fees according to the records of the carrier.

(b) ~~The lessor of a single trip lease agreement is responsible for licensing and recordkeeping.~~

NEW SECTION

WAC 308-91-095 TRIP LEASING. The requirements for single trip leasing in interstate commerce under interstate commerce commission (ICC) regulations are as follows:

(1) The lessor's vehicles must be prorated in this state or operated under authority of vehicle trip permits.

(2) The duration of the lease agreement is for a single trip and cannot exceed thirty days.

(3) A completed copy of the single trip lease agreement must be carried in the lessor's vehicle throughout the duration of the lease.

(4) All mileage accumulated throughout the duration of the single trip lease agreement will be recorded by the lessor and become a part of the lessor's mileage experience year. The mileage records, trip reports, and single trip lease agreement must be maintained by the lessor for a period of four years following the mileage experience year or period upon which the application is based.

(5) The lessor of a single trip lease agreement is responsible for licensing and recordkeeping.

AMENDATORY SECTION (Amending Order PFT 8803, filed 3/2/88)

(1) An original or renewal application assessment for proportional registration fees/taxes due the state of Washington shall be paid in United States funds via cash, cashier's check, certified check, traveler's check, or money order. All other assessments may be paid by company or personal checks unless guaranteed payment is specifically required by the department.

(2) Any registrant who tenders two or more checks that are subsequently dishonored by the bank or other financial institution upon whom they were drawn, in any twelve continuous month period, may be required to tender all subsequent payments in person by cash or by cashier's check, certified check, traveler's check, or money order.

(3) A handling fee in the amount of ten dollars shall be assessed the drawer for each check dishonored by the bank or other financial institution upon whom it was drawn and interest on the amount of each check shall accrue from the date of dishonor at the rate of twelve percent per annum. The interest and handling fee shall be deposited into the highway safety fund.

GOVERNOR'S TIMBER TEAM

[Memorandum—January 2, 1991, 4:45 p.m., effective January 2, 1991]

Reviser's note: The following material has not been adopted under the Administrative Procedure Act, chapter 34.05 RCW, but has been filed in the office of the code reviser and is published in the Register exactly as filed.

Authority: Forest Resources Conservation and Shortage Relief Act of 1990 (Public Law 101-382).

The governor of the state of Washington has determined that the Washington State Register is the appropriate location for the publication of these regulations implementing federal legislation restricting the export of timber from state and local government lands.

These regulations are a revision of chapter 240-15 WAC and change the agency in state government responsible for administration of the log export restrictions from the Washington Department of Natural Resources to the Washington Department of Revenue. No other revisions are made. In order to begin administration of the rules in a timely fashion and to avoid the costs and delay associated with a transfer of program administration at a later date, the governor has determined that notice and public procedure is contrary to the public interest in this revision.

These regulations are effective as of the date of this filing with the Washington State Code Reviser, January 2, 1991.

Tom Felnagle
Counsel to the Governor

(a) Each agency managing public lands subject to this chapter shall designate timber sales to be sold as export restricted and as exportable. For calendar year 1991, each agency shall designate as export restricted, sales that include 75 per cent of the volume of unprocessed timber from such agency's annual sales program, excluding Western Red Cedar. For calendar year 1992 and subsequent years, this percentage shall be revised as necessary in order to comply with orders issued by the Secretary of Commerce of the United States under section 491(a) of the Forest Resources Conservation and Shortage Relief Act of 1990 (Public Law 101-382). (b) Designation of timber sales as export restricted and as exportable shall be on a sale by sale basis and shall apply to the entire sale being considered; except that a sale shall be subdivided into portions that are export restricted and exportable if there are insufficient sales in the annual sales program to insure that designation on a sale by sale basis meets the applicable requirements of the Forest Resources Conservation and Shortage Relief Act of 1990 (Public Law 101-382).

(2) Report to the Governor. By March 31 of each year, each agency selling timber from public lands shall report to the Governor on the results of its sales program in compliance with the Forest Resources Conservation and Shortage Relief Act (Public Law 101-382) for the preceding calendar year. The report shall include information on the volume, species, grade, and geographical distribution of sales sold as export restricted and not export restricted.

Not later than 5 days after the receipt of a Purchaser Certification furnished to an agency under WAC 240-15-025, the agency shall submit a copy of such certification to the Washington Department of Revenue. The agency shall make copies of such reports available to the public at reasonable times and locations.

(4) Contract provisions. Agencies contracting for the sale of export restricted timber from public lands shall include in such contracts clauses incorporating the applicable requirements of WAC 240-15-015 (relating to the prohibitions on export and substitution), WAC 240-15-025 (relating to reporting requirements), and WAC 240-15-030 (relating to enforcement). In addition, such contracts shall include clauses which provide that a violation by the purchaser of the prohibitions under WAC 240-15-025 (relating to the prohibitions on export and substitution) shall be sufficient cause for the agency to cancel the contract.

(5) Prohibition on accepting bids from ineligible purchasers. Agencies shall not accept bids for sales of export restricted timber from persons included on the List of Ineligible Purchasers published by the Department of Revenue under this chapter.

(i) exported by the purchaser or used in substitution by the purchaser; or

(ii) transferred to any other person for the purpose either of export or to be used in substitution.

(b) That hammer brands and red paint applied to such timber as required by this chapter shall remain on such timber until it is domestically processed.

(c) That prior to selling, trading, exchanging, or otherwise conveying any timber which is export restricted timber to any other person, the purchaser (transferor) shall require the transferee to provide to the purchaser (transferor) 2 signed copies of a completed Transferee Certification, in such form as the Department of Revenue shall require; and that the purchaser (transferor) shall provide the department with one copy not later than 5 days after receipt from the transferee.

(d) That the purchaser (transferor) shall not sell, trade, exchange, or otherwise convey export restricted timber to any person identified on the List of Ineligible Purchasers published by the Department of Revenue under this chapter.

(2) Transferee certification. Any person possessing export restricted timber shall, prior to selling, trading, exchanging, or otherwise conveying such timber to any other person, require the transferee to provide to the transferor 2 signed copies of a completed Transferee Certification, in such form as the Department of Revenue shall require. The Transferee Certification shall include an affirmation, under penalty of law, as to the truth of each of the items required to be affirmed in a Purchaser Certification, (except insofar as the transfer is pursuant to WAC 240-15-015 (4)(b) (relating to certain indirect transactions)) as well as the quantity of export restricted timber which is being transferred. The transferor shall provide to the Department of Revenue one signed copy of the Transferee Certification not later than 5 days after the receipt from the transferee.

(b) A second debarment of any person under this section which is for a violation by the same person committed after the first debarment of such person under this section shall result in a permanent debarment of such person from bidding on or purchasing export restricted timber originating from any public lands covered by this chapter.

(c) The Washington Administrative Procedures Act shall apply to the issuance of any order by a state agency under this subsection. Agencies other than state agencies shall follow appropriate procedures in issuing any order under this subsection.

(d) The Department of Revenue shall develop and implement a program to randomly audit certifications submitted under WAC 240-15-025 (relating to reporting requirements) in order to assure that persons who acquire export restricted timber are able to account for the disposition of all export restricted timber which they have purchased from a public agency or received by means of transfer from any other person.

THE WASHINGTON STATE REGISTER, published pursuant to RCW 34.08.020, is distributed on the first and third Wednesdays of each month. The Register contains the full text of proposed, emergency, and permanently adopted rules of state agencies, executive orders of the governor, notices of public meetings of state agencies, rules of the state supreme court, summaries of attorney general opinions, and juvenile disposition standards which have been filed in the code reviser's office prior to the pertinent closing date for that issue of the Register. A cumulative table of existing sections of the Washington Administrative Code (WAC) affected by a particular agency action guides the user to the proper volume of the Register.

The code reviser's office has established an annual subscription price of $150 for the Register, and single copies will cost $7. Sales tax of 7.9% now applies to all sales other than to state agencies. State law requires payment in advance. To subscribe to the Register, please complete the order form above and forward it to the address indicated, accompanied by your check or money order in the amount of $161.85 ($150 for state agencies) payable to the code reviser's office.
