C. Purpose:

General Rule (GR) 24 defines the practice of law in Washington. Section (b) of the current rule permits certain conduct whether or not it constitutes the practice of law. Pursuant to the discussion with the Court in April, this proposal would add new language to section (b) permitting online self-representation legal service providers. Pursuant to the discussion regarding this issue in April at the Practice of Law Board's annual meeting with the Court, the Practice of Law Board initially prepared this submission as a report for the Court. Given the suggested amendments to GR 24, however, the report has been incorporated into this GR 9 Cover Sheet.

Consumers are, in the context of self-representation, increasingly going online to seek legal information, generate legal documents, and seek assistance from unlicensed entities. The public interest is served by protecting consumers from incompetent, unfair, and deceptive online self-representation legal service providers (OLSRLSPs). In addition, online legal service providers want guidance on where the boundaries are in providing self-representation legal services and avoiding the unauthorized practice of law (UPL). Additionally, Washington consumers need to have clarity on where to go with concerns related to OLSRLSPs.

To address these changing consumer needs, the POLB recommends that the Washington Supreme Court amend the definition of "the practice of law" to explicitly authorize information and document preparation services under clear limitations with registration of such provider entities with the WSBA.

What does "practicing law" mean in the age of information technology, globalization, and market disruptions that are transforming everything from health care and transportation to the music industry? The lines separating unauthorized from authorized practice of law have blurred. Online legal information, generation of legal documents, online dispute resolution, and direct representation are not just an inevitable part of the future—they are here and growing at an exponential rate. The concept of a law office being an entity owned and run exclusively by lawyers is changing. Multi-jurisdictional practice is an inescapable consequence of technology. The traditional idea of the lawyer-client relationship is changing as disciplines start to merge and innovate to find more effective and efficient ways to solve complex problems that have a legal component.

Like it or not, the culture is rapidly and continually producing innovative business models that promise more competitive services and products. The practice of law, as defined and regulated by the Court and administered by the state bar association, must thoughtfully and incrementally adjust to changing conditions by exploring ways to expand access to justice while protecting the public from the risk of harm. As technology marches forward and people look for cheaper and more efficient legal services, the organized bar should be a central player. The court, the bar association, and individual lawyers can play a leading role or sit back and watch an under-regulated potpourri of technological innovators, predators, lay people, and legislative partisans define the new world of legal services.¹

REV. 3041 (2014), available at <http://ir.lawnet.fordham.edu/flr/vol82/iss6/16>.

The current sources of regulation of OLSRLSPs are RCW 2.48 (Unauthorized Practice of Law (UPL)); the Consumer Protection Act, chapter 19.86 RCW, which regulates all matters in trade or commerce; and GR 24, which defines the practice of law and identifies otherwise permitted exceptions to the definition of the practice of law.

The rationale in support of a significant revision to GR 24 flows from the recognition that the internet is inexorably a marketplace where people seek information and assistance in every aspect of life, including legal matters.² Many consumers in need of legal information and assistance believe they cannot afford to hire a lawyer and have limited access to free or low-cost traditional legal services. It is estimated that 80% of consumers with legal matters do not seek the assistance of a licensed attorney. Often, consumers seek information and assistance online because it is accessible, affordable, and efficient.

² Examples of websites offering internet-based legal services include: <https://www.legalzoom.com/>; <https://www.rocketlawyer.com/>; <https://www.lawdepot.com/>; <https://www.nolo.com/>; <https://www.legalshield.com/>; <https://www.bizfilings.com/>.

As online self-help legal services expand, providers who are currently operating in Washington are largely doing so without effective regulation or oversight, albeit they are subject to the criminal prohibition of the unauthorized practice of law and the Consumer Protection Act (CPA) and held accountable through contract and tort law to the professional standard of care. Perkins v CTX; 137 Wn.2d 93, 106, 969 P.2d 93 (1999). The rationale for regulating this marketplace and displacing competition is that consumers of OLSRLSPs are at risk of harm by under-regulated online providers that knowingly, deceptively, or negligently create the misperception that licensed lawyers are assisting consumers or that the particular provider is legally authorized to provide the legal assistance adapted to individual needs.³

³ See Letter from Marina Lao, Director of Office of Policy Planning, Federal Trade Commission, and Robert Potter, Chief of Legal Policy Section, Antitrust Division, U.S. Dep't of Justice (June 10, 2016), https://www.ftc.gov/system/files/documents/advocacy_documents/comment-federal-trade-commission-staff-anti-trust-division-addressing-north-carolina-house-bill-

Existing practice of law rules in Washington do not expressly authorize the provision of interactive online legal assistance outside the scope of the conventional lawyer-client relationship. Once a legal service is personalized for an individual's situation, it crosses over from lawful provision of generic legal information (or a mere form/scrivener service) to particularized legal advice subject to the rules and regulations governing the practice of law. Thus, only individuals authorized to practice law may lawfully provide web-based legal assistance adapted to individuals' needs. OLSRLSPs may wish to introduce innovative interactive software and helpful online services in Washington, but the legitimate prospective players will only do so if the Washington practice of law rules clearly provide permission for the services.

To address the regulatory gap, emerging OLSRLSPs could be fairly characterized as "pro se" assistance businesses that are an exception to the lawyer-centric practice of law. And, if the providers have attributes of the traditional "practice of law," they could nonetheless be expressly "authorized" within the qualified pro se exception. This authorization would be justified because these providers deliver critical information and guidance to consumers who are seeking non-lawyer assistance to assess and respond to legal issues that routinely arise in their lives. Whatever mechanism for regulation and accountability is put forward, it should be narrowly tailored to protect consumers' expectations; promote competition and access to justice; and adhere to the GR 12.1 Regulatory Objectives

The North Carolina Statute (NCS) § 84-2.2 is an example of state regulation of online legal assistance involving software that generates legal documents based on information inputted by a consumer. However, rapidly evolving technology and artificial intelligence inevitably will enable entrepreneurs to offer consumers particularized legal advice and opinions (not just documents) based on consumer input and needs. These technological developments in online legal services should be considered by the court as it considers amending GR 24.

The Practice of Law Board recognizes that this suggested amendment to GR 24 could be viewed as impacting competition in the legal services marketplace. This suggested amendment attempts to narrowly tailor the proposed regulations to protect consumers while avoiding unnecessary inhibitions on competition and innovation. In a June 2016 letter to the North Carolina legislature, DOJ and FTC Anti-Trust Division staff offered support for the proposed North Carolina statute. The letter stated, in part:

[S]taff believe that "the practice of law" should mean activities for which specialized legal knowledge and training is demonstrably necessary to protect consumers and an attorney-client relationship is present. Overbroad scope-of-practice and unauthorized-practice-of-law policies can restrict competition between licensed attorneys and non-attorney providers of legal services, increasing the prices consumers must pay for legal services, and reducing consumers' choices.

Accordingly, the Agencies recommend that the North Carolina General Assembly consider the benefits of interactive websites for consumers and competition in evaluating HB 436. Interactive software for generating legal forms may be more cost-effective for some consumers, may exert downward price pressure on licensed lawyer services, and may promote the more efficient and convenient provision of legal services. Such products may also help increase access to legal services by providing consumers additional options for addressing their legal situations.

The Agencies also recognize that such interactive software products may raise legitimate consumer protection issues. The Agencies recommend that any consumer protections, such as requiring disclosures, be narrowly tailored to avoid unnecessarily inhibiting competition and new ways of delivering legal services that may benefit consumers.⁴

⁴ Letter from Marina Lao, Director of Office of Policy Planning, Federal Trade Commission, and Robert Potter, Chief of Legal Policy Section, Antitrust Division, U.S. Dept of Justice, supra note 3.

The Rule the POLB proposes here would expand competition in the legal services marketplace while establishing the minimum regulation necessary to protect consumers.

Rationale for Additional Regulation of Online Self-Help Legal Service Providers

To protect consumers from entities operating outside the scope of the authorized practice of law (including outside the amended GR 24), the POLB has recommended to the WSBA and Attorney General's Office that they consider a bill providing that the Unauthorized Practice of Law is a per se Consumer Protection Act violation. See Attachment A for rationale and details of this approach.

Criteria for Evaluating Potential Regulatory Approaches

The threshold question in evaluating potential regulatory approaches is, "Which branch of government should regulate online legal services activity?" If it is deemed "permitted activity" under GR 24 within the definition of the practice of law, the Court may prefer to maintain control over such entities in order to fulfill its traditional constitutional role to regulate the practice of law in Washington. If it is deemed an exception to the definition of the practice of law, it could be regulated as "mere" commercial activity by the legislature and executive branches of government.

Our recommendation is that the Court structure the "permission" so as to retain control of the scope of the exception and who is authorized to engage in the restricted activities. Consumer protection could be strengthened by having the legislature make the unauthorized practice of law a per se violation of the CPA (the Practice of Law Board is currently working with WSBA to advance this suggestion). This statutory change will empower consumers, who suffer actual damages caused by UPL, to obtain recovery and deter unfair and deceptive practices in this emerging online self-representation legal services marketplace, while keeping authority over the practice of law with the judicial branch. This advances the public interest in access to justice and promoting a fair and non-deceptive market place.

Benefits and Drawbacks of Potential Regulatory Approaches

The POLB's recommendation focuses on the Court retaining regulatory authority over of online self-help legal service providers. This recommendation is based on our anticipation of the Court's potential concerns that legislative/executive branch oversight may violate separation of powers and tread on the Court's inherent and plenary authority to regulate the practice of law.

The POLB makes its recommendation in light of the Supreme Court Order Reconstituting the POLB dated July 8, 2015, which directs that the POLB focus on "educating the public about how to receive competent legal assistance and consider new avenues for non lawyers to provide legal and law related services." Our recommendation is fully aligned with that charge.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE

[Filed April 11, 2019, 5:18 p.m.]

NOTICE OF REQUEST FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINION
WASHINGTON ATTORNEY GENERAL

The Washington attorney general routinely publishes notice of an opportunity to comment for opinion requests that we receive from the heads of state agencies, state legislators, and county prosecuting attorneys if we anticipate publishing a formal opinion in response to the request. We do so in order to provide members of the public with a chance to provide any legal analysis that they would like us to consider as we develop our opinion. In preparing any comments, please be aware that our opinion will provide our considered legal analysis of the question presented, and therefore comments that address the interpretation of the law are more helpful than comments that express an opinion as to what the law should be.

If you are interested in commenting on a request listed in this volume of the register, you should notify the attorney general's office of your interest by May 8, 2019. This is not the due date by which comments must be received, and we will consider any comments we receive before we complete our opinion. However, if you do not notify the attorney general's office of your interest in commenting on an opinion request by this date, the opinion may be issued before your comments have been received. You may notify the attorney general's office of your intention to comment by email to OpinionComments@atg.wa.gov or by writing to the Office of the Attorney General, Solicitor General Division, Attention Opinions Chief, P.O. Box 40100, Olympia, WA 98504-0100. When you notify the office of your intention to comment, you may be provided with a copy of the opinion request in which you are interested, information about the attorney general's opinion process, information on how to submit your comments, and a due date by which your comments must be received to ensure that they are fully considered.

If you are interested in receiving notice of new formal opinion requests via email, you may visit the attorney general's web site at <http://www.atg.wa.gov/ago%E2%80%9090opinions> for more information on how to join our AGO opinions list.

The attorney general's office seeks public input on the following opinion request(s):

Opinion Docket No. 19-04-03

WSR 19-09-074DEPARTMENT OF ECOLOGY

[Filed April 17, 2019, 7:54 a.m.]

Announcing a Draft Industrial Stormwater
General Permit for Review and Comment

The Washington state department of ecology (ecology) proposes to reissue the industrial stormwater national pollutant discharge elimination system and state waste discharge general permit. The permit was last issued December 3, 2014, and is scheduled to expire on December 31, 2019. The new draft permit and fact sheet, which explains the technical bases for the permit, are available for review and public comment from May 1, 2019, until 11:59 p.m., on June 29, 2019. Ecology will host informational workshops and public hearings on the draft permit.

PURPOSE OF THE PERMIT: The permit addresses various legal requirements and responsibilities, and regulates the discharge of pollutants to protect water quality in Washington state. State and federal water quality statutes and regulations do not allow the discharge of pollutants to waters of the state without permit coverage. Stormwater may become contaminated by industrial activities as a result of contact with materials stored outside, spills and leaks from equipment or materials used onsite, contact with materials during loading, unloading or transfer from one location to another, and from airborne contaminants and therefore require a discharge permit. When the permitted activities conducted by a specific class of industries are similar, ecology issues a general permit to cover all of them rather than issuing a series of individual permits.

COPIES OF THE DRAFT PERMIT: You may download copies of the draft permit and fact sheet from <https://ecology.wa.gov/industrialstormwaterpermit>. You may also request copies of these documents from Travis Porter at Travis.Porter@ecy.wa.gov or 360-407-6127.

SUBMITTING WRITTEN COMMENTS: Ecology will accept written comments on the draft permit and fact sheet from May 1, 2019, until 11:59 p.m., on June 29, 2019. Ecology prefers you submit comments online through the eComment form on the permit web page. Written comments by mail must be postmarked by June 29, 2019. Comments should reference specific permit text when possible.

HOW TO SUBMIT COMMENTS: Online via the eComment form: <http://ws.ecology.commentinput.com/?id=k3Zx2> (preferred method).

By mail: Travis Porter, Washington State Department of Ecology, P.O. Box 47696, Olympia, WA 98504-7696.

ECOLOGY CONTACT: Travis Porter, Washington State Department of Ecology, P.O. Box 47696, Olympia, WA 98504-7696, phone 360-407-6127, email Travis.Porter@ecy.wa.gov.

WORKSHOPS AND PUBLIC HEARINGS: The purpose of the workshop is to explain the general permit and to answer questions prior to the formal public hearing. The purpose of the hearing is to provide an opportunity for people to give formal oral testimony and written comments on the proposed draft permit. Oral testimony will receive the same consideration as written comments.

The public hearing will begin immediately following the public workshop and will conclude when public testimony is complete: On Wednesday, May 29, 2019, at 1 p.m., at the Water Resources Education Center, 4600 S.E. Columbia Way, Vancouver, WA 98661; on Tuesday, June 4, 2019, at 1 p.m., at the Skagit Station Meeting Room, 105 East Kincaid, Mount Vernon, WA 98273; on Thursday, June 6, 2019, at 1 p.m., at the Fire House Meeting Room, 701 East Third Avenue, Moses Lake, WA 98837; on Tuesday, June 18, 2019, at 1 p.m., at the South Seattle College, Georgetown Campus, Gene J. Colin Education Hall, Building C, Room C110/111, 6737 Corson Avenue South, Seattle, WA 98108; on Wednesday, June 19, 2019, at 6 p.m., WEBINAR*, register for the webinar at <https://bit.ly/2IsUsvZ>; and on Thursday, June 20, 2019, at 2 p.m., at the Washington State Department of Ecology, 300 Desmond Drive S.E., Lacey, WA 98503.

*The workshop and hearing on June 19, 2019, will be offered via webinar where individuals may view the presentation and provide testimony via computer or mobile device.

ISSUING THE PERMIT: The final decision on permit issuance will be made after ecology receives and considers all public comments. If public comments cause a substantial change in the permit conditions from the original draft permit, another public notice of draft and comment period may ensue. Ecology expects to issue the general permit in November 2019. The permit will become effective January 1, 2020.
