OFFICE OF THE
INSURANCE COMMISSIONER

[Filed March 10, 2021, 9:35 a.m.]

Technical Assistance Advisory (TAA) 2021-01¹

- ¹ This advisory is an interpretive policy statement released to advise the public of the office of insurance commissioner's current opinions, approaches, and likely courses of action. It is advisory only. RCW 34.05.230(1).

The purpose of this TAA is to summarize current law and to provide guidance for websites that provide reviews of insurance plans, and insurers and insurance producers that pay them.

Background: The insurance commissioner has become aware that websites reviewing insurance plans (review websites) are becoming increasingly common and potentially violate statutes regarding producer licensure and unlicensed producer business. The insurance commissioner has taken two related enforcement actions, one against a review website for unlicensed producer violations, and the other against a licensed insurance producer for accepting business from this review website.²

- ² See Trupanion Managers USA, Inc., Consent Order Levying a Fine, No. 19-0249 (June 24, 2019), available at: <https://fortress.wa.gov/oic/consumertoolkit/Orders/OrderProfile.aspx?OrderNumber=2UeQLZAGa2nMS2ugLbmsew%253D%253D>; and Reviews.com, LLC, Consent Order Levying a Fine and Rescinding Order to Cease and Desist No. 20-0553 and Order Imposing Fine No. 20-0812, No. 20-0771 (Jan. 29, 2021), available at: <https://fortress.wa.gov/oic/consumertoolkit/Orders/OrderProfile.aspx?OrderNumber=ZxH3EhWTUgu6vfse3GgAhQ%253D%253D>.

The insurance commissioner issues this TAA to assist insurers, insurance producers, and review websites in complying with insurance code prohibitions on unlicensed solicitation, accepting business from unlicensed producers and paying commission to unlicensed producers.³

- ³ See RCW 48.17.060(1), 48.17.490 (1), (2), and 48.17.530 (1)(l).

Unlicensed Solicitation: Review websites violate the insurance code when they are not licensed as producers and solicit Washington state consumers, i.e., urge a consumer to apply for a particular kind of insurance from a particular insurer.⁴ For example, one review website violated the law when it encouraged pet owners of a particular type of dog to buy pet insurance from a particular insurer. Review websites may state that they provide their "objective" opinion and are not urging consumers to buy particular insurance from a particular insurer. However, this is not a defense if the review urges a consumer to buy a particular insurance from a particular insurer. Some review websites are licensed as insurance producers and are therefore not in violation of the insurance code. Review websites do not need to receive compensation from consumers or health insurers in order to be in violation of our insurance code.⁵

- ⁴ See RCW 48.17.060(1), 48.17.010(14).

Further, many review websites receive compensation for each consumer that fills out an application. In this sense, these websites have an incentive to encourage consumers to purchase insurance. Those that receive a commission, service fee, or other valuable consideration for unlicensed solicitation are in further violation of the insurance code.⁶ These websites may believe that they are accepting compensation for referrals permitted by law.⁷ However, an unlicensed review website may only receive referral compensation or a referral fee if the following conditions are met:

- ⁶ See RCW 48.17.490(2).

⁷ See WAC 284-17-825.

(1) The referral compensation or fee does not depend upon whether the referral results in a purchase or sale;

(2) If insurance is purchased, the purchase is not a factor in determining the value of the referral compensation or the amount of the referral fee; and

(3) The recipient of the referral compensation or fee does not make representations to the prospective insured about the terms of or specific need for a policy.⁸

Most review websites that review insurance plans make representations about the terms of the insurance plans. As a result, most review websites are soliciting insurance business and must be licensed as insurance producers.

Misconduct by Associated Insurers and Insurance Producers: Insurers and insurance producers who pay unlicensed review websites or accept business from them may be in violation of the insurance code.⁹ Under RCW 48.17.-490(1), insurance companies and insurance producers shall not pay a commission, service fee, or other valuable consideration to a person for selling, soliciting, or negotiating insurance in this state if that person is required to be licensed under chapters 48.17 or 48.15 RCW and is not so licensed. Furthermore, RCW 48.17.530 (1)(l) prohibits insurance producers from knowingly accepting insurance business from a person who is required to be licensed under this title and is not so license[d].

Please direct any questions about this advisory to Ellen Range, insurance enforcement specialist, at EllenR@oic.wa.gov, or at 360-725-7261.

OFFICE OF THE
INSURANCE COMMISSIONER

[Filed March 10, 2021, 9:35 a.m.]

Technical Assistance Advisory (TAA) 2021-02¹

¹ This advisory is an interpretive policy statement released to advise the public of the office of insurance commissioner's current opinions, approaches, and likely courses of action. It is advisory only. RCW 34.05.230(1).

The purpose of this TAA is to summarize current law and to remind insurers of the rule and application of the Universal Life Reserve Valuation Method.

The insurance commissioner issues this TAA to assist insurers in complying with the Washington Universal Life (UL) regulations found at chapter 284-84 WAC, and specifically the insurance commissioner's Reserve Valuation Method set out in WAC 284-84-030.

This guidance applies to all policies issued in Washington on or after January 1, 1987. It differs slightly from the NAIC UL Model Regulation. The difference results from WAC 283-84-030's inclusion of subsection (6), quoted below, which reflects a drafting note in the NAIC UL Model:

(6) To the extent that the insurer declares guarantees more favorable than those in the policy (contractual guarantees), such declared guarantees shall be applicable to the determination of future guaranteed benefits.

This rule requires that the valuation interest rate be no higher than any contract guaranteed interest rate (including the 0% implicit guarantees in Indexed UL contracts). Variable UL (VUL) is generally exempt. However, accounts or segments within VUL policies that include fixed interest guarantees must not be reserved at interest rates higher than the fixed interest guarantees. If an Indexed UL policy (or an indexed segment of a UL policy) has a zero floor, its implied guarantee of 0% would be the maximum valuation interest rate. This would also apply to the guaranteed interest rate included in any secondary guarantee.

The NAIC UL Model Regulation (Model #585) and Washington UL regulations (chapter 284-84 WAC) are part of Appendix A of the Valuation Manual. However, these regulations are not applicable to the reserve calculation for Principle-Based Reserves Universal Life with Secondary Guarantees policies. VM-20 section 3 supersedes these regulations for policies subject to Principle-Based Reserves (PBR) that meet the definition of "Universal Life with Secondary Guarantees."

Neither cash flow testing requirements nor Valuation Manual provisions conflict with or supersede these UL regulation reserve requirements. The rule remains in effect under chapter 48.74 RCW. There also does not appear to be any provision for ignoring these requirements due to any perceived immateriality of the additional reserves. Therefore, we expect all companies with policies issued in Washington on or after January 1, 1987, to hold reserves according to these requirements by year end 2020.

To the extent that valuations are compliant with the Valuation Manual and PBR, but are regulated by standards that do not refer to NAIC Model #585 (the NAIC UL Model Regulation), they are exempt from the requirements of WAC 284-84-030(6) for policies issued on or after January 1, 2020.

Please direct any questions about this advisory to Steven Drutz, chief financial analyst, at SteveD@oic.wa.gov, or at 360-725-7529.

DEPARTMENT OF ECOLOGY

[Filed March 23, 2021, 1:24 p.m.]

PUBLIC NOTICE

Announcing the Draft Upland Finfish Hatching and Rearing General Permit and Fact Sheet for Review and Comment

The Washington state department of ecology (ecology) proposes to reissue the upland finfish hatching and rearing national pollutant discharge elimination system and state waste discharge general permit (permit). The current permit was issued in April 2016, and expired at the end of March 2021. The revised draft permit and fact sheet, which explains the legal and technical basis for the permit, are available with any associated documents for review and public comment from April 7, 2021, through May 26, 2021, at 11:59 p.m. Ecology will host two informational workshops and public hearings on the draft permit.

Purpose of the Permit: The permit provides coverage for upland finfish hatching and rearing operations and limits the discharge of pollutants from raising or spawning fish, which includes uneaten feed, fish fecal matter, and medications and disease control chemicals. Under Federal and state water quality laws (Federal Clean Water Act and State Water Pollution Control Act), a permit is required for the discharge of these wastewaters. State, county, private, and some tribal hatcheries that rear finfish such as salmon and trout and that discharge wastewater to waters of the state must obtain permit authorization for their discharge.

Applying for Coverage under the Permit: Facilities that have already applied for coverage by September 30, 2020, and are covered under the existing permit, are covered under the new permit.
